

A Mother Tells How She Saved Her Little Daughter's Life.

I am the mother of eight children and have had a great deal of experience with medicines. Last summer my little daughter had the dysentery in its worst form. We thought she would die. I tried everything I could think of, but nothing seemed to do her any good. I saw by an advertisement in our paper that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was highly recommended and went and got a bottle at once. It proved to be one of the very best medicines we ever had in the house. It saved my little daughter's life. I am anxious for every mother to know what an excellent medicine it is. Had I known it at first it would have saved me a great deal of anxiety and my little daughter much suffering.—Yours truly, Mrs. Geo. F. BURBANK, Liberty, R. I. For sale by A. K. Wilson.

TRADING POINTS AT SALEM.

Hellenbrand's restaurant furnishes big dinners at little prices.

The object of advertising is to draw trade but that is not the only means used by the New York racketeers. They keep a good assortment of ready made clothing and other things needed about everywhere and sell everything at such reduced figures as to win numerous buyers from all around.

If Henry Brown at the old post-office stable cannot please you with a lively outfit you must be exceedingly hard to please. Among his customers are the best people in Salem.

Dr. Keeler at the steel bridge feed yard is a horse doctor of long and successful experience. Always leave your team there when up town on business. Horses invariably well cared for.

For easy fitting clothes, for long wearing clothes, for substantial, low priced goods, or for the very best quality at proportionate figures, go to Johnson's clothing emporium. They will sell you a harvesting hat for a nickel and some lines of summer goods you can get at first cost. It always pays to trade at Johnson's.

The ice cream and soda water parlor of Ellis & Zinn is a delightful place to visit, everything being so neat and cool. Their candies and fruits are the best to be had.

Take or send your soiled clothes to the steam laundry and they will be returned white as snow and nicely mended when necessary. No China shop does such work.

Announcement.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Cream Balm. Price, including the spraying tube is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid form embodies the medical properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren street, New York.

COUNTY SEAT SHOTLETS.

No, everyone that needs any kind of footwear. Come to the Gynor emporium where they keep the best of everything and sell at lowest prices. They do all manner of repairing.

The Browns are merchants from away back. Dealing as they do in general merchandise there is scarcely any way that they cannot fill. They always have the latest and best and allow no other firm to undersell them. Try them for the proof of these assertions.

Harvesters and those who go camping can fill many of their wants at Faulstich hardware store. He keeps all conveniences of a metallic kind. And remember that they are not shoddy trifling things that will soon be unfit for use. His business motto is to keep nothing but the best in any line. When you want any kind of hardware be sure to go there.

Painter Lane is making many signs for the business men of Dallas. Some of them are to be put up in town and others at conspicuous places out in the country.

Whatever any other gunsmith ever did can be done by Mr. Rissar at his shop on Mill street. Many a discarded gun shade he could make good as new at small cost.

When any part of your harvesting machinery breaks down J. E. Smith is the blacksmith that can fix it up in short order.

School Bond Election.

It was found impossible to finish up the new and properly alter the old school building for the $5,000 bonds voted. The directors have taken every precaution to keep down expense, but the building as being provided is a necessity and they find that it will take $2,500 more to finish it up in good shape. Therefore, they have called a special school meeting for Monday, August 13th at the city hall from 1 to 4 o'clock to vote upon issuing the needed $2,500 bonds. All of us wish we could get along without said expense, but there is no way to get around it. The question is shall we provide for the education of our children and offer inducements to others to come and settle among us to help pay the bonds, or will we short sightedly vote against the bonds and thus greatly injure the town.

Prevented A Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long, of New Straitsville, Ohio, saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes, this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of its power to cure all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50 cents and $1. Guaranteed. Trial bottle free at M. D. Ellis' drug store.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER
Makes the lightest most delicious and tasty hot biscuit.
ROYAL Baking Powder is indispensable to the preparation of the finest cake, hot-breads, rolls and muffins.

Housekeepers are sometimes importuned to buy other powders because they are "cheap." Housekeepers should stop and think. If such powders are lower priced, are they not inferior? Is it economy to spoil your digestion to save a few pennies?

Alum is used in some baking powders because it is cheap. It costs but a few cents a pound whereas the chief ingredient in a pure powder costs thirty. But alum is a corrosive poison which, taken in food, acts injuriously upon the stomach, liver and kidneys.

TWO DAYS OUTING.

Mrs. Itemizer has been spending a couple of days among our country cousins in the southern part of the county and the only thing she found not to her liking was the dusty roads. Just beyond Monmouth she tarried for a chat with W. P. Ireland and wife. He has 300 acres of wheat and 100 of golden colored chas. Bert Stone lives on the old Stephen Staats place and Campbell owns and occupies the Elder H. M. Waller farm where Ira Smith had been living. She took dinner with Isaac Elliott and his sister, Florence, near Calvary church. While he is busy farming, she is raising large flocks of chickens and turkeys.

At the J. W. Masterson place were found the intelligent and interesting family of R. G. Simons, from Minnesota. Striking west she halted long enough to become acquainted with the families of C. E. Herren, Amos Holman and J. L. Williams, and at the residence of S. B. Tetherow had a pleasant interview with Mrs. T. A. Ireland and daughter. They were arranging for a basket social at the Elkins school house. She enjoyed the new acquaintanceship with A. Z. Tedrow and wife, who have an interesting family. At Girard's flouring mill she was pleasantly received and found two quite attractive children, Grace and Dean. She will not soon forget the enjoyable stop with L. W. Laughery and wife and their attractive grandchildren, Ivan and Aleath. Passing the homes of J. M. Haggard, J. L. Burns and O. J. Bagley she was delighted with the variety of beautiful flowers being raised by Miss Lena Hillbrand and found the home of Mrs. J. B. Stump surrounded by similar attractions. Numerous meadows of hay were being cured and nearly all of it appeared first class. Many grain fields stood ready for the reapers and she thought it was better than the average around Dallas. Nightfall brought her and Eva to the handsome and convenient home of Hon. I. M. Simpson and wife, who seemed to be surrounded with everything the heart could wish. Their cream is at once separated from the milk and the latter fed to the pigs. They have a telephone connecting with not only all important points in the county, but also with the whole outside world. At an early hour next morning they were in Airie, having passed the homes C. E. Staats and Bura Tartar. They called on most of the families residing at the railway terminus and met a cordial reception, both women and men seeming entirely willing to stop their work for a chat. Little Miss Ruth Hastings and Master Raymond Williams she pronounced children of more than ordinary attractiveness. One of the most interesting characters found on the whole trip was Grandman Staats who had been there since 1845, their nearest neighbors at first being in Dallas and Corvallis. There was something about that home which made both Mrs. Wash and Eva inclined to accept the invitation to remain until after dinner, but it was too early in the day. From no other point was the scenery so attractive. While interviewing Mrs. A. C. Staats they noticed her little girl busy washing a big dog that had become muddy. The next objective point was Suver and enroute Mrs. J. A. Withrow and the D'Armond boys, who are bachelors, were talked to, the latter having 500 acres in cultivation. They stopped within the city limits of Suver only long enough to water their horse at the postoffice. They found J. T. James and wife an interesting couple with positive and earnest opinions about things. Did you ever notice the difference in people, even in the matter of shaking hands? Some give a vigorous, warm and friendly grasp while others put but little more expression in the act than would a half dead person. On the Stump farm they found an interesting German family named Giger. Crossing the Davidson bridge a halt was made to form the acquaintance of W. H. Murphy and wife, and then they jugged along to the home of Isaac Connett. Having only time enough left to reach home by supper they tarried by the way no more. The outing was declared a delightful one, a generous welcome being extended everywhere and they frequently being invited to come again.
