

WITHIN REACH.

BECAUSE of its low price Ivory Soap is within the reach of all. Besides its low cost it has the advantage that it is entirely satisfactory for so many varied uses; it will do the work of a half dozen kinds of soap each intended for a special purpose.

IVORY SOAP IS 99 1/2 PER CENT. PURE.

McBee-Hughes Machine.

They have now been running about two weeks and have easily made an average of 1,500 bushels a day. Most of their work has been along the Luckiamette, they having threshed for Wm. Brown, Elias Robertson, J. W. Lee, Wm. Lee, Till Bell, I. F. Youkam, C. C. Gardner, Maria Smith, Silas Hart, John Walker, Frank Smith, John Grund, D. M. Hewitt and others. The owners of the outfit are the McBee brothers and Morris Hughes. Mrs. Alice Taylor and Mrs. Alta McBee have charge of the cook wagon and G. F. McBee is their roustabout. As feeders John and Carl McBee are hard to beat and Morris Hughes knows how to make the engine do full duty. Till Bell and L. H. McBee saw the sacks in short order as fast as J. W. Lee gets them filled. M. Tents and B. Fisen whack the bands and the straw is hucked away by D. Boese and E. Crowley. The four pitchers, C. Hubbard, Otho Bell, C. Friesen and Ed Lee keep on the move the seven bundle wagons driven by Elias Robertson, W. P. McBee, Roy Bird, D. Bell, Mac Crowley, Vincent Thompson and Mr. Giesbrecht. Last but not least important is R. T. Judson, who keeps the cocks and the engineer supplied with wood.

Lumber.

Montgomery and Mulligan are now prepared to furnish any kind of lumber on short notice. Saw and planing mills three fourth miles west of Falls City with branch office and yard at Airline in charge of W. J. Turndridge. Our lumber is seasoned and trimmed and it pays to buy dry lumber. Plans and estimates furnished free. Write for further information, John Montgomery, general manager, Wm. Mulligan, yard manager.

Ellis adjourned.

What do the Children Drink?

Don't give them tea or coffee. Have you tried the new food Grain-O? It is delicious and nourishing and takes the place of coffee. The more Grain-O you give the children the more health you distribute through their systems. Grain-O is made of pure grains, and when properly prepared tastes like the choice grades of coffee but costs about one-fourth as much. All grocers sell it. 15 cents and 25 cents.

Five Fine Lectures.

President Poling has arranged with a San Francisco lecture bureau for a course of five evenings at different times between the 1st of October and Christmas. Four of the most noted men on the lecture platform will give our people some sparkling thoughts in a manner not to be forgotten. If it pays best to read good books, so will it be most profitable to listen to such speakers. It will undoubtedly be the greatest literary treat ever offered in Dallas. A ticket for the five lectures will cost only $1 and the net proceeds

Grandma Davidson Gone.

Rachel Davidson was born in Indiana in 1823 and was married to Wm. Owens in Missouri in 1841. After Mr. Owens' death in 1843 she soon married Andrew Davidson and started to Oregon. They were six months on the road and endured the hardships with the other emigrants to Oregon of 1846. For a short time they resided near Dayton then moved to the present site of Ballston, where they took up a donation land claim and resided until his death, March 31st, 1884. Since then she has lived on the farm, managing her business with efficiency and ability. She was a member of the Pioneer Association of Polk county and was truly one of the "quakers of Oregon." Her acts of hospitality were as numerous as her opportunities and everyone received a welcome at her door. She died August 5th, 1901, aged 78 years. Her funeral service was conducted in the M. E. church at Ballston by Rev. S. L. Lee, of Amity, and her remains were peacefully laid to rest beside her husband in Pleasant Hill cemetery in the presence of a very large number of kindred and friends. She was a member of the M. E. church for 35 years. She was the mother of eleven children, eight of whom survive her: Mrs. J. S. Newbill, Mrs. J. McCulloch, Mr. J. Campbell, Mrs. K. Campbell, all of Ballston; Mrs. J. Phipps, Dufur; Mrs. Wm. Wells, Oregon City; and Mrs. J. C. Saling, Ballston. The deceased has over 50 grandchildren and 17 great-grandchildren.

will go to the benefit of our college. County people who have a taste for genuine literature should arrange to attend.

Monument Unveiled.

With a beautiful and impressive ceremony the Women of Woodcraft at the Odd Fellows cemetery last Sunday afternoon unveiled the monument they had erected in memory of their departed sister, Mrs. Warren Dunn. They, augmented by a long line of Woodmen, formed in procession at the cemetery gate and marched to the tomb under the guidance of Mrs. Adie Magers. Mrs. U. S. Grant presided over the ceremonies, which were delicate and expressive. Miss May Shelton recited a poem full of meaning for the occasion and Rev. F. L. Young gave a touching address in honor of the deceased and for the good of the order. The monument is of good size and attractive in appearance.

Brown Bros., of Salt Creek, shipped a carload of hay to Portland and lots of oak and fir lumber are being shipped from here.

DALLAS SUGGESTIONS.

Dalson, the Racket store man must be selling lots of goods, for he is constantly receiving invoices of new things. His low prices draw like a magnet.

Many pretty and useful things for women and children can be found at the furnishing goods store of Mrs. Chace. Fine lines of hosiery and corsets.

See the new stoves and kitchen utensils at Faulk's hardware store. He also has many things for the dining room. Harvesters and hop men can there supply many of their wants. He carries an extra good line of axes. Twine and rope of all sizes. Cutlery, hatchets, chisels and other sharp things help make up his stock.

Gaynor's shoe store ranks among the best in the valley. Something for everybody for all seasons. Re-pairing promptly and neatly done. Get your footwear at Gaynor's.

Firearms, ammunition and fishing tackle of all sorts at Risser's gun store, likewise cutlery and sundries. He rarely sees a broken article that he cannot mend.

Improvements are still going on at the Dockeader ivory stable. Nothing short of the best in every line will satisfy him. When you want a rig he can please you.

There is nothing in the way of blacksmithing that I. V. Lynch cannot do.

Frank Kerslake is an enterprising furniture dealer. His business is to supply goods of medium grade at low prices. He both buys and sells second hand articles.

Stage Driver Fuller does a big business between Dallas and Salem every day. Round trip fare only $1.50.

J. J. Wiseman is stocking up for a big hardware trade this fall. He knows the wants of the people around here and will be prepared to serve them right. See his new stoves.

John E. Smith seldom sees a job of blacksmithing that he cannot do as well as an expert.

SALEM RUSTLERS.

Nobody denies that the very best place in the city to get your clothing done up in ample pie order is the steam laundry where they use improved machinery and have white help.

You would never regret having your photographs made at the Cronise studio.

Shramm's feed yard at the steel bridge is a very popular place with Polk county people. From a dozen to fifty of them have their teams there every day.

At the soap factory you can exchange your tallow and grease for good laundry soap. They also have a variety of nice toilet soaps which you can get in the same manner.

At Johnson's clothing emporium they will now sacrifice the profits on summer things rather than carry them over. Shred people jump at such chances. No matter what you may want in the clothing line remember that the Johnsons can come near or please you than any body. Hundreds of Polk county people patronize them.

Stockton's dry goods store next to the postoffice is becoming quite a popular place among ladies who like nice things to wear. Mr. Stockton always buys the cream of the market and is seldom undersold. He also keeps shoes and clothing.

The best hop baskets in the market can be had at Freeland's 156 State street.

Eye sight is worth everything and should be carefully guarded. At Barr's jewelry store you can find a skillful optician who will make no charge for examining your defects of vision.

Ladies furnishing goods and a great variety of attractive fancy articles at the New York Racket store. Ready made clothing for both sexes of all ages. In the matter of footwear they cannot be beaten in high quality and low prices.

The shrewdest farmers always want the best of everything, knowing that it pays in the long run. Mr. Shafer, the harness maker near the Bush bank, employs skilled workmen and uses nothing but the best material.

John Stout at the Landon & Hanson sash and door factory is making superior hop baskets and selling them below going prices. Ask to see the goods and you will be apt to want some of them.

John Smith at Bridgeport has sowed 27 acres to clover and 27 acres in rye grass. Tonight he will have about 20 of the neighbors to come in and help him burn 40 acres of slashings, and will treat them to ice cream. Mr. Smith proposes to raise less grain and more stock.

For the Dixie and Derry warehouses 45,000 sacks were provided and all of them have already been taken out by farmers. For several weeks Misses Mattie Koser and Jessie Stoner have been employed mending sacks at which they make fair wages. About 4,900 have passed through their hands.

To accommodate those who are partial to the use of atomizers in applying liquids into the nasal passages for catarrhal troubles, the proprietors prepare Elys Liquid Cream Balm. The price, including the spraying tube, is 75 cents. Druggists or by mail. The liquid embodies the medicinal properties of the solid preparation. Cream Balm is quickly absorbed by the membrane and does not dry up the secretions, but changes them to a natural and healthy character. Ely brothers, 56 Warren street, New York.

A nephew of Teddie Roe was here last week from Eastern Oregon looking after the estate. Besides the two acre tract on the Salt creek road he had a timber claim near the old site of the Martin saw mill. Some twenty years ago the kindred lost track of him and it was only recently that they learned where he lived and died.

NEWPORT BY THE SEA.

Perhaps you will be interested to hear from the Dallas contingency at Newport. Surely Dallas is well represented and we are the jolliest crowd in the camp. F. H. Morrison can be heard at all hours; he knows how to yell, scream, laugh or sing. Ralph Williams plays the role of conductor rather than banker. He is a very useful article anywhere, perfectly at home at a dance, a banquet, a church service, or in steering a crowd over precipitous rocks, succeeding where others failed. He deserves a medal for withstanding four charming young ladies who coaxed him to stay up with them at a bonfire, giving them as an excuse, "I can't do it, ladies; I stayed up last night until two o'clock and I must have some rest." Prof. Starr is also here in company with a distinguished friend of the opposite persuasion, with a smile on his face which means "I am having a good time." We had the pleasure of meeting today Judge Sibby and wife, Dr. Hayter and wife, Oscar Hayter, and someone else, in fact all of the Dallas people, on our way to the lighthouse, which is some five miles from Nye Creek. The lighthouse is a fine building. We ascended to the top by a flight of winding stairs. It stands 161 feet from sea level. The light shows 20 miles. It is a 400 candle power and magnifies it to 8,780. It is 81 feet from the base to the light. We also took a pedestrian excursion to the Life Saving Station, where we saw the men in drill—shooting a cannon which contained a rope over an anchor, which represented a ship in distress and rescuing by means of that rope the inmates of the wrecked vessel. At another time we saw them performing on the bay. The boat containing eight of the crew was capsized, but the sturdy sailors soon turned the boat to its place and sailed on as if nothing unusual had occurred.

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea," says J. H. Doak, of Williams, Oregon. "We were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, but as a last
