Improved Mill Machinery. Gooch Bros. have just discarded from the Dallas flouring mill over $1,000 worth of machinery that had been put in by Felix Noel. It was perhaps as good as any when bought but improved methods have come along. In place of said machinery they have just had installed by the manufacturers agent new appliances of about the same value, which they expect to make far better flour. The people in and around Dallas should give it a fair trial before concluding to use any other brand. The mill has been closed down for two months but is again ready to supply flour and
