Alcoholism in Mexico. As the demands of business men for sobriety, clear-headedness, punctuality and steadiness among employees grow, so will alcoholic excesses receive the stamp of social disapproval, says the Mexican Herald. The railway corporations have to demand sobriety, and they are powerful educators of public opinion in this important matter. Business life here is taking on the complexity and strenuousness characteristic of business in all advanced modern countries, and a premium is thus placed on clear brains and unclouded minds. Force most influential are at work in behalf of real temperance. Modern life cannot tolerate drunkenness.

From a Business Standpoint. Lignor papers are warmly commending the bartenders' total abstinence societies. They tell us that on business principles a bartender should have a clear brain and a steady hand. "His calling partakes of the nature of an exact science." A befuddled bartender, it seems, is as incapable of deciding nice points in drink mixing as a befuddled railroad employee to carry out orders or a befuddled soldier to protect his country's flag or a befuddled legislator to properly represent the interests of his constituency.

How to Dry Wet Gloves. Gloves that have been wet should be allowed to dry in a cool room. When they are dry, the pliability may be restored by massaging them with olive oil.

Pleasant Gathering. At the Evangelical parlousage Wednesday evening about 50, young and old, met for a good time. First came a business meeting of the Keystone league, of which Dan. Poling, Chas. Embree, Harvey Coats, Prof. Dunkelberger and Prof. Metzger are the officers. That out of the way, there was a rollicking social hour and some special exercises led by Brother Winter. Then came the ice cream and cake, which are a perennial delight to young folks. It was well along toward midnight before anybody thought of breaking up. Before saying good night a nice portiere was presented to the preacher's good wife.

The State Fair. No time in the history of the Oregon state fair has there been such a good feeling among the agricultural classes towards the success of the fair as exists at the present time. Every section of the state seems to be taking an interest in the fair and promises to give it their hearty support. Eastern Oregon for the first time has promised one or two county exhibits, consist-

CALLAS BUSINESS HINTS.

Judging from the amount of all sorts of hardware that goes out from Fall's store every day our farmers must be more than usually prosperous. Either the quality of his goods or his prices or both draw trade from many miles around. Grain harvesters and hop men seem to need many things that can be bought there and housewives buy freely from him.

At the marble cutting establishment of G. L. Hawkins may be seen many fine samples of tombstones and monuments. See them before buying such things elsewhere.

Mr. Risser, the gunsmith, is receiving his goods for the fall trade. Everything he has is of such good quality that sportsmen come miles out of their way to buy from him.

Hein & Co., the present proprietors of the Dallas flouring mill, are making a superior article of flour and ladies all through the country say they want nothing better.

Jeweler Morris is always ready to wait on you and is very apt to have whatever you wish in that line. He can make broken articles almost good as new.

The Dumas can come as near meeting your wants in the grocery line as any store in the county. They buy all sorts of farm produce at standard rates. They want to get acquainted with all the country people.

Fiddler's stage brings lots of things to Dallas people every day.

Gaynor's shoe emporium always carries everything wanted by the people all through this region. Neither in Salem nor Portland could you buy to better advantage. Repairing done promptly to your satisfaction.

If your stock is bothered by flies try the new anti-fly preparation at Ulrey's feed store. Bran, shorts, chaff, flour and hay are on sale there. You will find him at the north end of Main street.

We have often spoken in praise of what the Wilson Drug Co. sell but have never exaggerated the merits of their stock. Choice goods at moderate prices rule there. They have several tooth preparations that will serve you well. Prepared paints in variety and all the most reliable patent medicines.

SALEM TRADE WINNERS. If you want the finest photographs that can be made short of Portland, go to the gallery of T. J. Grimes, over the Dairyville store. All patrons are more than pleased with what they get there.

Never before was Salem made so popular as now. From the very beginning the new proprietor has been trying his best to make an article at which no reasonable person could kick.

All kinds of summer wear such as bathing trunks, bathing suits, light coats and vests, belts, childrens sailor hats, boys wash suits and negligee shirts have been reduced in price at J. H. Son's clothing store to close them out before fall goods begin to arrive. Those queer Mexican hats are sellers at 25 cents.

New and desirable things come along in undertaking goods as well as anything else, and Coroner Clough promptly procures them. Tell your friends to always go there for burial goods. On State street.

We frequently dine at the George lunch counter because what they have is good enough for anybody.

Salem's cheapest one price cash store is operated by E. T. Barnes. Don't let their dozen varieties of ham, necks they have made big cuts in all prices. Their footwear cannot be excelled in quality for the price. Their new dry goods department is flourishing like a green bay tree.

Mr. Schramm is increasing the capacity of his feed yard to give greater room for the increasing number of his patrons. A horse fed there is always well fed.

Zinn's is the most popular place in town for all kinds of delicious to eat. His sodas are from choice stock and made by an expert. His ice cream and his good drinks draw great crowds there.

Let them feed you at Strong's restaurant and you will feel good all over.

ing of agricultural products, while the southern portion of the state will also be represented by a comprehensive exhibit of its agricultural products. Live stock from all over the state is being prepared for this year's fair. There are reasons for this awakening of the people to the support of the fair. One is, the management has worked hard and faithfully to make the fair as broad as the state itself. The transportation companies have come to their assistance and made very liberal rates on hauling exhibits of all kinds. Another is, the people are beginning to realize that it is time to let the outside world know of the wonderful resources of our state and believe that the state fair is the proper place to meet the better class of home-seekers. This will make the fair doubly valuable. It will give those who are looking for homes on the Pacific coast an opportunity to see in a body what our state can produce, and where it is produced, without traveling all over the state at great expense. It will also give the exhibitor the best possible opportunity of showing his products, whether it be grain, grasses, fruits, vegetables or live stock.

Collins Hot Springs. Just above Wind Mountain above Cascade Locks, on the Washington side, are located the above named springs in charge of Capt. Belcher, formerly manager of the St. Charles hotel in Portland. Dr. Farley and wife, of Dallas, are now there for his health. Concerning the place he says that Capt. Belcher leaves nothing undone that would add to the comfort of the boarders and campers; but there is a fine bath house with twenty tubs, two able attendants, a cooling room and a reception hall. Everything to eat is cheap as at home and there are both fishing and hunting grounds. People are there from all over Oregon, and boats running between Portland and The Dalles stop there every day.

MARKET REPORT. (Corrected weekly by Goodrich Bros.) Wheat, per bushel, 70 cts. Bran, per ton $22. Shorts, per ton, $25. Oats, per bushel, 30 cts. Flour, per 10 barrels, $3 80. Flour, per sack, $1. Buckwheat flour, $2.50 per cwt. Germea, $1 60 per cwt. Corn meal, $2 50 per cwt.

Shoulders, per pound, 9@11 cts. Eggs, per dozen, 20 cts. Chickens, per dozen $3@3.50. Dried fruits, per pound, 3@10 cts. Beets, per pound, 21 cts. Turnips, per pound, 1 cts. Cabbage, per pound, 2 cts. Onions, per pound, 2 cts. Beans, per pound, 5@7 cts. Corn meal, per pound, 31 cts. Hay, per ton, $7@12.

NEW EVANGELICAL CHURCH. That congregation paid $1,200 for the house and lot across the street west of the Methodist church. The house was moved to the north edge of the lot and is already occupied at a percentage. The ground has been staked off for a fine church on the corner facing Mill street. A concrete foundation and half basement for furnace will soon be started and bids have been asked for the necessary lumber. There will be a fine auditorium with raised seats and an elegant Sunday school room connected with it by sliding doors. The building is calculated to seat 600, and they expect to have it under roof by rainy weather. The new building is expected to cost $5,000, of which $4,000 will come from various church societies abroad.

Columbia River Excursion Steamer. Some of the finest scenery in the world is on the Columbia river, which is justly called the Rhine of America. The famous scenery of Switzerland does not excel it. Every western tourist should make the steamboat trip between Portland and The Dalles or at least to Cascade Locks and return. The Regular Line palatial excursion steamer Baily Gatzert leaves Portland every morning except Monday at 8:30 for Cascade Locks in the very heart of the Cascade mountains and get back to Portland about 7 in the evening, round trip $1.50. Fine meals served on all four boats of the line. Fare to or from The Dalles $1.50 round trip $2.50. Any passenger may either go or return by rail.

Struck With Paralysis. Last Thursday while on his government claim in the Siletz basin E. L. Ingalls, of Dallas, first felt numb and then became unable to move. A man from a neighboring claim happened to be with him and remained there until noon morning and then had to come miles to get enough men to bring him out of the mountains on a stretcher. Over almost impassable trails six men toiled with him down the mountain, to where they could lash him on a horse, still having to hold him on. Finally they reached a wagon road and he was hauled to Falls City and brought home on the train Saturday evening. He is still almost speechless and cannot raise his arm. Being 70 years old it will be hard with him. The heroism of those who went to his rescue deserves great praise. A day before it would have seemed impossible to bring him out as they did. His son Wallace, and grandson Bertie Cavannah arrived from Portland Wednesday to be with him, their wives accompanying them.

Mrs. Dora McCarger and Mrs. Bertie Northby a cup from Portland with their parents, W. R. Craven and wife.

The telephone line to Smithfield is working order. Among those interested in it are G. W. Meyer, Jas. Meyer, Archie Meyer, Jas. Boydston and O. H. Cobb.

Brother John White of Oak Grove never forgets poor preachers and hungry editors. Some fine apples and choice cooking apples are his latest donation here.

The other day as J. W. Bewley was taking his threshing engine and separator across the Hastings bridge south of Lincoln it collapsed and the machinery fell into the stream 12 feet below. He had failed to comply with the law requiring planks to be laid on ways on which to cross heavy machinery over bridges.
