CARNIVAL AFTERMATH.

The much vaunted good times must be somewhat a myth, judging by the experience of the stands, games, etc., at the Dallas carnival. Although the town had for four days the largest crowd in its history, the people abso-lutely refused to blow themselves for luxuries.

The balloon ascension by Prof. Mil-ler Friday morning could not have been better. He went up nearly ou of sight before cutting locse, and was plainly visible at Airlie, 12 miles distant. He once went so high that the two new-paper men with him did not survive the shock experienced by light air which proved to be the son of our Baptist peacher here, Rev. J. R. G. Russell There were 13 entries, and consequently an even dozen disap pointed mothers whose opinion of the judges idea of baby beauty was not at dl complimentary.

Saturday evening confetti reigned as queen and the big tent was crowded with a screaming, laughing c owd of both sexes, young and old, who pelted each other unmercifully with the harmless paper discs. This fun, and that of riding the camels, would have continued until early morning, Cool had not the workmen begun to take down the tent.

For 90 cents you could see all of the Arnold shows, which is considerably cheaper than any other traveling car nival. Mr. Arnold's carnival is rated Caras the third best one in existence.
