About once in so often this most daring of financiers puts on the gloves with another of the big ones in Wall street, and the fur generally flies on such occesions. At present he has a "go" on with the Harriman interests, the control of the Southern Pacific railway being the stake. Mr. Keene boldly states that the fight will be continued and will not end until the Harriman party has been ousted from the control of the Southern Pacific. He asserts that the joint operation its merits by putting over three dozen of the two roads by one set of officers ases on the treatment and watching is contrary to the antitrust and interstate commerce laws and that a vigorname chronic, i curable cases, and ous effort will be made to set aside the ownership of the Southern Pacific by the Union Pacific.

The Cooper Hewitt mercury vapor electrical lamp is the cheapest light in the world, barring the sun. It has no red rays and is therefore less irritating to the eve than any other light, but this absence of red rays makes colors mixed with red appear as shades of dirty brown or bright violet, and the woodwork of the room is given a greenish tint, while the faces of persons are green, blotched with purple.

At War Without Knowing It. There is a European state which has been at war over thirty-six years without knowing it. This is Lichtenstein. In 1866, at the outbreak of war between Prussia and Austria, the Prince of Lichtenstein declared for Austria. When pence was made, this principality was forgotten. It had made war and never signed the peace. Consequently, according to all precedent, it is still in a state of war.
