We have the Goods And are Going to Sell Them

SEE?

We buy goods nearly every day—it is the only way to keep your stock fresh and new. In our grocery department we keep our handsomest clerk and our sweetest goods. But for more value for your money you must buy more expensive things. We excel in spring and summer dress goods—all colors and qualities. Most of them are not mercerized, but they are so slick you would think they were. We have a very nice line of shirt waists—nice in style and cheap. And ladies' neckwear, ties and collars, we lead them all. We have as fine a line of shoes as you will find anywhere, and you will be surprised how cheap they are. We still have a few pairs of ladies and mens' shoes left, $2 to $5 values for $1. In mens hats we have an overstock, nice ones too, and you will miss it if you do not buy of us. Just arrived—an invoice of ladies' muslin underwear direct from the factory. The sale opened May 26th and the ladies should not miss it. And we have just opened a large variety of ladies' waists at bargain prices: Formerly 50 cents, now 25 cents; formerly $1, now 50 cents. We do this because it will be warm and you will need them.

One word, where physical development is regarded as quite as important as a knowledge of humanity and as a glimmering of Greek.

Willard scored 1,827, eclipsing the former record held by Harold Weekes of Columbia by 118 points.

Here are Willard's comparative tests for 1901 and 1902:

1901.	1902.
Strength of back.....	220 320
Strength of legs.....	475 755
Strength of right forearm.....	89 76
Strength of left forearm.....	69 75
Capacity of lungs.....	20 20
Strength of upper arms (triiceps and chest).....	217 226
Strength of upper arms (diceps and back), chin.....	181 235
Total.....	1,268 1,827

Willard's achievement was all the more remarkable from the circumstance that the year before his standard was only 1,208 and that between the tests of 1901 and 1902 he had developed to such an extent as to increase his strength at all points by 550. Columbia's new strong man is an all round athlete. Last spring he took an active part in baseball and made the regular third base man on the varsity team. In the fall he struck into football, although the game was entirely new to him, and secured a distinguished place on the regular varsity team. He next tried his hand at gymnastics and strength tests, with the result already noted.

Long's Return to Running.

Maxwell W. Long, the peerless runner, who retired a year ago, has been elected a member of the New York Athletic club. Long's application for membership was endorsed by the athletic committee and especially recommended by Captain Charles H. Sherill as a worthy addition to the club's athletic team. As soon as the track at Travers Island, N. Y., has been put in shape Long will go there and put in a couple of months' steady work under the supervision of "Count" Glanville.

Bostwick's Purchase.

Albert C. Bostwick of New York, trotting horse owner, automobilist of note, running horse enthusiast, four-land driver, horse show exhibitor, and only twenty-three years of age, has bought of J. Malcolm Forbes the yearling colt Lord Revelstoke, by Ringan, 2:06 1/4, out of May Fern, 2:11 1/4, by Redfern. Mr. Bostwick will campaign a string this season, and David McClary will be in control.

The Hartford Stakes.

The stake events in the grand circuit races at Hartford in September will be: First Futurity, $10,000, Sept. 1, Labor day; trotting, 2:11 class, $10,000; 2:19 class, $3,000; 2:30 class, $3,000; pacing, 2:09 class, $3,000; 2:16 class, $3,000; 2:30 class, $3,000.

ED GEERS DRIVING.

Including that with Boralina, and will, as in past years, campaign a string on the grand circuit.

Geers is the greatest driver and trainer in the United States, although the opinion exists in some quarters that George H. Ketcham, owner, breeder, trainer and driver of Crescents, 2:02 1/4, is his equal. Ketcham's career, however, has been pursued along different lines than that of Geers, the latter having had more actual training and driving experience than any other man in the country.

GEMS IN VERSE.

OLD FAVORITES.

Lucy.
She dwelt among the untrodden ways
Beside the springs of Dove,
A maid whom there were none to praise
And very few to love.

A violet by a mossy stone
Half hidden from the eye!
Fair as a star, when only one
Is shining in the sky.

She lived, unknown, and few could know
When she ceased to be,
But she is in her grave, and oh,
The difference to me! —Wordsworth.

The Picket Guard.

"All quiet along the Potomac," they say,
"Except now and then a stray picket.
Is shot as he walks on his beat and fro
By a rifleman hid in the thicket."
"Nothing. A private or two now and then
Will not count in the news of the battle.
Not an officer lost—only one of the men
Moaning out, all alone, the death rattle."

All quiet along the Potomac tonight,
Where the soldiers lie peacefully dreaming;
Their tents in the rays of the clear autumn moon
Or the light of the watch fire are gleaming.

A tremulous sigh as the gentle night wind
Through the forest leaves softly is sweeping,
While stars up above, with their glittering eyes
Keep guard, for the army is sleeping.

There's only the sound of the lone sentry's tread
As he tramps from the rock to the fountain,
And he thinks of the two in the low trundle bed
Far away in the cot on the mountain.

His musket falls slack; his face, dark and sad
As he mutters a prayer for the children asleep,
For their mother. May heaven defend her!

The moon seems to shine just as brightly as then,
That night when the love yet unspoken
Leaped up to his lips, when low, murmured
Draws his sleeve roughly over his eyes.

He dashes off tears that are welling,
And mothers his gun closer up to his place,
As if to keep down the heart swelling.

He passes the fountain, the blasted pine tree,
The footstep is laughing and weary;
Yet onward he goes through the broad belt of light
Toward the shades of the forest so dreary.

Hark! Was it the night wind that rustled the leaves?
Was it moonlight so wondrously flashing?
It looked like a rifle. "Ha! Mary, good-night!
No sound save the rush of the river,
While soft falls the dew on the face of the dew."

The picket's off duty forever.—Ethel Lynn.

Joys.

We clutch our joys as children do their flowers,
We look at them, but scarce believe them ours;
Till our hot palms have smirched their colors rare,
And crushed their dewy beauty unaware.—Dinah Maria Craik.

Lytic of Action.

'Tis the part of a coward to brood
Over the past that is withered and dead,
What though the heart's roses are ashes
And dust?

What though the heart's roses be dead?
Still shine the grand heavens overhead,
Whence the voice of an angel thrills clear
On the soul.

"Gird about thee three armor, press on to thy goal!"
If the faults or the crimes of thy youth
Are a burden too heavy to bear,
What hope can rebuke on the desolate waste
Or a jealous and craven despair?
Down, down with the fetters of fear!
Be the strength of thy valor and manhood
With the faith that illumines and the will that defies.

"Too late!" Through God's infinite world,
From his throne to life's nethermost level,
"Too late!" Is a phantom that flies at the dawn
Of the soul that repents and aspires.
If thou dost not hasten the day

There's no height the strong wings of mortals may gain
Which in striving to reach thou shalt strive for in vain.

Thou up to the contest with fate,
Unconscious by the most whimsical dead!
What though the heart's roses are ashes and dust?
Still shine the fair heavens overhead,
And sublime as the angel who rules in the sun
Exclaims the promise of peace when the conflict is won! —Paul Hamilton Hayne.

Where There's a Will There's a Way,
Is fame your aspiration?
Her path is steep and high;
When she ceases to be,
Content to gaze and sigh,
The shining throne is waiting,
Who says, with Roman courage,
"I'll find a way or make it!"

In love's impassioned warfare
The tale has ever been
That victory crowns the valiant;
The brave are they who win!
Though strong is beauty's castle,
A lover still may take it.
Who says, with Roman firmness,
"I'll find a way or make it!"

Are riches worth the getting?
They must be bravely sought!

Independence.
Gather ye roses by every well
That's justified by honor;
Not for to hide in a hedge,
Not for a train attendant,
But for the glorious privilege
Of being independent. —Burns.

The Good Man.
Thus, born alike, from virtue first began
The difference that distinguished man from man
He claimed no title from descent of blood,
But that which made him noble made him good. —Dryden.

SCROFULA

I bequeath to my children Scrofula with all its attendant horrors, humiliation and suffering. This is a strange legacy to leave to posterity; a heavy burden to place upon the shoulders of the young.

This treacherous disease dwarfs the body and hinders the growth and development of the faculties, and the child born of blood poison, or scrofula-tainted parentage, is poorly equipped for life's duties.

Scrofula is a disease with numerous and varied symptoms; enlarged glands or tumors about the neck and armpits, catarrh of the head, weak eyes and dreadful skin eruptions upon different parts of the body show the presence of tubercular or scrofulous matter in the blood. This dangerous and stealthy disease entrenches itself securely in the system and attacks the bones and tissues, destroys the red corpuscles of the blood, resulting in white swelling, a pallid, waxy appearance of the skin, loss of strength and a gradual wasting away of the body.

S. S. S. combines both purifying and tonic properties, and is guaranteed entirely vegetable, making it the ideal remedy in all scrofulous affections. It purifies the deteriorated blood, makes it rich and strong and a complete and permanent cure is soon effected. S. S. S. improves the digestion and assimilation of food, restores the lost properties to the blood and quickens the circulation, bringing a healthy color to the skin and vigor to the weak and emaciated body.

Write us about your case and our physicians will cheerfully advise and help you in every possible way to regain your health. Book on blood and skin diseases free. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., Atlanta, Ga.

RI-PAN'S

Ripans Tablets are a common sense, effectual cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, heartburn, headache, constipation, dizziness and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. They are intended for the use of men, women and children everywhere, and have proved beneficial in the majority of cases. It is not claimed that they will perform miracles, but some of the cures which they have effected amount almost to that. Easy to take and prompt in action, they have no rival as the best remedy for the every-day ills of humanity.

A MEDICINE WHICH PROLONGS LIFE.

"I have used Ripans Tablets for a number of years and would not be without them. I was troubled with indigestion and constipation, and have not since. I have been so that I am getting rid of those terrible bilious spells which afflicted me for years. I was in such distress that I had lost all my appetite. I had lost my weight and my hair was falling out. I was sitting on the step, when a neighbor came to me and remarked that I looked ill. I told him I did not get over the liver and that I was afraid to eat anything. I bought a box of Ripans Tablets, from which I had suffered since I was quite young. He advised me to take Ripans Tablets, and I did so. I feel well now, and I have no more of those bilious spells. I can eat anything, and I feel like a new man. I feel very thankful that I have found something that will prolong my life."

GASTRIC TROUBLES.

"I had suffered three years at least from gastric troubles. I could not sleep at night. My head ached and my feet would be cold as ice. My bowels were not regular and I would have vomit from time to time. I was in such distress that I had lost all my appetite. I had lost my weight and my hair was falling out. I was sitting on the step, when a neighbor came to me and remarked that I looked ill. I told him I did not get over the liver and that I was afraid to eat anything. I bought a box of Ripans Tablets, from which I had suffered since I was quite young. He advised me to take Ripans Tablets, and I did so. I feel well now, and I have no more of those bilious spells. I can eat anything, and I feel like a new man. I feel very thankful that I have found something that will prolong my life."

HUMOR OF THE HOUR

Professor.
"If there is anything I resent," said Mr. Sirius Barker as he took a bite of gramin bread and sipped his gruel, "it's the assumption of titles of distinction by anybody and everybody."
"Yes," answered the friend, "we do have a great many 'majors' and 'colonels' and 'judges' who are neither military men nor lawyers."
"Yes, I'm a patient man, but I draw the line somewhere. I am just waiting for somebody to come along calling himself 'professor' because he's a champion pingpong player. Then I'm going to say something sarcastic,"—Washington Star.

Had Saved It For Him.
The man was in trouble.
"I don't know what to do," he said.
His friend searched through his desk and brought out several sheets of paper.
"Here," he said. "Take it."
"What is it?" asked the man who was in trouble.
"It's a shorthand report of the advice you handed out to me when I was in a bad way. You were over-aded with it then, and I felt sure the time would come when your stock would be exhausted and you would need some of it back."—Chicago Post.

First Aid.
Greatly excited, the band of rescuers surrounded the missionary whom they had saved from the hands of her kidnappers. Utterly weak and faint, she lay upon a cot, but smiled feebly at her friends.
"Is there anything we can get for you?" asked one.
"Yes," she whispers, "yes. Get me a fashion paper. I haven't seen one for six months."—Judge.

Trapped in the Lid.
THE OVERTURE.
THE INTERLUDE.
THE GRAND FINALE.

More Unwelcome Visitors.
The old lady with the tract was curious.
"And when you drink too much do you really see snakes?" she asked.
"No, mum," responded Sandy Pikes. "I generally see country constables, bulldogs an' woodpecks."—Detroit Free Press.

Excited Devotees.
"Pa and me got to quarreling at the breakfast table about which played pingpong the better."
"Yes."
"And pretty soon they played pingpong with the cups and plates."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Breezy.
"Hil there!" called the policeman.
"Don't you see that sign, 'No dogs allowed in this park?'"
"Ah," replied the dog owner, "but this poor dog can't read. Fine day, isn't it?"—Philadelphia Press.

The Dog.
"We always give the under dog in a fight our sympathy," remarked the observer of events and things; "the other dog does the rest."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Better Plan.
"When you get angry with your husband, do you threaten to go to your mother?"
"No, indeed; to bring her here."

Second Choice.
Hewitt—Gruet is popular with the widows.
Jewett—Yes. He doesn't seem to be anybody's first choice.—Judge.

On His Hands.
"I noticed you having your garden yesterday. What are you raising?"
"Rilisters mostly."—Philadelphia Press.

Bright's Disease.

The largest sum ever paid for a prescription, changed hands in San Francisco, August 30th, 1901. The transfer involved in coin and stock $112,500 and was paid by a party of business men for a specific for Bright's disease and diabetes, hitherto incurable diseases. They commenced the serious investigation of the specific November 15th, 1900. They interviewed scores of the cured and tried it out on its merits by putting over three dozen cases on the treatment and watching them. They also got physicians to name chronic, incurable cases and administered it with the physicians for judges. Up to August 25th, eighty seven per cent of the test cases were either well or progressing favorably. There being but thirteen per cent of failures, the parties were satisfied and closed the transaction. The proceedings of the investigating committee and the clinical reports of the test cases were published and will be mailed free on application. Address John J. Fulton Company, 420 Montgomery street, San Francisco, California.

The Public.
Allow me to say a few words in praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I had a very severe cough and cold and feared that I would get pneumonia, but after taking the second dose of this medicine I felt better three bottles of it cured my cold and the pains in my chest disappeared entirely. I am most respectfully yours for health, Ralph S. Myers, 64 Thirty-seventh street, Wheeling, West Virginia. For sale by Adam K. Wilson.

For Over Sixty Years.
An old and well tried remedy. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over sixty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. Is pleasant to the taste. Sold by druggists in every part of the world. 25 cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.

Four dictionaries have been bought for the use of the Dallas public school.

Summer Complaint.
Is not always brought about by change of air and water. The "stay-at-homes" are just as susceptible to diarrhoea; due, generally, to over eating, as unripe fruits, etc.; and drinking ice water, all accompanied by painful bowel discharges; and, if not checked, result seriously. Perry Davis' Painkiller is the only purely reliable remedy. 25 and 50c.

CONSTIPATION

"I had gone 14 days at a time without a movement of the bowels, not being able to move them except by using hot water injections. I bought a box of Cascarets, and in ten days I was cured. I was in such a state of distress that I was almost dead. I was sitting on the step, when a neighbor came to me and remarked that I looked ill. I told him I did not get over the liver and that I was afraid to eat anything. I bought a box of Cascarets, from which I had suffered since I was quite young. He advised me to take Cascarets, and I did so. I feel well now, and I have no more of those bilious spells. I can eat anything, and I feel like a new man.
