RATIONS FOR DAIRY COWS.

Cotton Seed Meal and Cowpeas Superior to the Heavy Protein Feeds.

Feeding the dairy cows would be a comparatively easy matter were it not for the difficulty experienced in securing a sufficient amount of protein to supply the heavy demands made on her system in the production of milk. Says Professor A. M. Soule of the Tennessee experiment station. Cheap and abundant fodder crops can be grown with comparative ease to supply the more bulky part of her ration, but the protein needed is much harder to provide in a desirable form at a price within the reach of the average dairyman.

The abundance of cotton seed meal in the south should offer a happy solution of the difficulty, but there are many places where freight rates make cotton seed meal quite as expensive as in the states of the far northwest, and then it frequently happens that the dairyman does not see his way clear to pay out a large amount of money for cotton seed meal; for, as the old axiom puts it, "a penny saved is a penny made." So it is his interest to discover if possible a means by which he can produce the needed protein on his farm and thus save the heavy drain on his resources required by the purchase of cotton seed meal or some other concentrate rich in protein.

Cotton seed meal has now been fed long enough to establish its virtue as a feed for dairy cows, but it has also been shown that it is unwise to employ it exclusively for that purpose, as it is so rich, not only in protein, but in fat and other constituents as well, that it has a tendency to produce various derangements of the cow's system, entailing serious losses that can easily be avoided if the meal were employed in a rational manner.

Fortunately our soils are adapted to the culture of several of the most important legumes known to mankind. Among these the one that stands out prominently is the cowpea. It is well adapted to an immense territory and can be utilized to advantage in more ways than any other legume, and besides making a most excellent hay, rich in protein, it has the power of materially improving the mechanical condition and the crop producing power of the land, an item of the most profound concern to the farmer who has been somewhat careless with regard to such matters and has sold his cotton seed to the oil mill because of its ready cash value, though falling to return to the soil in some other form the equivalent of the plant food thus removed. As a result the fertility of much of our land has been seriously impaired, and so it is a particularly happy coincidence that the cowpea can be employed to rehabilitate the soil, produce a hay rich in protein which combines most happily with cotton seed meal as a feed for dairy cows and can even be used to advantage as a substitute for wheat bran or cotton seed meal under certain conditions.

According to the experiments recently completed at the Tennessee station the dairyman can employ cotton seed meal and cowpea hay as grain feeds for his dairy cows and thus grow all the concentrates needed on his farm, a matter of the greatest importance.

SALEM TRADES.

The present proprietors of the Capital Soap works are making an article greatly to their credit. The ladies who use it speak of it in terms of praise.

For nobly top coats or heavy over coats for winter you will find the greatest variety and most favorable prices at Johnson's clothing store. Their school suits for boys would greatly please your youngsters, and they have undergarments of all sorts for everybody.

Undergarment Clough on State street is quite popular among Polk county people who have been so unfortunate as to use his services. He never asks exorbitant prices for his goods.

Schoolboys' clothing in endless variety at the New York Racket. Not only is it made to look well and wear well but the prices are within reach of poor people. Brown's Blue Ribbon school shoes for boys and girls are the best.

The Cronise studio over Dalrymple is head quarters for good pictures. Many a Polk county parlor is embellished with photographs made there. He can please you.

Many people wonder how the George bench counter can afford such good meats for 20 cents, but they do it.

The steel bridge feed yard continues to be headquarters for nearly all teams driven to the city. Do you ask why? We reply because Mr. Schramm invariably treats them right.

Zions, the candy, soda water, ice cream and fruit man has as good confectionery as you could find Portland. Location on State street near court-house.

DALLAS BUSINESS ITEMS.

All orders entrusted to the Salem stage driver will be filled at once.

Now is a good time to lay in your winter stock of flour and feed and the Dallas flouring mill is a good place to get it.

Cemetery work done by G. L. Hawkins the Dallas marble cutter seldom fails to give entire satisfaction. He is both competent and honest.

As a gunsmith Mr. Risser has few equals and no superiors. The hunting season is at hand and he is ready to supply sportsmen with whatever they need.

Try Dunns' when in doubt as to the best place to go for groceries. They always have the latest, freshest and best of everything to eat. All their canned goods are of high grade.

When your time pieces get out of order or any article of jewelry is broken go to C. H. Morris, who will make them all right in short order.

Miss Collins, the popular milliner, is supplying many a lady and her daughters with all their wants in the line of headwear. Drop in and see her fine assortment.

Vetch, timothy and other desirable grass seeds may be had at Ullrey's feed store. Hay of different kinds, bran, chop and shorts always on hand, also good chicken feed.

The Gaynor footwear emporium ranks among the best shoe stores in the valley. It is none too soon to buy rubber goods. Go now and get first choice.

The clerks at the Wilson drug store are kept more than busy supplying both city and country school children with everything needed in the school room. Nowhere else can you get such things cheaper than at Wilson's.

Faul's fall trade is setting in at a brisk pace. His stores of various kinds seem to be the very sort the people want. Nowhere else can you get a better plow for fall use and he can furnish the best wagons in the market. Whatever other hardware you want can always be had at Faul's.

COUNTY COURT.

Spend Your Money and Earn a Dividend

The usual way in which money can earn a dividend is by being placed in a savings bank or in some other dividend bearing investment. But the Barr store has a plan whereby the spenders receive a dividend—provided, of course, they spend the money here. Our new cash register automatically prints a rebate check showing the amount of your purchase when that purchase is registered by the salesman. And this rebate check is given to you. When you have accumulated $25 of them, bring them to us and they are exchanged for $1 worth of goods, chosen anywhere from our stock. This is equivalent to a 4 per cent dividend on every dollar you spend here. Quite a little extra dividend, is it not?

Barr's Jewelry Store

Corner State and Liberty Streets, Salem.

FALLS CITY.

The town was never before so prosperous. Every house fit to live in is occupied and the demand now on going up will not more than half the demand for homes. Considerable painting has been done and the painters have work ahead for several months. Most of the business houses are located on the north side of the Luckiamute, the planing mill being on the other side, one just above the Falls and the other close by the depot. The Rhodebarger fruit dryer is located just back of the Bryan-Lucas store, and will cure all the prunes around there. Besides the two big general merchandise stores, there are a number of smaller ones, all carrying fair sized stocks. They include two grocery stores, a drug store, a jewelry store, shoe store, hotel, barber shop, meat market, two saloons, two confectionery stores, a furniture store and several real estate offices. As is generally true, the saloons are a curse to the community, degrade men of all ages and absorb much of the hard earned money that should go toward making their homes happier and more comfortable. There are three churches, an excellent school house, and other influences in good directions. The two sawmills and planing mills employ in different capacities about 100 men and have a payroll exceeding $6,000 a month. From the Bryan-Lucas mill over three miles away the flume brings down lumber in 25 minutes and in less than three hours delivers over 40,000 feet of it to the planer plant, where 30 men are employed at from $2 to $3 a day. Henry Starr has general charge of the planer outfit, W. B. McKown is engineer and Kolla Waterhouse blacksmith. The Watkins mill does its logging with two engines and a team of horses. Each engine has 1,200 feet of wire cable with which to snatch the logs to the skid roads for the horses. They can get out 60,000 feet a day. They send away about ten cars of lumber a week and would fill more if they could get them. There are 15 families at the mill and help is often scarce. Rough lumber which cost $2.50 six months ago, is now down to $2. Lumber comes down their 2 1/2 mile flume at the rate of 1000 feet a minute. Everything is handled quite systematically.

Timo Almost Hero.

It will soon be time to think of winter pastimes as well as lessons in music for children. In this line George C. Will, the Salem music dealer keeps a good reliable stock at prices that if ten surprise people, they thinking them certainly second hand articles instead of new goods. As his goods are shipped in the most modern way, that is in car load lots without taxing, as he buys for spot cash and as his selling expenses are light, he can afford to make customers really surprised offers. Having been in business for 25 years, he has learned how to select a line of goods to suit successful buyers, such things as they can depend on having in their homes. All instruments sold by Mr. Will will be returned to free of charge by fair treatment he has made friends of customers, and their assistance is the cause of his largely increasing trade. His store is at 231 Commercial street, opposite the Bush bank in Salem.

8 Cents

Eight cents a pound is what a young woman paid for twelve pounds of flesh.

She was thin and weak and paid one dollar for a bottle of Scott's Emulsion, and by taking regular doses had gained twelve pounds in weight before the bottle was finished.

Eight cents a pound is cheap for such valuable material. Some pay more, some less, some get nothing for their money. You get your money's worth when you buy Scott's Emulsion.

We will send you a little free.
