Several prominent republicans who hate intemperance, said last week that if satisfied that Mr. Furnish visited the saloon while here they would not support him. It did seem improbable that one aspiring to the governor-ship would do such a thing, but who now denies it or any longer doubts it.

The general impression is that the democrats will carry Baker, Union, Umatilla and Wallows counties. It is said that fully one-third of the re-publicans in Union county will refuse to support their ticket because so much dissatisfied with the doings of

The other day the Oregouian began an editorial with this suggestive state ment: "Oregon may go democratic in June and if it does the blame will rest upon the business men and the working men." The business men and the working men constitute the bone and sinew of Oregon voters and it dees look as if they had about decided to make a change of administration for the good of the state. But who expected such an admission from the Oregonian now.

In Umatilla county there is a club of 400 anti-Furnish republicans. It includes two ex-state senators, two ex-representatives and four of the most prominent business men and farmers. It would seem that those who know the gentleman best, think least of him.
