"Goodwill Sisters, Dealers in Cigars and Tobacco." Is the sign which hangs over a flourishing cigar store in Boston. The proprietors of the business are two extremely pretty and bright young women who chose to make their living by going into business rather than by putting on spectacles, cutting their hair short and setting up as schoolma'ams in the regulation way. The sisters have been successful, and their success has brought with it some degree of embarrassment.

A few weeks ago a brief account of their unique enterprise was printed in a Boston paper, and since that time they have been almost overwhelmed with offers of marriage. These offers come from all sorts of men and from all parts of the country. Miss Hattie, the youngest sister, has already filed away 38 offers, and every mail adds to the list. One of the most persistent of her suitors is a Maine farmer who has 3,000 bushels of potatoes and a cow to lay at her feet. Meanwhile the young woman serves notice that she does not intend to get married until she is 50 years old, a statement which puts the date off a matter of more than 25 years. —Providence Journal.

Consumers' League.
The Consumers' (or Shopper's) league is showing fresh signs of growth. Funds are coming in from the Pennsylvania branches for the support of the national league, and steps are being taken to arrange for an exhibition at the Pan-American of all kinds of muslin underwear bearing the consumers' label, which guarantees that the weaving is done under beautiful conditions. One of the chief objects of the society is to show the danger of wearing sweatshop and tenement house made clothing. Testimony is accumulating on this point from physicians, nurses, inspectors and others. The head of the nurses' settlement of New York said before the commission of investigation: "Tuberculosis seems to be the disease most dreaded. We see so much of it that we call it 'tailor's disease.' And we have frequently found people working on garments in a room where there was scarlet fever." —Philadelphia Ledger.

Artemus Ward on "Woman's Sphere."
In one of the multitudinous discussions going on nowadays as to the limits of "woman's sphere" Mr. Artemus Ward's description of a woman addressing her fellow passengers in a railroad train on the subject has been revived by an exchange. It speaks of her, to quote one of his own expressions, "thusly." "She sees every woman should have a Spear. She went on: 'What is my Spear? Is it to stay at home & darn stockin' & be the ser-vant of a domineering man, or is it my Spear to vote & speak & show myself the equal of a man? Is there a sister in these keers that has her proper Spear?' saying which the eccentric female whirled her mob-meller around several times & finally jabbed me in the waist with it. 'Have no objections to your going into the Spear business,' said I, 'but you'll please remember I ain't a piker.' Don't Spear me again, if you please."

To Clean Hats.
Fine starchy hats which are very much soiled can easily be made presentable by scrubbing quickly with a saturated solution of oxalic acid. Use a small brush and dry quickly to prevent warping. Keep the solution out of harm's way, and remember it is no more innocent if called "salts of lemon." Mark the bottle "Poison" in red ink.

THE SPIREAS.

Of Easy Culture and Hardy—The

The true spiraea are all desirable, low growing, extremely hardy shrubs. They are of the very easiest culture and remain many years in good condition when once established. The season for flowering from the middle of May to nearly September, while the colors vary from pure white to deep crimson.

In Anthony Waterer, the new variety of the pink Japan series, S. bumalda. Spiraea are so varied in character that it is not easy to settle on the variety one really prefers, says Rural New Yorker. The double flowering form of Spiraea lanceolata is often catalogued as S. reevesi. When this fine sort blooms in June, we always think it the best of all, but popular preference is usually given to the elegant S. van houttei, flowering a week or two earlier. This is a variety of garden origin and is supposed to be a hybrid. It is one of the most beautiful of all hardy shrubs when its drooping branches are hidden with great clusters of snowy blossoms. The flowers are single, however, and the petals fall readily, which is not good for cutting.

S. lanceolata, especially in the preferred double form, is acceptable both as a garden and cut flower. When in bloom, the plant is completely covered with little white roselike flowers. The blooming period lasts nearly two weeks, and the plant always presents a neat appearance from the symmetrical arrangement of its narrow foliage.

Bud Moth Injures the Apple Crop.
Commenting on unexpected injury in apple orchards, a New York grower says in American Agriculturist: The trouble is caused by the bud moth, the larvae of which are eating the section partly or entirely off immediately before the place where the apple stem grows. The apples are from a foot to a much greater distance apart. Many other orchards are in the same condition.

The bud moth has been with us for a long time, but never before has it injured our crop after the blossoming time. Fruit growers have thought they were masters of the situation and could raise apples in spite of the insects, but many have made up their minds within a couple of weeks past that there is yet something to learn. I hear of a few orchards that have set fairly good crops. No effort has been made to fight this pest. It never has troubled us this time of year before.

How to Keep Nasturtiums Blooming.
The surface soil should be kept loose during the summer to encourage the growth of nasturtium vines and retain moisture in the soil. Nasturtiums need more care in training than sweet peas, as they have no tendrils to cling with.

Nasturtiums are very effective, as the leaves are bright green and the flowers of such lively shades of yellow, brown and crimson that the contrasts are very fine. If planted where they may be trained over any object about the grounds suitable for the purpose, they make a very pleasing effect.

There are two strains of climbing nasturtiums which are much grown, the first known as holoseriale and the second as tall nasturtium. The former have smaller flowers, but are more profuse bloomers than the latter; but both are good.

The Hardy Hydrangea.
The Japanese Hydrangea paniculata grandiflora is a rather coarse and heavy mass of flowers when examined closely, but it is a grand thing for effect from a little distance and is among the indispensable ornaments in most grounds. It is also very useful for cutting purposes where heavy decorations are in order. In recent

BAD BLOOD, BAD COMPLEXION.

The skin is the seat of an almost endless variety of diseases. They are known by various names, but are all due to the same cause, acid and other poisons in the blood that irritate and interfere with the proper action of the skin.

To have a smooth, soft skin, free from all eruptions, the blood must be kept pure and healthy. The many preparations of arsenic and potash and the large number of face powders and lotions generally used in this class of diseases cover up for a short time, but cannot remove permanently the ugly blotches and the red, disfiguring pimples.

Eternal vigilance is the price of a beautiful complexion when such remedies are relied on.

Mr. H. T. Shobe, 204 Lucas Avenue, St. Louis, Mo., says: "My daughter was afflicted for years with a disfiguring eruption on her face, which resisted all treatment. She was taken to two celebrated health springs, but received no benefit. Many medicines were tried, but without result, until we decided to try S. S. S., and by the time the first bottle was finished the eruption began to disappear. A dozen bottles cured her completely and left her skin perfectly smooth. She is now seventeen years old, and not a sign of the embarrassing disease has ever returned."

S. S. S. is a positive, unfailing cure for the worst forms of skin troubles. It is the greatest of all blood purifiers, and the only one guaranteed purely vegetable. It purifies and invigorates the old and makes new, rich blood that nourishes the body and keeps the skin active and healthy and in proper condition to perform its part towards carrying off the impurities from the body. If you have Eczema, Tetter, Acne, Salt Rheum, Psoriasis, or your skin is rough and pimply, send for our book on Blood and Skin Diseases and write our physicians about your case. No charge whatever for this service.

JAPANESE HYDRANGEA GRANDIFLORA.
years the faded flowers are cut and the bunches dried for winter ornaments. In garden work plants have been trained to tall pillars and when in flower have a unique appearance. They are also being trained to single stems and then have a peculiar effect with their drooping branches. In any manner grown they are attractive.

The specimen illustrated by Meacham's Monthly is a medium between the tree and ordinary bush form. It is 15 feet in diameter and about 12 feet high at the tallest part.

Horticultural Brevities.
It is stated that the Armours, who last year bought up and held choice apples in their cold storage houses, will this year buy largely of the western apple crop for export to England.

It seems that the peach tree has its insect pests as well as the other trees. It is said that the borer, a dirty white, grublike creature, is one of the worst.

The Italian prune crop of Oregon promises to be the largest in the state's record.

To keep sweet peas blooming it is very necessary to keep the flowers from going to seed and to keep the soil moist. If all the flowers are not desired or cannot be disposed of, those not wanted should be clipped off.

No Difficulty.

Who Takes the Cake?
In an old number of What to Eat is found a suggestion which will lessen the care of hostesses.

"Who takes the cake?" is a most merry-making scheme to assist in making delightfully entertaining a luncheon. The hostess provides upon slips of paper what may be termed cake compliments. These are neatly written and bound upon coarse steel knitting needles into little rolls and tied with baby ribbon to match the color scheme of the table.

These are brought in and passed to the guests, each taking one, just after serving the after dinner coffee. The hostess announces that each is to guess the name of the cake suggested on her slip, adding, one who gives the most correct answer wins the prize of a delicious cake, which should be exhibited. The hostess has a list of the answers, and when one misses the "hit" she reads it, to the amusement of the crowd. For instance, one slip reads: Name the president's cake. The answer is (election). The parenthesis must not appear on the slips. A list recently used, and very wittily selected, is given for suggestion:

Name the geologist's cake. (Mountain.)
Name the advertiser's cake. (Puff.)
Name the farmer's cake. (Corn.)
Name the tailor's cake. (Measure.)
Name the milliner's cake. (Ribbon.)
Name the devotee's cake. (Angel food.)
Name the jeweler's cake. (Gold.)
Name the lover's cake. (Kisses.)
Name the author's cake. (Short cake.)
Name the pugilist's cake. (Pound.)
Name the office seeker's cake. (Washington.)
Name the idler's cake. (Loaf.)
Many others can be added by the clever hostess.

"Nerve Waste."

One of the most helpful books on nerve waste ever issued is that entitled "Nerve Waste," by Dr. Sawyer of San Francisco, now in its fifth thousand. This work of an experienced and reputable physician is in agreeable contrast to the vast sum of false teaching which prevails on this interesting subject. It abounds in carefully considered and practical advice, and has the two great merits of wisdom and sincerity. It is endorsed by both the religious and secular press. The Chicago Advance says: "A perusal of the book and the application of its principles will put health, hope and heart into thousands of lives that are now suffering from nervous impairment." The book is $1.00, by mail, postpaid. One of the most interesting chapters—chapter XX, on Nerves and Nerve Tonics—has been printed separately as a sample chapter, and will be sent to any address for stamp by the publishers, The Pacific Pub. Co., Box 2658, San Francisco.

The Room We Have.

If the inhabitants of Wyoming wanted to spread themselves out, each of them could have a little more than a square mile all to himself. In Nevada every four people could have ten square miles. Arizona, New Mexico and Idaho can afford almost a square mile each to their men, women and children, while up in frozen Alaska there are ten good square miles for every soul of population. Rhode Island is the fullest state in the Union, with 407 people to the square mile. But even that leaves a good deal of extra room. Massachusetts, 349 people to the square mile, follows Rhode Island. Then come New Jersey, 250; Connecticut, 187; New York, 152.6; Pennsylvania, 140.1; Maryland, 120.5; Ohio, 102.

The King and Sir Thomas.

There's a good story going the rounds about the king and Sir Thomas Lipton. Of course it is an invention, but it is funny and the joke carries no sting. It is represented that the king, after he had distributed the medals to the South African soldiers, said something to Sir Thomas about the new orders which would come by and by to those whom he intended to honor, and "an order may come your way," said his majesty, so the story goes, to Sir Thomas. "It shall be promptly attended to" is the alleged reply of the great merchant.—M. A. P.

Reforming the Calendar.

M. Flammarion, the French astronomer, has prepared and submitted to the French Astronomical society a novel scheme for reforming the calendar. He proposes that the year shall begin on March 21 and that the months shall be named after the cardinal virtues. In order to make the year exactly 52 weeks long he would make New Year's day (and, in leap years, the day after it) a holiday and would not consider it a part of the week. Thus the dates of the days of the week would not alter from year to year, but would be invariable.

Entertaining Squirrels.

Alive in his native woods the squirrel is an amusing little fellow, and he will entertain you by the hour if you will let him.

You probably become first aware of his presence by his dropping things on your head. Then he plays hide and seek with you as he zigzags up a tree. While he pauses for thought, or possibly to wash his face, another squirrel comes scurrying along the branches of a neighboring tree, and away they go, one chasing the other, jumping from branch tip to branch tip, racing up and down the trunk and making the bark fly. Sometimes one loses his footing and falls headlong 20 or 30 feet to the ground, landing there with a force that makes him bounce. You think every grain of sense must be knocked out of the small body, but he only blinks a bit, and, after a moment spent perhaps in letting the stars set that must have suddenly risen before his eyes, he streaks it up the nearest tree after the other fellow. Long after they have disappeared from sight you hear them chattering together up among the leaves like two watchmen's rattles.—Philadelphia Record.

Time to Go to Work.

A woman was once trying to induce General Sherman to use his influence for her son in order that he might be given a place in the army, for which, however, he had shown no particular fitness. "His father was in the army," said the urgent mother, "and so were his grandfather and his great-grandfather, and it seems as if he ought to follow the line."

For Over Fifty Years.
An old and well tried remedy. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for colic. It is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. 25 cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Sixty Years of Popularity
Is the record of Pain Killer (Perry Davis), but the shops are full of imitations made to sell upon the great reputation of the genuine. Be cautious, therefore, when you ask for a bottle to see that you get the genuine. An un-failing remedy for coughs, colds, and bronchitis.

ALL OVER THE HOUSE.

A Convenient Combination Washstand and Hat Cupboard.

Large hats occupy a large amount of space if they are to be properly taken care of, and in small flats or small houses it is usually a consideration to economize space as much as possible. Therefore this suggestion is for a hat cupboard and washstand combined.

The arrangement can be easily carried out, and the most ordinary washstand will suit the purpose. The sketch also shows how a well worn, shabby washstand can be refurbished. When the paint is worn, the best thing to do is to scrape it off and rub the wood with coarse glass paper until the old paint has been tolerably well removed. Then repaint with enamel—cream or sea green—and further decorate with stenciling. A new cheap washstand of white wood can be treated at home in a similar way. And now to say something about the arrangement beneath the washstand which is to be the use of a hatbox. All that is necessary is a shelf or two—say one shelf at the foot of the washstand legs and another midway between that and the washstand drawer. These two shelves will "take" large brimmed hats comfortably without crushing them. They must be protected from the dust by shutting the cupboard in with flowered chintz curtains, which at the same time beautify the furniture.—Philadelphia Ledger.
