Not an Empty Phrase.

The phrase "Leaders in Low Prices," which we use in all our advertising, is not an empty and meaningless sentence. We mean it every word. We do sell at less than other's price of equal worth. If we do not have your custom, it must be because you are blind to your own advantage.

BARR'S JEWELRY STORE

Corner State and Liberty streets, Salem. Leaders in Low Prices

F. A. Link, of Montgomery, had 280 Cotswold sheep, but has sold 85 of them to Ferguson & Combs, of Anity. He proposes to cross his Cotswold with Merino, believing he will get harder sheep and a better grade of wool. He has 143 good goats. From four acres of barley he sacked over 300 bushels and from two and a half acres of speltz, a kind of rye, he cut 100 bushels. Only a few years ago his farm scarcely paid a few cents, but industriously clearing, grassing and cultivating it has brought into quite a profitable condition.

The Departed. Adam K. Wilson, husband of Mary C. Wilson, was born in Sullivan county Indiana, February 4, 1844, and died at his home in Dallas, Oregon, August 28, 1902, aged 58 years. He began his business career in Sullivan, thence to Springfield, Missouri, from which place he came to Oregon, arriving at Salem July 4, 1881. For some years he was sought to build up his health on a farm near Salem. He came to Dallas in 1886. From his boyhood he attended the Presbyterian church, uniting with it when about 16 years old. He was one of the founders of the Presbyterian church of Dallas, an earnest and devoted elder, a generous supporter, a pillar of the church. He has left us to become a member of the church of the redeemed. As a citizen Mr. Wilson was a man of large public spirit, interested in whatever looked to the good of the community. He gave generously to help any good cause or to assist any real need. Quiet and unassuming in manner he has lived his life, dropping words of tender and wise counsel all around him. He loved his church because he knew its unique power. He supported it because he lived in relation to the unseen, and knew that principles of religion taught and lived by the church were the mightiest factors in any community. A man of strong convictions, genial and kindly, broad minded and cultured, great in body and in soul, a true friend, a loving and devoted husband and father, a splendid example of christian manhood, he illustrated the power of christianity in making character. He has gone to his eternal reward. W. T. W.

A YOUNG LADY'S LIFE SAVED. At Panama, Columbia, by Chamberlain's Colic Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Dr. Chas. H. Utter, a prominent physician, of Panama, Columbia, in a recent letter states: "Last March I had as a patient a young lady sixteen years of age, who had a very bad attack of dysentery. Everything I prescribed for her proved ineffectual and she was growing worse every hour. Her parents were sure she would die. She had become so weak that she could not turn over in bed. What to do at this critical moment was a study for me, but I thought of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and as a last resort prescribed it. The most wonderful result was effected. Within eight hours she was feeling much better; inside of three days she was upon her feet and at the end of one week was entirely well. For sale by A. K. Wilson.

Oregon Crops. Good weather for harvest, but late crops need rain. Pastures are short, but stock continues in good condition. Grain harvest is about over and hauling begun. In Clatsop, Gilliam and Wasco counties the yields are satisfactory, but disappointing in the Willamette valley. Wheat going from 15 to 25 bushels an acre and oats 25 to 35. A better yield is expected in Southern Oregon. Hops are all right and picking will commence everywhere next week. Corn is good, but to dry for onions. Potatoes have the blight in some coast counties. Fruit of all kinds plentiful.

Stops the Cough. And works off the cold. Laxative bronchitis tablets cure a cold in one day. No cure, no pay. Price, 25 cents.
