The law forbids pool playing, at races, because it is gambling and race course men say it won't pay without betting. It is far better to quit racing than to make gamblers of men and boys.

By counting the number of different news items, in this or any other issue of the Itemizer, you will find it to be more newsy than you had thought. Who will make such a count and report the result.

Rev. Wm. Stewart a Chicago Presbyterian minister and wife have been here visiting his cousin D. P. Stouffer and Miss Bertha Earnest is here from Kansas with her cousins, John Richter and his sister Mrs. Stouffer.

The Sunday excursion trains to Newport were never so well patronized. They always carry from 300 to 400 passengers. The Newport and Nye Creek hotels are full to say nothing of the numerous cottagers and campers.

On account of the pastures drying up nearly all creameries are now making less butter than usual and prices have gone up. As a large quantity of eastern eggs having been dumped on Portland markets this week prices have gone down.

Dallas has many attractive yards because of trestle industry and plenty of water. But some families with plenty of spare time utterly neglect their surroundings. Children raised in sloven homes are apt to become sloven house keepers.

The Portland fruit inspector is now having his hands full. Every morning he goes to the markets and other places where fruit is sold, in search of diseased or infected fruit. With in a week he has confiscated and had destroyed several tons of fruit, some having been shipped in from California.

Nearly all the present prune crops around Dallas, have been disposed of, the green ones at from 40 to 50 cents a bushel. Mr. Ward of Newburg will handle most of the dried fruit, selling it at the best figure possible and turning over to the owners all the proceeds except five per cent. commission. Prunes will command better price this season than last.

Carl Gerlinger, who is engineer on the railroad to Falls City served an apprenticeship of four years in Germany and then worked in machine shops there for four years. Besides that he is a steamship engineer and during six years of such work he was in all parts of the world. He is now putting in good trim the mogul engine received from Portland and in a few days it will go into service while the other engine is being over hauled.

Scrofula

Few are entirely free from it. It may develop so slowly as to cause little if any disturbance during the whole period of childhood.

It may then produce irregularity of the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, catarrh and marked tendency to consumption before manifesting itself in much cutaneous eruption or glandular swelling.

It is best to be sure that you are quite free from it, and for its complete eradication you can rely on HIGHWAY BRIDGES.

POINTS TO BE CONSIDERED IN THEIR CONSTRUCTION.

Steel-Concrete the Best Material to Use, Says Professor Mason-Bridges Should Be Built For the Future as Well as the Present.

Today, when a community is looked upon as decidedly behind the times and blind to its own interests if it can afford, and when it looks beyond the first cost in deciding this question it should make an effort to have the most prominent features in harmony. It should consider the beauty of its highway bridges as an important adjunct to its "good roads movement," writes Professor Mason, consulting engineer in Good Roads Magazine.

Most of us have unfortunately come to consider beauty as a luxury, and generally an expensive one. Hence,

STEEL-CONCRETE BRIDGE, PLAINWELL, MICH.

When a beautiful bridge is suggested we take alarm at the cost and are apt to decide offhand that the older type without its good appearance is well enough.

This is a phase of the subject that is very pertinent, whether it should be dispensed or not. It is only by reason of this careful consideration of cost that our country is able to compete with European countries in the construction of bridges in foreign dependencies. It has been said that any fool could build a bridge if he had money enough, but it takes an engineer to do it economically.

This matter of cost has compelled us to limit the construction of stone arch bridges to a very small number and to put in their place a metal truss of straight lines and sharp angles. It is not that we have failed to appreciate the beauty of the curved arches, but rather that we could not afford the luxury when we needed so many of them.

Thirty years ago our bridge builders were crying the need of reform as to aesthetic design, but had to offer us in place of those decorations only the simplicity and harmonious construction of a well built truss suitably painted, and there can be no doubt that great improvement has been made.

The sheet iron abutments which covered up the outside of the truss and which were what Ruskin would have called "constructed decorations" have been abandoned, and the bridge is left to depend for its beauty on the noble lines of strength and the general symmetry of its construction.

As progress has been made in the building of our roads so have we moved forward in the design of our bridges. For many centuries cement and broken stone have been used to replace the expensive cut stone in arch construction, but only recently have we succeeded in constructing a difficult long recognized. Concrete is a building material generally accepted when it is to be subjected only to a compressive force. It lacks sufficient strength if any pull or tension is applied. This fact has so limited its use in the use of concrete that only in rare instances has it been economical to use it in bridge construction.

A feature that requires careful consideration in the design of any engineering structure is the effect of the changes in temperature upon the material used. The fact that steel and concrete are affected in the same way and to the same extent by heat first suggested their use in combination. This idea has been developed now to such an extent that we are able to use the steel to resist the tension in one structure and the concrete to take care of the compression and to so design the whole that there will be a sufficient amount of each material and yet no expensive waste. We have found the stone arch too expensive and the steel truss lacking in beauty. Combine the two, and the result is the steel-concrete arch having the requisites as to beauty and comparing very favorably as to cost.

When one is considering the construction of a bridge several points should be considered.

First—That it shall answer the utilitarian purpose for which it is wanted.

Second—It should be a monument to the progressive ideas of the community and serve as an education and an inspiration to others.

Third—It should be built for the future as well as the present, and its permanence should be assured.

These can all be met by the use of steel concrete.

One of the difficulties in the design of a steel truss is so to arrange the details as to afford ready access to all the parts for painting. And with the best this is impossible where two pieces come into contact. This trouble does not exist with the steel-concrete bridge. The steel is not painted and hence can be readily inspected. It is entirely imbedded in concrete, which has been proved to be a perfect protection to the steel. Unpainted steel has been found imbedded in concrete after many years as bright and clean as ever.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

THE GREAT FAMILY MEDICINE

Theodore's Black-Draught comes nearer regulating the entire system and keeping the body in health than any other medicine made. It is always ready in any emergency to treat ailments that are frequent in any family, such as indigestion, biliousness, colds, diarrhoea, and stomach aches.

Theodore's Black-Draught is the standard, never-failing remedy for stomach, bowel, liver and kidney troubles. It is a cure for the domestic ills which so frequently summon the doctor. It is good for children as it is for grown persons. A dose of this medicine every day will soon cure the most obstinate case of dyspepsia or constipation, and when taken as directed brings quick relief.

DANVILLE, ILL., Dec. 25, 1895.

Theodore's Black-Draught has been our family doctor for five years and we have taken a dose and are all right in twelve hours. We have used it of money for doctor bills, but got along just as well with Black-Draught. ILL. H. BADEM.

Ask your dealer for a package of Theodore's Black-Draught and if he does not keep it send $5. to The Chatterbox Medicine Co., 1000 Broadway, New York, and a package will be mailed to you.
