SALEM ADVERTISERS.

All winter goods and those of a holiday nature are being sacrificed at the New York Racket to get more ready money and to make more room for other goods soon to arrive. Prices there will never be lower than right now.

The Johnson clothing house has had a very prosperous year and can now afford to be extra liberal with its patrons. Their greatest present desire is to turn the remainder of their heavy goods into coin and have ample room for the immense spring stock they expect to receive. Their clearance sale is a genuine one and the prices being down to rack bottom.

Try the George lunch counter and you want to get to see here.

Undertaker Clough attends a big per cent of the funerals in and around Salem. His tender sympathy and reasonableness in all things has much to do with it.

No other veterinary surgeon in the state knows more about the disease of animals than Dr. Keeler. It is practical positive knowledge. After having treated thousands of sick ones he seldom makes mistakes.

DALLAS PROPOSITIONS.

If your eyesight bothers you Jeweler Morris has glasses that will greatly help you and probably cause you to see as well as ever. Anyway it will cost you nothing to investigate.

If you need neither a gun, a pistol nor ammunition you are very apt to have some broken things that need mending and should take them to Riser's gunstore.

The Dallas mill is now selling a choice article of flour at only $3.50 a barrel and will deliver it anywhere in town.

Kerslake, the furniture dealer, had a big holiday output but has stocked up with everything needed by families all through the country. See his goods.

The stage will promptly bring whatever you want from Salem.

When you want drygoods you generally go to a drygoods store and when you need footwear you should just as naturally go to a shoe store. Gaynor's is the only exclusive shoe store in town.

G. L. Hawkins, dealer in tombstones, either has or will promptly procure whatever is wanted for any cemetery in the country. Now is the time to order for spring delivery.

Any left over holiday goods can be had very cheap at Wilson's drugstore. Ask to see some of them and you will be apt to find something you will want and money saved is money made. Ladies will find there most of the popular toilet article preparations. Only pure drugs and prescriptions carefully filled.

Faul's hardware store is generally conceded to rank among the very best in the valley. People come to it from all over the county because they are apt to find there exactly what they want. As the quality and the price are so sure to prove satisfactory, his list of customers is continually lengthening. Have you been one of his well satisfied buyers.

Independence Uncertainties.

Last Tuesday evening the old council was supposed to meet and install the new council. The new charter passed by the legislature last month requires the officers' elect to qualify and file their oath of office with the city recorder on the first Monday after the election, which was held on the 7th of last December. None of them did so, but nevertheless the old council installed Mayor Cooper. The two other councilmen are yet out and the third, Chas. Mattison, claims residence in the Siletz country. There was a full house present, but no quorum at the meeting. The result is that the old council and the new may however continue holding the best hand. The predicament is furnishing our citizens much sport. It may become necessary to take the whole matter through the courts before a sound legal basis.

Livery Improvements.

The livery stable next to the harness shop of F. A. Stiles belongs to R. E. Williams. Charlie Black, who has had charge of it for some time, has begun making extensive improvements. A new roof nearly 100 feet long is being extended to the old barn in the rear. The floor of the second story is to be raised eighteen inches, and all the stalls will be taken from the north side of the building to make changes will be made in keeping with the above. Besides a good transient custom Mr. Black is now boarding about a dozen horses and before sum-

A Stimulus to The Imagination

Sit at your own fireside, trying to figure out what you will give him or her for Christmas and you will find it a tantalizing puzzle. But wander about in the Barr store and your imagination will be wonderfully stimulated. You cannot help finding dozens of delightful things just suited to the purpose; hosts of handsome, refined, tasty typifiers of regard that will honor "both he who gives and he who takes." Any number of novel forms and fashions in jewelry, articles of personal adornment, such as rings, pins, brooches, lockets, charms and the like, have been gotten in specially for Christmas, and the new silver and cut glass is equally notable, to say nothing of many other Christmas lines well worth seeing.

It is Easy to Buy

"Be careful," but we must all go from heated houses into chill outer air and the change sets us to coughing and sneezing. Avoiding winter colds is difficult; curing them is not hard if you will take Allen's Lung Balm. Better begin when the cold is young, and not wait until it settles deep into the lungs, for then, even with Allen's Lung Balm, complete relief will be slower.

Consumption

Salt pork is a famous old-fashioned remedy for consumption. "Eat plenty of pork," was the advice to the consumptive 50 and 100 years ago.

Salt pork is good if a man can stomach it. The idea behind it is that fat is the food the consumptive needs most.

Scott's Emulsion is the modern method of feeding fat to the consumptive. Pork is too rough for sensitive stomachs. Scott's Emulsion is the most refined of fats, especially prepared for easy digestion.

Feeding him fat in this way, which is often the only way, is half the battle, but Scott's Emulsion does more than that. There is something about the combination of cod liver oil and hypophosphites in Scott's Emulsion that puts new life into the weak parts and has a special action on the diseased lungs.

A sample will be sent free upon request. Be sure that this picture in the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy is that of SCOTT & BOWNE, CHEMISTS, 409 PEARL ST., N. Y. 50c. and $1; all druggists.
