In an Iowa law court an attorney was arguing with great earnestness and eloquence. In the midst of his argument he paused a moment, said the Green Bag, and said:

"I see your honor shakes his head at that statement. I desire to reaffirm it, although your honor dissects it."

"I have not intimated," replied the judge, "how I should construe the evidence or what my decision will be in the case, and your remark is uncalled for."

"You shook your head," "That may be true," the court replied. "There was a fly on my ear, and I reserved the right to remove it in any manner I saw fit. Proceed with your argument."

Caleb Cushing's Dress. Caleb Cushing's peculiar manner of dress and his eccentricities were frequently the subject of newspaper articles. Although quite a large and portly man, his clothes always seemed to be two or three sizes too large for him and of the cheapest material. He always during both summer and winter wore a large cloth cap pulled close down on his head and altogether looked anything but the brilliant jurist and diplomat. One day, while making an unusually caustic comment upon his dress, he remarked to the writer, "I guess by the time that fool is as old as I am he will care more for comfort than fashion."

Seen on an Ostrich Farm. It is no uncommon thing to see a male ostrich strutting about followed by three or four distinct broods, all of different sizes. When the incubating process is completed, the cock bird leads his young ones off and if he meets another proud papa engages in a terrific combat with him. The vanquished bird retires without a single chick, while the other, surrounded by the two broods, walks away triumphantly.

Gave Himself Away. After preaching on the occasion of the reopening of a restored church the bishop thanked the churchwarden, an old farmer, for his share in the good work. "And I must thank your lordship for your sermon," was the reply, "but I could not help thinking, as you talked about sin, that your lordship must have been a little wishful yourself when you were a young man."

Contentment. One who had tried several times to jump across a stream and had repeatedly failed in finally succeeding, when he said to a friend, "How much better I am than you in having accomplished a difficult feat."

"Not at all," replied his friend. "I am better than you in not wishing to jump across."—St. Nicholas.

The Difference. "What a luxury a clear conscience is!" exclaimed the high minded statesman. "Yes," answered Senator Brigham, "it's a luxury, but it isn't a necessity."—Washington Star.

She Advised. He—"I'm in love with a charming girl, and I'd like to ask your advice." She—"I'm willing to help you all I can." He—"Well, would you advise me to propose to you?"

COUNTY SEAT BUSINESS.

Farrington & Hill, the new butchers, handle all kinds of fresh, salt and smoked meats and take the very best sausage and lard. Good poultry and fat stock always wanted.

The Salem stage driver will promptly bring whatever you want from there.

Old buggies, hacks and carriages for sale by Hughes & Vansike, who are placing new outfits in their livery stable. When you want first class service and fair treatment go to them.

The newest, the nicest and the best things to be had in the foot wear line can be obtained at Gaylor's shoe store. They have some excellent wearing but out of style goods that you can buy very cheap.

Dallas people need not be told that Dunn's grocery is one of the very best in the county, but country folks are hereby reminded that they cannot do better than to go to Dallas when they want something nice to eat.

The Wilson drug store has gradually grown and increased in popularity until it has become one of the most important in the valley. There is hardly anything you could name that they do not keep. They have an immense line of druggists' sundries of high grade and at low prices.

Faul's hardware store is very popular with the farming community because he keeps so much that they frequently need. But seldom does one have to seek elsewhere for what he wants in that line. If not sure as to what will best suit your needs ask and he may have very thing. He has a whole lot of things to assist farmers in their spring work.

Morris, the jeweler, is always supplied with what you and your friends may want in line of business. Collar buttons, shirt studs, sleeve buttons and finger rings of many patterns.

Risser's gunstore is the place to get all kinds of instruments and implements sharpened. It never pays to work with dull tools. He can mend almost any broken thing.

The pretty, new things that Mrs. Chace ordered in Portland last week for her millinery store are going off like hot cakes because the ladies like them so well.

Most of the country people who trade here use Dallas made flour because they consider it fully equal to any made elsewhere. Then they believe in patronizing home industry.

In the window at Ulrey's feed store you will see a price list of some of the things he has for sale. But remember that he has many other articles for stock and poultry.

SALEM SHORT STOPS. It is now almost universally admitted that the cheapest one-price cash store in the city is the New York Racket. They can and right along sell goods cheaper than any credit store. Buying in large quantities, discounting all bills, giving no credit and doing a big business enable them to quote a smaller margin of profit than can any regular store.

Strong's restaurant continues to be headquarters for the best class of good livers when in the city.

The steel bridge feed yard is patronized by nearly all Polk county people because it is so convenient for them, because their horses are never neglected there and because the prices are right.

Ostrander's pharmacy, next door to D. M. Jones's grocery store, is most convenient for everybody from across the river. He invites Polk county people to make their headquarters there and to leave their packages there.

The George Lynch counter would not draw such crowds every day if they did not set out such good things to eat.

Johnson's clothing store never had larger or finer assortments of spring wear of all kinds. Their new styles are not by as they can be, neck wear that will meet all tastes, shoes good enough and nice enough for any gentleman, underwear that will prove quite comfortable and suits that will please wives, daughters and sweet hearts.

Portland Democratic Paper. After numerous failures to establish in Oregon a paper that might cope with the Oregonian, it seems that success will soon crown the Oregon Daily Journal. For months past it has gradually been winning its way into public confidence, and the conclusion is that it has come to stay. It is backed by abundant capital, brainpower and energy. A big, fine new press and complete outfit in keeping with it are now enroute from the east and a paper doubly as good as the present one will soon be issued from that office. It will be the leading democratic paper in the state. We are now prepared to club with it. You can get the Semi-Weekly Journal and the Journal a year for $2, or the Daily Journal and Itemizer at $4 a year. All Democrats should rally to the support of the leading representative of their interests.

Public School Medals. The city hall was crowded again last Thursday and Friday evenings to hear the school children speak. The best reciters in the four different rooms were said to be Merle Myer, Winnie Lammier, Allie Fuller and Enla Phillips, the second best in each case being Cordis Gosh, E. R. Burke and Earl Shelton. That was on Thursday night. The next evening the best ones from each of the seven roomed their oratorical skill, the judges Prof. Metzger, Prof. Dunkleburger and D. P. Stouffer thought Winnie Lammier entitled to the $10 gold medal given by C. L. Starr and Herman Hawkins to the $5 gold medal given by the school. All the others who took part in the contest received premium books. The receipts were $73.

SEVERE ATTACK OF GRIP. Cured by One Bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. "When I had an attack of the grip last winter (the second one) I actually cured myself with one bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," says Frank W. Perry, editor of the Enterprise, Shortsville, N. Y. "This is the best cough truth, at times kept from coughing myself to pieces by taking a tea spoonful of this remedy, and when the coughing spell would come on at night I would take a dose and it seemed that in the briefest interval the cough would pass off and I would go to sleep peacefully free from cough and its accompanying pains. To say that the remedy acted as a most agreeable surprise is putting it very mildly. I had no idea that it would or could knock out the grip, simply because I had never tried it for such a purpose, but it did, and it seemed with the second bottle of containing pains. I was caused it to not only be of less duration, but the pains were far less severe, and I had not used the contents of one bottle before Mr. Grip had bid me adieu." For sale by Wilson Drug Co.

COLLEGE NOTES. The track team has been taking cross country runs for practice as our local field meet will be held May 2nd.

Nature must be donning her most beautiful apparel especially for botany class visits.

Arthur Wilson and Dan Brown made a Salem visit on their wheels to the latter's home there.

Dallas college is honored early in her premising career by older colleges in their consenting to hold a collegiate state contest here. We will do our best that Dallas may get first prize.

High Pressure Days. Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and hand to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the prostrating effort to keep up with these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves, and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high-pressure days.

Eastern Star Reception. On Wednesday evening Mrs. Biddle, who is grand chaplain of the order gave a reception to Mrs. Allie Turner and, who is grand worthy matron. The elegant home was beautifully decorated and brilliantly lighted. There were over 60 guests, and they departed not until after midnight. The two grand lodge officers received the members under a ribbon canopy made of the five colors of the order. A finer looking supper table was never spread and the way they did eat was a caution. Some of the china dishes were a century old and some of the landlady's silver about fifty years old. The Dallas Eastern Star lodge has ninety-two members and is in a thriving condition.

Entertainment at Polk. The public school there will tomorrow evening give a pleasing program, to be followed by a shadow social. Eight boys will sing a patriotic song and four others engage in a dialogue. There will be a violin solo, quartet singing and other songs and a choral. Recitations will be given by Elizabeth Reddekopp, Willie Boydston, Henry Quiring, Katie and Sarah Dyck, Lena, Katie and Henry Ross, Agnes Windover, Sarah Friesen, Ruth Shaw, Adie and Fred Boydston, John David and Jacob Reddekopp. Miss Ella Austin is the teacher and she has a fine programme that will be sure to draw everybody around.

Mrs. J. E. Sibley and Mrs. T. B. Ross will represent the Dallas lodge at the Rehekah state meeting at Portland in May.

OUR CARNIVAL QUEEN.

Although not a great number of votes were cast this week, enough ballots were put in the boxes to reduce to second place the young lady who has led in the race from the start, and to put at the head a married lady who entered the contest late, but has met an increased vote each week. It also demonstrates the fact that Miss Nannie Starr will be found at the head if she continues to gain in the same proportion as the last two weeks. And there are others yet to hear from. The pages are waking up, too, and it is an open question as to whom fall the honor of being the two small servers of her majesty and attendant court.

CARNIVAL NOTES. In answer to many inquiries we will state that the Ferris wheel is made of steel and is perfectly safe.

It is an assured fact that Dallas will have the largest crowd in its history and that her accommodations will be severely taxed, most especially so in regard to sleeping places. The town has been divided by a line running north and south in the center of the block between the two hotels. All citizens on the north half who can possibly hire rooms or beds during carnival week will please notify Mr. Baker, and those on the other side Mr. Thompson.

Dallas is receiving more advertising throughout the state, by reason of her forthcoming carnival than she ever got before in any shape, form or manner.

Parties having cots can rent them by applying to the chairman of the committee at this office. Out of town parties can also rent all kinds of bed fixings.

It is up to some public spirited citizen to erect some decent outhouses for the convenience of our visitors.

Good Show Coming. The company billed for Dallas next Monday and Tuesday evenings is a company of merit. Edson's Big Company of 32 people, of which the Spokane papers said on the occasion of a recent visit there: "The Edson Co., with a good band of musicians, were at the Spokane theatre last night and pleased a large and enthusiastic audience with the good old play 'Ten Nights in a Barroom.' The company is a large one, and the various parts were in good hands throughout. Deserving of mention is Miss Lulu Sutton, Little Olga Stech, Mr. Edson, W. S. Leecompt and several others." Uncle Tom's Cabin is billed for Monday night, and the sale of seats indicates a large house. The reserved seats for this attraction has been placed on sale at the drugstores. The prices are popular—35 and 25 cents.

Dallas City Bank. After a complete renovation of the whole premises, the bank is back in its former quarters. Everything is new and first class. The floor is nicely tiled, the ceiling is attractive figured metal, and the walls have a pleasing bluish tint. All the furniture is of highly polished natural oak. There is a separate room for the cashier and behind the counters there is nearly twice as much space as before. There are windows for each the teller, exchange clerk and book-keeper. The vault is all right and the safe one of the best in existence. There are not better desks, chairs or settees in any city bank. In short, our bank equipment has no superior in the state outside of Portland. President R. C. Craven, Cashier R. E. Williams, Assistant Cashier W. G. Vassall, and Book-keeper Joe Craven are justly proud of their bank home and every body speaks of it in terms of praise.
