For some time it has been recognized by all that the Starlin drug store was forging far ahead in the matter of popularity and patronage. In fact this store has long enjoyed the major portion of the trade tributary to this city. Their courtesy to all, carefulness in preparing prescriptions, excellent goods and fair prices, have aided materially in bringing this about.

Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Coad Celebrate Their Twentieth Anniversary.

On last Saturday evening the cozy home of Postmaster and Mrs. Coad was well filled with old time friends of theirs, anxious to commemorate by an evening of social enjoyment the fact of their having lived together for twenty long years without a cloud to darken the matrimonial atmosphere. A number of their old friends, now living elsewhere, were unable to be present, but sent their congratulations in substantial and handsome form. The double parlors and other rooms of the residence were pleasantly and artistically decorated, the autumn leaves now so plentiful and of so many tints of color proving most enchanting to the eye. The dining room received probably the most attention from all those present, as there were displayed the many beautiful and costly pieces of china tendered the 20-year-old married couple as symbols of esteem and love by their many friends. Some of the presents were sent out, and a great majority responded--in fact all who were not kept away for urgent reasons.

During the evening Mrs. T. J. Warren and Mr. F. H. Morrison sang some pleasing and popular songs, and each one was not left with one performance. Mrs. W. C. Cook and Miss Olive Smith were the piano accompanists. Mrs. D. J. Allen, Mr. J. H. Allen, Mr. H. C. Eakin, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Coad, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Coad, Mr. and Mrs. E. C.
