MILL CREEK RECION. We have been on a two days journey out that way. Numerous wagons were met hauling gravel from the creek at Dallas to the worst places on the Salt creek road, which is being greatly improved. The teamsters make three months treatment found myself en-loads a day and get $1 a load. Alvin tirely cured. I make this statement Brown lives on the farm of his sister, Mrs. A. C. Gist, who resides in Tillamook. He is a prosperous stock dealer and Mrs. Brown believes in poul-try, having 200 chickens getting ready for market. Uncle George Brown and wife are spending their sunset days in Dallas, and his son, Fay, who married Miss Nina Mack, lives on the old home place. The cottage where Teddy Rowe enjoyed life with his horse and dogs is vacant and lonely because Teddy is no more. Hops and other things around the homes of Dr. Fink in less than ten minutes with electriand Peter Hanson seemed quite flourishing. Things are in snipshape around the Saltereek postoffice and the neighboring German church. Mr. for years,-Richard Parrott. Arndt is making the old Delashmutt place produce well. Clarence Olm-sted, who married Miss Lilo Blair, occupies the Henry Black farm, and W. D. Whealdon, from the mouth of the examination to all from 10 to 5, and Prof. and Mrs. McCoote. of Corthe Columbia, is at the old Campbell or 7 to 8 daily. Some is shipped out of the state, but there is a local demand for most of it. The Buell store and postoffice are kept by Walter Butler and his sister, Mary, but they have sold to Mr. Walker, of Sheridan, and will give possession in the fall. Passing the Ridgeway and Blair homes and the Harmony church and school house we crossed the creek to where first Moses Eads and then Thomas Dickey lived. Van and Jef. Dickey and David James live close together there and we enjoyed the hospitality of the last named over night. Vassall, of Dallas. D. E. Blanchard lives on the Tommie Scroggins place where the road turns east. A. J. Cooper and wife are making a success of dairying on the next place. Her father, Cyrus Buell, has a fine home back on the hill and not far away her brother, Charles is prospering at diversified farming and stock raising. Roy Graves has a nice prune orchard and his brother, Carl, on she old McCain farm, has some choice sheep. N. M. Conner has 24 acres of as fine clover hay as we ever saw, and as usual W. W. Stockton has his various crops in fine shape. Henry Clark and wife, who was Miss Laura Vanpatton, formerly of Dallas, live at the old Hathaway Yocom place and near him live Wm. Yocom and L. Bennett. All are dairying and send-ing their cream to lortland. Each is raising corn, vetches and other green things for the silos they are construct ing. We tarried not in Ballston, but passed by where John McCulloch is pilding a fine residence in front of the old Aunt Rachel Davidson bo and took dinner with R. M.
