WOMAN AND FASHION

Daintily Combined. Pale blue moon velvet is somewhat daintily combined with a verdigris green in the picture hat emanating from the Maison Nouvelle, Paris.

FROM THE MAISON NOUVELLE.

terriaced, while the broad brim is entirely of the blue, the contrasting shade forming the edge. Both colors make a soft knot, resting on the hair at the left side, and a huge sea gull in black and white softens the brilliant effect of the whole.

Black Taffeta and Lace. Eern lace seems to be one of the trimmings that will lead this fall, and made up with black taffeta it forms a combination at once effective and sufficiently modish to last throughout the season.

A pretty blouse made this autumn by one of the best dressmakers has a yoke-round, of course-of-very heavy cream lace over the black taffeta. Below the yoke the silk is shirred to a depth of three inches, thus giving a pretty fullness to the lower part of the blouse. The sleeves are shirred and fitted fitting to the elbow, where they widen into a full puff and are finished with a cuff of Jovian ribbon. The stock is trimmed with a band of the same ribbon, and just at the elbow is another band that gives a finishing touch to the sleeves.

Skirts and Petticoats. All woolen and cloth gowns are made without skirt linings, a fashion which not only conduces to lightness, but to ease in walking. The newest skirt trimming is the gathered tuck. The tucks are first stitched in, then gathered and drawn into place. In gored, tulle or canvas suits this trimming forms the heading or finish to the flounce and is repeated crosswise upon the waist and upon the tops of the sleeves. A serviceable petticoat is made of fine saten closely fitted to the figure as far as the knees, where a circular flounce of the material is sewed on, having a two inch dust ruffle. This deep ruffle is covered with frills or ruffles of silk, and this garment if not black is of a somber hue.

Embroidery and Ruffles. Some very excellent results brought about by embroideries done in solid work, as it is technically called, upon silk for full dress daytime occasion coats are in evidence. Such coats it is intended shall be worn with canvas skirts and shall receive the modes seen centuries since at the French court, where the combination was a well beloved one. Ruffles of late at the wrists and plenty of the same fabric billowing beneath the throat stock soften the coat, which must be a prettily colored one—a pale gray or a delicate blue, mauve or green.

An Attractive Mantle. The girlish mantle illustrated is of accordion plaited yellow chiffon veiled with white lace heavily appliqued with rennaissance.

School Dresses. Among the most useful and practical styles for school dresses suitable to both young and little girls the Norfolk seems likely to be the favorite this winter. It is plain, yet gives an effect distinctly dressy. The coat is perhaps a little longer than formerly, and the sleeves are either quite plain and tight fitting or slightly melon shaped, widest just below the elbow.

A Family Affair. Wife—Do try to look pleasant, John. Our guests will think you are not glad to see them. Hubby—What's the difference? They are all relations, aren't they?—New York American.

Shut Out the Sick One. Never allow a sick fowl to "drink from the same canteen" with the others. The drinking water is the great source of contagion, and care should be exercised that it is in no way contaminated.

DO YOU GET UP WITH A LAME BACK?

Kidney Trouble Makes You Miserable. Almost everybody who reads the newspapers is sure to know of the wonderful cures made by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder remedy.

It is the great medical triumph of the nineteenth century discovered after years of scientific research by Dr. Kilmer, the eminent kidney and bladder specialist, and is wonderfully successful in promptly curing lame back, kidney, bladder, uric acid troubles and Bright's Disease, which is the worst form of kidney trouble.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is not recommended for everything but if you have kidney, liver or bladder trouble it will be found just the remedy you need. It has been tested in so many ways, in hospital work, in private practice, among the helpless too poor to purchase relief and has proved so successful in every case that a special arrangement has been made by which all readers of this paper who have not already tried it, may have a sample bottle sent free by mail, also a book telling more about Swamp-Root and how to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., One Cent Dispensary, 439 N. York St., New York, N. Y. The regular fifty cent and dollar size are sold by all good druggists.

Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghampton, N. Y. on every bottle.

Congratulations. Mr. John H. Cullom, editor of the Garland, Texas, News, has written a letter of congratulation to the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy as follows: "Sixteen years ago when our first child was a baby, he was subject to croupy spells and we would be very uneasy about him. We began using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in 1887, and finding it such a reliable remedy for colds and croup we have never been without it in the house since that time. We have five children and have given it to all of them with good results. One good feature of this remedy is that it is not disagreeable to take and our babies really like it. Another is that it is not dangerous, and there is no risk from giving an overdose. I congratulate you upon the success of your remedy." For sale by Wilson Drug Co.

Our First Annual Sale

Will be held at the Hub Clothing Co., Dallas, Oregon. It is the only store in the county and has the largest stock of clothing and furnishings goods, trunks and valises. We are not here for a few days, but have come to stay with you. Our stock is now and of the best grade. We are willing to leave it to your own best judgment and you will say that our stock is better worth 100 cents on the dollar than some others are worth 75 cents, but we do not take that into consideration on a sale of this kind. We make a deep cut all along the line, and you and your friends and neighbors are to receive the benefit of it. In the first place, our goods are bought from first hands—the manufacturer. We only mark them with a living profit, and that is as cheap as anyone can sell goods. We only have one price and that is for you, neighbor, and all others, pay alike. Our goods are marked in plain figures, so you or anyone can see that we do not try to deceive you in any way. We cannot afford too and will not, and no clerk that will do so will be permitted to stay with us. This will be your opportunity to get a good suit or overcoat, underwear, etc.

NOTE OUR PRICES. All overcoats..... 50 per cent off. All suits..... 15 per cent off. And everything else except overalls and slickers.
