One solution offered is an adjustable calk that can be fastened to the shoe tempo-rarily and which can readily be resharpened at will. It consists of two bars, bent as shown, with their ends bent up into hooks so as to engage with the shoe. As both bars are of shorter length than the largest diameter of the shoe it is evident that they can readily be held in place with a bolt and nut in the manner shown. Wedge shaped calks are fastened in tapering holes holes being directly over the iron shoe, so that they cannot accidentally be driven through into the hoof.

HUMOR OF THE HOUR.

"My boy," said the good preacher as he laid his hand upon the young one's shoulder, "I cannot tell you how sorry I am to see you smoking a cigarette. Don't you know that you are forming a habit which is likely to lead you to de struction? Ah, it is too bad-too bad! And it is surprising to me that your parents permit you to go on in this way. I must go and reason with them upon the subject. I must try to make them see the duty that lies before them -to bring them to a realization of the responsibility, that rests upon them, for surely the parents must be in some measure to blame for the wrongful tendencies of the child. There must be neglect or ignorance somewhere back of him when a boy goes wrong. What merchant sold you that vile thing?"

"Nobody didn't sell it to me," replied the boy. "Your kid give it to me out of opened today."-Chlcago Times-Herald.
