LETTER LIST.
These letters remain uncalled for in the Dallas postoffice for the week ending Sept. 19th, and parties calling for them will please state that they have been advertised:
Mr. Maurice L. Arthur.
Miss Lou Armstrong.
Mrs. Ellen Barden.
M. Clarence Fisher.
Mr. H. S. Moier.
D. E. Searles.
Miss Zelma Scobert.
Miss Esther Thomas.
Messrs W. W. Wilson & Co.
C. G. COAD, postmaster.

College Opening.
Wednesday forenoon the chapel was well filled with students and friends of the institution. The main addresses were by Hon. N. L. Butler and Rev. Jas. Moore. President Poling sent a letter of greeting and the faculty gave words of welcome and encouragement. Some good music was interspersed. The opening registration was quite satisfactory and many more are expected to enter. Rev. F. E. Fisher is to teach the sciences and his wife English branches while Miss Pollock will have charge of expression and oratory. There are quite a number of new students and others are expected from a distance. All friends of the school are expected to rally around it with good words and work that counts.

Sour stomach.
When the quantity of food taken is too large or quality too rich, sour stomach is likely to follow, and especially so if the digestion has been weakened by constipation. Eat slowly and not too freely of easily digested food. Masticate the food thoroughly. Let five hours elapse between meals when you feel a fullness and weight in the region of the stomach. For eating, take Chamberlain's Laxative and Stomach Tablets and the sour stomach may be avoided. For sale by Wilson Drug Co.

Polk at State Fair.
It is a big feather in its cap to have for two years in succession taken first premium in county exhibits in open competition with five other counties. The credit is mainly due to Mrs. F. A. Wolfe and her daughter, Belle, of Falls City. For months they have worked in season and out of season and have made repeated trips to all parts of the county gathering a great quantity of material. Perhaps no man in the state could excel Mrs. Wolfe in such work. She is a daughter of Wm. Ruble and was raised in the Eola hills. For many years she has been a fair exhibitor and has won many premiums. She will now get up a Lewis and Clark fair exhibit and it will take a powerful ruder to get ahead of her. Our citizens owe and all will be in hearty sympathy with her efforts.

The State Fair.
This year's fair was as a whole the best ever held. The weather was fine, the exhibits numerous and of choice quality and the attendance immense. On Thursday, these train loads of 36 cars took about 2,500 visitors from Portland. Many visitors from abroad said they never saw anything better. Polk county was well represented in all respects. C. D. Nairn of Ballston took 5 premiums on Scotch collie, Samuel Orr and Otis Waite of Rickreall on hogs, Felix Gomez of Perrydale on a Clydesdale team, Mrs. L. L. Whitesaker of Independence on broom corn millet, W. R. Coulter of Dallas on a Percheron team and C. D. Nairn on rye and oats.

BUENA VISTA.
Jerry Whitesman and bride have been over from Sidney.

The American Farmer the Best in the World.
The American farmer is the greatest man in the world today, because he is master of the soil—he is gaining in intelligence quite as rapidly as his products are increasing in magnitude. Our recent combines of capital in United States measured in money are enormous, yet such figures sink into insignificance when compared to the money, brain and brawn invested in agricultural industries. For instance, the farmers of Minnesota and Dakota have received $300,000,000 for their products in a single year. The farmer knows what Nature will bring forth for him from his experience in the past. He knows if certain seeds are planted and properly cared for that Nature will take care of the rest. In the same way you are master of your own destiny. Providing your blood is in good order, it only needs a little effort on your own part to keep healthy and strong—rid your body of the poisons that are apt to accumulate and your system is ready to ward off the attack of the germs of disease. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes rich red blood—by increasing the number of red blood corpuscles. There is no alcohol in this great tonic to shroud up the red blood corpuscles. As an alternative extract, made only of herbs and roots it gets about its work in natural way. It stimulates the liver into proper action, and feeds the worn-out nerves, stomach and heart on pure blood. Used for over a third of a century it has sold more largely than any other blood medicine in the United States. More bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery are sold to-day than ever before. That is a true test of its medicinal value after thirty-eight years of deserved popularity. Dr. Pierce's "Medical Advertiser" sent on receipt of stamps to pay for mailing only. Send at once-cent stamps for book in paper covers, or 25 stamps for cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

FOR HUMAN RIGHTS.

WHAT TRADES UNIONS HAVE DONE FOR MANKIND.
Greatest Movement in the Interest of Liberty the World Has Ever Known—hope it holds out to the Worker.
Undoubtedly there is a movement on foot—in fact, it is here—to have the trade union movement in the world all along the line. While the trade union movement does not owe nor does it offer any apology for its existence, yet a word in its defense at this time will not be entirely out of order. It is only right and proper that we defend our movement—the greatest one the world has ever known—in the interest of human rights and human liberty. To create all the beneficial acts that the organization has accomplished would be impossible.
It has paid out millions upon millions of dollars to its members in sick pay, accident, out of work benefits and paid them at a time when they were most needed. It has shortened hours, raised wages on rising markets and has fought, not entirely successfully, but is still fighting, against child slavery, which results in stunted women and crippled children.
The organized labor movement has been to its logical conclusions means for the future a race of degenerates. But the greatest of all its achievements has been the character among its membership, for with character comes intelligence, and with intelligence comes the desired object of the future.
These things have not been brought about in a short time. We have been progressing slowly, but who will say not surely. Of course the trades unionists have been called upon from time to time to make sacrifices, but they have responded nobly. The fundamental and cardinal principles of our movement were written in the chambers of justice, but they have been sealed by the consciousness of its members. In the past history of the world all great reforms have had their martyrs, and the organized labor movement has been no exception.
The labor problem of today is unquestionably the question of humanity. It touches at a very vital point of human society. I believe we all are agreed that to settle this problem satisfactorily we must settle it ourselves. Our chief opponents—the employing class—desiring to have it settled in their way, now ask for the disruption of the trades unions. Supposing that every labor organization in the country would go out of business tomorrow morning, would it be a lasting benefit to the employing class? I claim not—decidedly not—for this reason, that the organized labor movement is a disciplined movement; it controls its members and is able to keep them in check; it has taught them the better way, the way of reason, and the capitalist class having, under our present system of production and distribution, the power to fix the price of the necessities of life, and with no organization of labor to contend with, would certainly insist upon hammering down wages, thereby causing the individual worker to stand upon his own resources and try to remedy his condition in his own peculiar way. What would be the result? Nothing short of anarchy. The worker would lose not only his efficiency, but his self respect, if left entirely alone to shift for himself as an individual, for the day of individualism is past. This is the age of combination.
Now, the trades unions hold out to the workers some hope not only for the present, but the future. It teaches them if they would enjoy life they must have proper food, rainment, sanitary conditions, etc., and the way to get these necessities is zealously to guard their own interests and get as large a share of that which they produce as possible under the best conditions. But as trades unionists we do not necessarily stop there. No one, I believe, has a sole patent on the movement.
As we progress new ambitions will come to us, new hopes will spring up, and it is absolutely certain that from time to time we must change our tactics to correspond with changes which are continually going on in the industrial world. We have no hard and fast rules which we are obliged to follow, and it is possible and fol-
