CHOICE MISCELLANY

Relief From Pain.

A Paris doctor of the highest reputation, whose methods are not in the least irregular because he has submitted the details to the Academy of Medicine, declares that he has found a sure relief for boils and carbuncles. He has used it on many patients and says confidently that by the injection of a certain solution, the composition of which he has laid before the fellow members of his profession, keeping nothing back, he can stop the pain of the worst boils and carbuncles in a few hours and can bring about a complete cure within a reasonable time.

What a benefactor to suffering humanity this doctor will be provided his discovery is found to be effective in a wide range of tests and among the average of the afflicted in many lands and nations! This announcement seems to be almost too good to be true. It was hard luck for Job that this Paris doctor was not practicing in the land of Uz in the time of Eliphaz the Temanite.—New York Tribune.

The Law's Delay.

Have patience, and the law will see you righted even though you may have "lain for a century dead." An amused correspondent, according to the London Chronicle, found the other morning in his letter box a notice from the bankruptcy court inviting application for a "third and final dividend of 2 1/2 in the pound." The bankruptcy occurred in the reign of William IV. and the debt was owing to one corresponding out's father, who has been dead for sixty years. How many of the other creditors can be traced today, we wonder? But think of the bulldog tenacity, heritage of our unrivaled race, that followed up that twopenny farthing for five and sixty years and got it at last!

The Sphinx Decaying.

D. G. Longworth of the Cairo Sphinx declares that the famous Egyptian sphinx is rapidly decaying. This is said to be the result of the altering climate of Egypt due to the irrigation of recent years. Heretofore an hour's downfall of rain once a year was a novelty to Egypt. The natives regard ed it as some dire message of reproof from the gods. The irrigation and the many trees about the delta, however, have changed this. Fifteen to eighteen days' heavy rain falls now every year "like a shower." The sphinx follows and cuts into the soddened limestone of the ancient monument, whitening it away all over the surface.

An Unusual Coincidence.

W. F. Adams of Seattle, Wash., received two telegrams the other day while at Meridian which mark an unusual coincidence. One telegram was from his daughter, Mrs. M. S. Waterman, in Seattle, announcing that she had just become the mother of twins, a boy and a girl. The other dispatch, which arrived within an hour of the preceding one, was sent by his daughter, Mrs. M. E. Atwater, in Baltimore, who announced that she had just become the mother of twins, a boy and a girl. The newcomers on the Atlantic coast and youthful cousins 2,000 miles to the westward came into the world on the same day and almost at the same hour.

An Evasive Answer.

Dean Wright of Yale academic department, before whom offending students stand trial, tells the following story as containing the highest development of the evasive answer. The pointer of the sundial that adorns the campus is held as a trophy, and the dean was questioning a student believed to have had a share in its removal.

"Mr. —," said the dean, "who stole the pointer from the sundial?"

"Resurrection is the thief of time, sir," was the immediate and noncommittal reply.—New York Times.

The New America.

Lord Kitchener has hit on a happy phrase, prophetic of South Africa's future. At the presentation of a sword given to him by the corporation of Cape Town, though the formality took place in London, in his speech he thanks the general said, "You have the markings of nothing less than a new America in the southern hemisphere." The English papers seize upon the phrase, "the new America" for their headlines.

Pygmy Camels.

The western part of Persia is inhabited by a species of camel which is the pygmy of its kind. These camels are snow white and are on that account almost worshipped by the people. The shah presented the municipality of Berlin with two of these little wonders. The larger is twenty-seven inches high and weighs sixty-one pounds. The other is four inches less, but the weight is not given.

Dynasties of England.

The dynasties of England since the conquest are Norman, four kings; Angevin, eight kings; house of Lancaster, three kings; house of York, three kings; Tudor, three kings; and two queens; Stuart, four sovereigns; house of Orange, William III, and his wife Mary, jointly; house of Hanover, six sovereigns, from George I. to Victoria; house of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, the present king.

Edisonian Chaperones.

Edison had said that the invention of his new storage battery would place automobiles within the reach of poor people, and now he says an automobile so equipped will be sold for $1,000. Poor people will doubtless buy one apiece for each of the boys. Edison's idea of the resources of the poor man is one of the most startling inventions. It abolishes poverty.—Water-town Times.

His Consolation.

A lawyer who has won some distinction through his success in compromising suits for damages by accident says his most interesting client was a Swedish fisherman in the fishing country whose wife had been killed in Philadelphia by a train crossing the streets at grade.

The widower was simply inconsolable and, having been told that he could get $10,000 if he insisted on pushing the case, refused for months to talk compromise. The lawyer, of course, did all possible to keep the hearing back in the hope of discouraging the Swede, and at last he was rewarded by an offer to settle at a reasonable figure.

The Swede called, the lawyer said $500, and the bereaved one quickly accepted. As he folded the check and pocketed it he observed:

"Call I don't see no pal! I've got $100,000 and a good lot better wife than I had before. She and me was married yesterday."—Philadelphia Times.

BURIED UNDER SNOW.

The Great Storm That Overwhelmed New England in 1717.

In the spring of 1717 an amount of snow fell in New England that has not been equalled during the three centuries of its history. The great storm began in February and buried the earth to the depth of ten to twenty feet. Cattle were buried in it and were found frozen stiff under the drifts, and hundreds of sheep perished. Wild animals grew so desperate from the cravings of hunger that they became nightly visitors to the farmers' sheep pens. Bears and wolves followed the deer even into the settlers' clearings and pounced upon them there, killing them at such a rate that deer rovers were afterward chosen in every

"HARAKIRI."

Japanese Sentiment of Death in Preference to Dishonor.

The report from Tokyo that the Japanese officer Yamaguchi has committed suicide because his father, an old soldier, reproached him with having lost 200 brave men, who were killed recently by an avalanche, and being saved himself, is quite in accordance with the best Japanese traditions. "Harakiri," or, as the Japanese prefer to call it themselves, "seppuku," is not an aboriginal Japanese custom, but was evolved gradually during the middle ages. Its origin is probably to be found in the desire on the part of vanquished warriors to avoid the humiliation of falling into their enemies' hands alive. Thus the custom would come to be a characteristic of the military class, or at that time of the feudal nobility and gentry. From a custom it developed into a privilege, and at the beginning of the sixteenth century all who could claim the rank of gentleman were exempted from the indignity of being put to death by the common executioner and were allowed to commit "harakiri." Instead, the time and place being notified to them officially and officials being sent to witness the ceremony.

The Montmorency Cherry.

This is one of the favorite varieties in this country. Perhaps it is the most popular of all the sour cherries, taking the whole country over. This very popularity and the wide range of territory over which the variety is planted naturally introduced confusion in the naming and in descriptions given by nurserymen. It is hardly to be expected that all nurserymen will use the same name even for the best known variety. In this instance we have the names Montmorency, Montmorency Ordinaire, Montmorency Extraordinaire, Large Montmorency, etc. Professor Powell, who has been giving very careful study to the sour cherries, says that in his opinion there is only one Montmorency cherry in this country and that the undoubted variations which are found are due to the normal plasticity of the variety when grown under such adverse conditions.—Exchange.

Good Seed Needed For Good Melons.

Discussing the growing of melons at Rocky Ford, a correspondent of Orange Judd Farmer emphasizes the importance of seed selection and says: "A perfect cantaloupe for seed must first come from a field where the general type was good. It must be of the proper size; the netting must be fine and closely laid. The space between the slight ribs must be smooth and well defined from stem to blossom end. The blossom ends must be of equal width. The ribs must all be of equal width. The blossom ends must be well strengthened by a small raised button, and the weight should be nearly 1 1/2 pounds. The color should be a light gray, showing a very little orange between the netting. When cut, the most should be light green, changing slightly toward yellow at the center—fine grained and deep, so that but a very small seed cavity remains."

It Was Revealed.

"Have you a revised copy of the New Testament in the library, Miss Reid?" asked the young man who was making an evening call.

"No, Mr. Slow," she replied, "I regret to say we haven't."

"What's a revised copy?" asked Bobby, who had been permitted to sit up later than usual.

"You are rather young yet, Bobby. To understand such matters," said his sister kindly, "a revised copy means that certain changes have been made in the Bible which were considered necessary to a better understanding of the text. Now you had better run off to bed—there's a good boy."

The young man could scarcely conceal his admiration.

"Well, if that's what it is," said Bobby, "our family Bible is revised," "cause pa changed it the other day." He scratched out the date of your birth and made it three years later. He told me something about you and Mr. Slow and said that it wouldn't do any harm now, and if Mr. Slow wanted to look at it it might do a deal of good."

Presently the young man went away, and a family consultation was held. It resulted in Bobby passing a sleepless night.

A MEDICINE WHICH PROLONGS LIFE.

"I have used Ripans Tablets for a number of years and would not be without them. I was troubled with indigestion and constipation, and have noticed since I have been using them that I am getting rid of those terrible bilious spells which used to come over me so often. Of late I have not but one. I had just got over a bad spell of biliousness and was sitting on the step when a neighbor came to me and asked me to get out of my way. I had just got over a bad spell of biliousness and was sitting on the step when a neighbor came to me and asked me to get out of my way. I had just got over a bad spell of biliousness and was sitting on the step when a neighbor came to me and asked me to get out of my way."

GASTRIC TROUBLES.

"I had suffered three years at least from gastric troubles. I could not sleep at night. My head ached and my feet would be cold as ice. My bowels were so regular that I would feel as if I would faint away. I was in such distress that I would have sooner died than live. About three months ago I was suffering and had just got over a bad spell of biliousness and was sitting on the step when a neighbor came to me and asked me to get out of my way. I had just got over a bad spell of biliousness and was sitting on the step when a neighbor came to me and asked me to get out of my way."

ONE GIVES RELIEF

RIPANS

Ripans Tablets are a common sense, effective cure for dyspepsia, biliousness, heartburn, headache, constipation, dizziness and all disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels. They are intended for the use of men, women and children everywhere, and have proved beneficial in the majority of cases. It is not claimed that they will perform miracles, but some of the cures which they have effected amount almost to that. Easy to take and prompt in action, they have no rival as the best remedy for the every-day ills of humanity.

A good prescription for mankind.
