A PLUCKY LIEUTENANT.

He Was Insubordinate, but He Saved His Vessel.

Reuben Pinkham, a native of Nantucket, made his first trip as third lieutenant on the ship Potomac, which crossed the north Pacific, a region little known to naval vessels in the early thirties.

"What's that for?" asked the commodore.

"The commodore went to the lee rail and scanned the naval vessels in the distance with a telescope. "Let the men leave the braces."

"Let the men leave the braces," and again the braces were dropped.

"Don't any of you dare to drop the ropes!" shouted Pinkham, shaking his trumpet at the crew, who once more took hold. Just then the wind dropped entirely, not a breath stirred.

"Taut, taut! Haul, all of you!" called Pinkham, and the ponderous yards swung to reversed position.

The vessel staggered, shook the spray from her bows and dashed ahead. The commodore disappeared into his cabin without saying a word.

Presently he sent the first lieutenant to relieve Pinkham, requesting to see the latter immediately. When Pinkham entered the cabin the commodore said:

"I considered that I am indebted to you for all of our lives; but I will tell you frankly if that wind hadn't come I should have put you in irons in two minutes."

KOREAN CURIOSITIES.

The Koreans love medicine. The rich take pills of incredible size and richly gilded.

There are no bankruptcy courts in Korea. Once a Korean contracts a debt he can never shake from it.

Korea is the only country where the marriage certificate is equally divided, one half being given to the husband, the other to the wife.

Every Korean husband is answerable for the conduct of his wife. Should she break any of the ordinary laws he must suffer in her stead.

The most important duty of every housewife in Korea is to keep a perpetual fire, which is sacred to the dead ancestors of the household.

No Korean may go upon the roof of his house, not even to repair a leak, without legal permission and without giving due notice to all his neighbors.

Paper enters largely into the construction of every Korean house. The interior is lined with paper. It has a paper roof, paper floor cloth and paper walls.

The Number Ten. In arithmetic everything goes by tens. Sociologists trace the human liking for that number to the "pentadigitate" or five fingered limb, which is a characteristic feature of the entire vertebrate family.

A frog would stomp to the decidual system for just the reasons that impel human beings. Even a horse, which has only one finger and toe on each foot, has limits in his anatomy which show that his ancestors had the pentadigitate arrangement. Biologists are much interested to consider how the number evolved was five. Why not four, five or six or more? Somehow, more than five would appear to be rather more than one brain could give independent attention to, while five are more useful than four.

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in coarser form than Theford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry.

It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

See Jacobson's ad for World's Fair contest vote.

Over-Work Weakens Your Kidneys.

Unhealthy Kidneys Make Impure Blood.

All the blood in your body passes through your kidneys once every three minutes.

The kidneys are your blood purifiers. They filter out the waste or impurities in the blood. If they are sick or out of order, they fail to do their work.

Pains, aches and rheumatism come from excess of uric acid in the blood, due to neglected kidney trouble.

Kidney trouble causes quick or unsteady heart beats, and makes one feel as though they had heart trouble, because the heart is over-worked in pumping thick, kidney-poisoned blood through veins and arteries.

It used to be considered that only urinary troubles were to be traced to the kidneys, but now modern science proves that nearly all constitutional diseases have their beginning in kidney trouble.

If you are sick you can make no mistake by first doctoring your kidneys. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases.

It is sold in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail. Send 10c to find out if you have kidney or bladder trouble. Mention this paper when writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y.

Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y. on every bottle.

Jimmie Youkum and sister did not like southern California, so came back and he has leased the Molson top yard.

In Case of Accident. Accidents will happen. Mother strains her back lifting a sofa. Father is hurt in the shop. Children are forever falling and hurting themselves.

There is no preventing these things, but their worst consequences are averted with Perry Davis' Pain-killer. Lo other remedy approaches it for the relief of sore strained muscles. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'.

Write this Down. In the book of memory. There is no such thing as a harmless cough. Every cough is a warning of a confidence that goes from bad to worse unless it is remedied right away.

HIS SHOW WAS OVER.

The Way an Entertainer Snubbed a Snobbish Patron.

An Englishwoman of decidedly snobbish instincts, but socially intrenched behind great and new riches, once engaged the late Corney Grain to give an entertainment at her country house.

She left instructions that the entertainer when he arrived was to dine with the servants. The butler, who knew better, apologized, but Corney was a man not easily disconcerted, wrote Jerome K. Jerome. He dined well and after dinner rose and addressed the assembled company.

"Well, now, my good friends," said he, "if we have all finished and if you are all agreeable I shall be pleased to present to you my little show."

The servants cheered. The piano was dispensed with, and Corney continued to amuse his audience very well for half an hour without it.

At 10 o'clock came down a message. Would Mr. Corney Grain kindly come up into the drawing room? Corney went. The company in the drawing room were waiting, seated.

"We are quite ready, Mr. Grain," remarked the hostess. "Ready for what?" demanded Corney courteously.

"For your entertainment," answered the hostess. "But I've given it already," explained Corney, and my engagement was for one performance only.

"Given it! Where? When?" "An hour ago—downstairs."

"But this is nonsense!" exclaimed the hostess. "It seemed to me somewhat extraordinary," Corney replied, "but it has always been my privilege to dine with the company I am asked to entertain. I took it you had arranged a little treat for the servants."
