can be raised profitably only in soil containing plenty of Potash. All vegetables require a fertilizer containing at least 10 per cent actual Potash.

Without Potash no fertilizer is complete, and failure will follow its use.

Every farmer should have our valuable books on fertilizers—they are not advertising matter, but books of authoritative information that mean large profits to the farmer. Sent free for the asking.

The telephone switchboard at Lewisville is at the home of A. A. Linderman whose wife is in charge and gives perfect satisfaction.

The ladies should go to Pollock's cash store and examine the latest in shoes just now received. Ask to see the low shoes and dress shoes which are extra neat and very durable.

Go and see the new bath tubs, sinks, lavatories and fittings for latest styles of plumbing at Wagner's shop where you will find an up-to-date plumber.

Mr. Boise, an engineer, who went from here to Louisiana several years ago, is back and his family are coming. He says that country is far inferior to this as a home.

The Dallas switchboard company of which R. E. Williams is president and H. L. Fenton secretary will meet in the latter's office at 1 o'clock next Monday for the transaction of business.

It is just as important that parents train their children to habits of industry at home as to have them taught in school. Some Dallas boys and girls seem to never have anything to do at home and are too often seen loafing along the streets.

President Lee, of Albany college, has resigned to become assistant pastor of a Presbyterian church in Seattle. His resignation will take effect at the end of the term. He has been connected with the school for 19 years, the last ten years as president.

J. W. Lewis, who recently died at Oak Grove, had been a member of the Methodist church for over 35 years and had been for many years superintendent of the Sunday school there. Not many men have lived over sixty with so pure a life record as Mr. Lewis made.

Vaughn & Weaver, the plumbers, tinners and hardware men, keep both tubs in stock and do all manner of plumbing. They can supply pumps and windmills on short notice. The ware in stock and made to order. Stoves of various kinds, galvanized gutter for hanging eaves troughs, saws, axes, nails and wedges for wood cutters.

Two fir trees that Mrs. Frank Rowlett set out in the front yard of her father, Isaac Levens, some forty years ago when she was a child, have just been cut down.

Miss Rosa Smith, who is teaching at Periyale, has received a state life diploma and state certificate as a teacher from Miss M. L. Hampton.

Dr. M. FERRY & Co., of Monmouth, and Miss Vestella Sears, of Balltown.

Because some special advertising failed to bring expected results, some merchants jump at the conclusion that no advertising pays. A large majority of the best business men in the world positively assert that advertising does pay.

J. C. White, I. M. Robinson, G. Wise and L. A. Williamson, of Oak Grove grange, and Marion Smith, Mrs. C. E. Staats and Mrs. I. M. Simpson, of Monagrango, met last week and chose Mr. Williamson as a delegate to the state grange which meets at Forest Grove in April.

Towns all up and down the valley are being cleaned up and freshened with point so as to be more attractive to the many tourists and home seekers that will come during the spring and summer. Dallas can be made to look as well as any of them if everybody will get a move on.

The play Trial by Jury at the city hall last Friday evening drew a large and appreciative audience. Nearly all the characters were our home people and their acting drew closer attention than would that of strangers. Many of them displayed better stage talent than do the average traveling troupes.

The rural mail route running west from Amity has been so changed that it instead of going north from Benton Flagers it runs east through Ferrydale, and on by the old Townsend and V. N. "skik" place, back to Amity. None on the old line are missed and nearly a dozen more families are accommodated.

Henry Browns home a mile out on the Salem road was completely destroyed by fire last Friday afternoon. No one was at home and nothing was saved. The house contained eight furnished rooms and the probable loss is $1,000. As no fire was left in the stove, the cause is a mystery. He will rebuild. The place was part of the Solomon Shilton donation claim which W. C. Brown bought many years ago.

H. A. Thomas has sold to E. L. Harris 100 acres of ground near Oak Grove for $1,500.

Paul Hunter, of Falls City, is learning the watchmakers trade at the Harris jewelry store.

Too many people are inclined to spend their earnings for pleasure instead of laying some of it up for a rainy day. The most thrifty people always save or invest a good part of what they make.

The most successful merchants are invariably liberal advertisers. They keep desirable things at fair prices and let the public know it. Almost invariably advertising brings far more than its cost.

Pro-bitory will convene here April 11 for a two days session. Rev. Mount, of Eugene, will preach the opening sermon on Tuesday evening. The Presbyterian ladies society will meet at the same time and place. Three missionaries are expected to be present, one from India, one from Corea and one from Neah Bay.

A normal school football team came down Saturday to lick a lot of Dallas players but went home with a Dallas victory. The team was in the favor of our boys. The county seat team were: Clyde Reynolds, Floyd Myer, Glenn Grant, Dr. Toney, Chester Gates, Alva Morton, Edgar Craven, Jack Sibley and Joe Craven.

The miles of western Oregon, formed a club about a year ago and last week held their annual meeting at Albany. D. L. Keyt, of Perrydale, is president of the club and other members present from this county were W. T. Hoffman, of Independence, J. K. Sears, of McCoy, Frank Gibson and W. E. Simonon, of Rick-reall.

Nasal catarrh quickly yields to treatment by Ely's Cream Balm, which is agreeably aromatic. It is received through the nostrils, cleanses and heats the whole surface over which it diffuses itself. A remedy for nasal catarrh which is drying or exciting to diseased membrane should not be used. Cream Balm is recognized as a specific. Price 50 cents at druggists, or by mail. A cold in the head immediately disappears when Cream Balm is used. Ely Brothers, 56 Warren St., New York.

Care of Young Horses.
Colts of the heavy draft breeds are put into hard work oftentimes too soon merely because they are large and have the appearance of strength, says American Cultivator. The heavy horse is soft, and the muscles are not closely knit. The three-year-old can do a lot of work without injury, but it must be work that demands no severe straining. It is with even more diff. culty that the four-year-old is kept in good condition when worked continuously. Light work demanding no strain is all that can be done safely by the heavy, loose jointed horse until it is five years old.

Brood Sows.
Wheat middlings made into a slop with milk makes a good milk producing food for a sow that is milking a litter of pigs. A sow kept for a breeder should always be made so fat when young as to be easily handled at any time that it may be necessary. The health of the sow and the growth of her pigs will depend very much upon the treatment given at the time of farrowing. The best sows at least should have the run of a good clover pasture, as it is never advisable to confine them to a dry grain diet when it can well be avoided.

Millionaire Fire Fighters.
A number of millionaires who live in one of the Philadelphia suburbs have formed a fire department of their own and are to build an engine house and fully equip it with all the necessary up to date apparatus at their own expense. They will employ a large fire company and so protect their own summer homes. Among the members of the organization are John Wann, pastor, P. A. B. Wildener and G. A. Barney.

Dealing With Tramps.
The city of Colby, Kan., had 1600 tickets printed and distributed among the housewives of the town. The tickets are good for one meal when counter-signed by the city marshal. When a hobo appears at the back door and asks for a handout he is given one of these tickets, which the marshal will redeem for two hours' work on the streets. Unless the tramp follows this procedure he goes hungry in Colby.

Alms.
Some must take and others pay. Some until the judgment day. Solitary, waiting stay— Thus the world's unchanging way Since the world began.

Men there are who never slip Warm red wine of fellowship, Fearing let the cup pass by. While another drains it dry. Gaily used, gayly breaks What his brother's heart blood makes Since the world began.

Men there are with songs unsung, Strains that never escape the tongue; Broken plans and dreams that lie Hidden from the careless eye; Secret, passionate, deep unshared, Undeveloped, thwarted, blind— Thus the world's unchanging way Since the world began.

Shall such some day rise and take Meed denied by earth's mistake? No more waiting, spurned of fate Shall they come, though it be late. And by strange paths to their own. No more despised failures known— On some other kinder shore, Alms nevermore? —London Outlook.

PUBLIC SALE OF NORMAN PERCHERON HORSES
At Walla Walla, Washington, On Tuesday, March 28, 1905.

On this date, H. C. Lowery, a farmer and importer of horses, of Nevada, Iowa, will sell a palace car load of strictly gilt edge registered stallions. They are an extra lot of colts, coming two to three years old, excepting two imported horses coming five years old. One of these is Grassrocker, No. 11,398, black, weighing 1350, who has been kept at the head of our stud for the past two years, a grand breeder, and used on our own imported mares; is good enough to win a medal from the great Percheron society of France, which medal goes with the horse on day of sale. The young horses are American bred and out of the best mares I could find in France on my various trips, and the descendants of some of the most illustrious sires, such as Brilliant, 755, Voltaire, French Monarch and Jean le Blanc.

I have been raising and importing horses for 25 years, importing during that time over 600 head, and crossing the ocean 22 times in the business. I dispose of my horses either at private sale or public auction on my farm, never employing men to organize companies, as I do not like the idea of giving away hundreds of dollars to prominent men to work their neighbors into a company, wherein the horse is sold at twice or three times his real value. I am aware that some people think good horses are never offered at auction, but I will state that I have profitably sold importations direct from France, and the very best to be had there, at public sale. I have furnished the breeding stallion used by the state at the Iowa agricultural college at Ames for the past four years, and this is proof of the quality of my horses. These horses will be sold on a years time. Buyer must give good bankable note, bearing 8 per cent; or 4 per cent discount for cash. If dissatisfied with the quality of this offering, I will refund your railroad fare on application. References: Iowa agricultural college, Ames, Iowa; Farmers' bank, Nevada, Iowa; or First National bank, Nevada, Iowa. I am a director in both the National Norman and Percheron societies. Write for catalogue giving full particulars. H. C. LOWERY, Nevada, Iowa.
