Your Duty is to Be Well.

But you cannot be well if you neglect taking Hood's Sarsaparilla when you know you should take it. Impure blood, poor appetite, headache, nervousness, that tired feeling—by these and other signs your system demands Hood's. Get a bottle today.

Clow of Health.—My blood was very poor. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla I have more color in my face, sleep and eat well, and work is a pleasure. Mrs. A. A. Howard, Thomson, Miss.

In Worst Form.—I had entered in the worst form and was advised to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I took seven bottles and am now in good health. I hope everyone who has their health will give Hood's a fair trial. Mrs. William Metcalf, Parkersburg, Pa.

Always Praiseworthy.—I first took Hood's Sarsaparilla 12 years ago, and always stuck in favor of it. H. Conwell, 227 Perry Street, Lowell, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold everywhere. In the usual liquid, or in tablet form called Sarsatabs, 100 Doses One Dollar. Prepared only by C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

President Roosevelt is trying to keep the Republican party close to the people we are informed. It has always been kept close enough to "touch them" whenever necessary.

The endorsement of Bryan as their candidate for president was what was to be expected of the democratic state committee which met in Portland last Saturday. He is the only available man for the place, as events have shaped themselves lately, and if it were not for the interests there would be no doubt of his election, no matter who was nominated by the opposing party. He holds a high place in the hearts of the American people, who know him to be capable, fearless in the assertion and performance of what he thinks right, and not subservient to the dictates of any organization or set of men. Mr. G. W. Myer represented Polk county at the meeting, and describes it as a lovefeast of congenial souls. The state convention will be held in Portland on April 1st.

It does us good to this week nearly announce for a certainty that Dallas is soon to have a fruit cannery, an institution that we have labored long and earnestly for. We were certain that were the ball once set in motion it would be an easy thing to secure the stock necessary for its installment. Upon the committee's first report this was found to be true as over $400 was then subscribed without solicitation, and in the little time at their disposal since the committee have secured enough to make it an assured fact. The grave question now is having enough fruit to run it during the season. More fruit must be planted in order to keep it busy during the years to come. The adding of a vegetable canning plant will also make necessary much more attention being paid to that industry. We have no doubt that both the fruit and vegetables will be forthcoming just as soon as the matter is definitely set led, in fact several of our near farmers say they are willing to put out a large acreage just as soon as they are assured they can dispose of the output.

The Itemizer placed a bid with the county court last Saturday for the publishing of the delinquent tax roll. The price asked was that which we charge for all our legal advertising, and which allows us a fair price for our labor and is justified by our circulation. The court turned it down as being in excess of the rate fixed by law for such publication. Mr. Keston, of the West Side-Enterprise, also put in his bid at the regular rate charged. Mr. Hayter did not bid, and it now looks as if the court were up against it. The present management of the Itemizer is not making out prices on job work or advertising. We are always glad to get such patronage, but are not going to make any sliding scale of prices. The work is worth every cent we ask, and an editor should not more submit to this continual effort to jaw down what he has to sell, than would a reputable merchant. It is to be hoped that the newspaper fraternity as a whole will soon begin to realize the value of the commodity they have for sale and abstain from continually endeavoring to cut their own throats.

It is certain that the most important matter to be enacted into law by the present session of congress, will be what is called an "emergency financial measure." At the present time the currency of the country now consists substantially of gold, silver and bank notes backed by government bonds. When a national bank buys a lump of government bonds, say $100,000, they can deposit these bonds with the treasury department, and the treasury then issues and turns over to the bank $100,000. Now it is proposed to accept other than government bonds as a basis for bank circulation, such as state and municipal bonds. The fact is still other securities ought to be accepted, such as valuable securities as Standard Oil, Pennsylvania Railroad, New York Central, Louisville and Nashville stock and others of like quality ought to be accepted at half their market value, as a basis of collateral security for circulation. The bill now receiving the thought of congress will charge 7 and probably 8 per cent interest, to those banks, using such circulation, but not when government bonds are given. It is the idea to make the interest so heavy as to cause the retirement of this kind of currency as soon as the financial stringency is over. The proposed rate is entirely too high, it ought not to be over 6 per cent, for that is a high rate for large sums of money, but it is well known that Wall Street does not want to make their money too elastic, for they have a grip on the throat of the finances of this country that is not easy to throw off, and they do not want too much money in the country.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

Prevalence of Kidney Disease. Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalence of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last to be noticed. The most common symptoms are backache, urinary passage, and the presence of blood and pus in the urine. These symptoms are often mistaken for rheumatism, and the patient is treated accordingly, with disastrous results. The only reliable remedy is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts directly on the kidneys, and restores them to their normal condition.

This woman says that she was troubled with kidney trouble for several years. She had been treated by many doctors, but nothing helped. She then tried Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking a few bottles, she felt much better. She continued to take it, and in a few weeks she was completely cured. She now feels as well as ever, and is able to do all her usual work.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulcerations, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness or nervous prostration. Why don't you try it? Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

THE WORST EVER.

The Ashland Bunch Not in It With Dallas. The crack Dallas college basketball aggregation defeated the team from Ashland Normal school here Saturday night by the overwhelming score of 88 to 6. This score is believed to be the largest ever made by a basketball team in the northwest, in a regular contest. In the first part of the game the collegians did not exert much effort in throwing baskets, and at the end of the first half the score stood 29 to 6 in favor of Dallas, the teachers getting two goals from the field. In the last half, Dallas commenced throwing baskets at will, making a total of 59 points to a zero for Ashland. Craven, the crack forward, threw twenty field baskets, Shaw 19, Fontenot and Savory 2. The game was clean and free from roughness, very few fouls being called. The Ashland boys are gentlemanly players but have apparently only a vague idea of how basketball should be played. They would have made only ordinary opponents for the collegians second team. Since December 10, the beginning of the basketball season, Dallas college has played seven regular games, winning every one by heavy margins. They have made a total of 331 points to their opponents' 88. Their only rival for the state championship last year was the team from Corvallis, and the collegians met and defeated this team last month by a score of 43 to 11.

CIRCUIT COURT DOCKET.

Judge Burnett Holds Extremely Short Session. Monday morning Judge Burnett opened department 2 of our circuit court for the extra session called. Hardy Holman was appointed bailiff of the court. No grand jury was drafted. After running over the docket adjournment was taken until 1 o'clock when the jurors were discharged, and the court adjourned for the term. It was surely a record-breaking of our circuit court, the whole time occupied in session not exceeding one hour. These cases were disposed of as follows:

Burnett, J.
B. J. Bowen vs. Howard Goodfellow and A. Goodfellow, action on note; John Payne for plaintiff, F. A. Turner for defendant.—Continued.

NOTHING TO HINDER.

Now Nearly a Certainty That Dallas Will Have A Cannery. Last Saturday the Polk County Horticultural society met in Dallas for the purpose of hearing a report from the committee appointed to look into the matter of establishing a cannery at Dallas. The meeting was also called with the expectation of a cannery promoter from Portland being present and making a proposition, as stated in a previous issue of the Itemizer. However, he was busy making initial arrangements for the opening of a cannery at Dallas and did not show up. This was probably for the best as the majority of our people seem to be of the opinion that it is wise for Dallas to put in her own cannery and thus save the fat perquisites that would naturally accrue to a promoter. The meeting was called to order by H. G. Campbell, who was elected chairman of the meeting. Mr. M. E. Ells then read to the committee a letter from C. I. Lewis, of the agricultural college, dealing with the cannery proposition. Mr. Ells had written Mr. Lewis, who is accepted as quite an authority in such matters, asking his advice as to the best way to get things done in the matter. Mr. Lewis advised that we cut out all promoters and put in a cannery on our own hook, saying that we could do it just as well and save a whole lot of money. He gave several instances coming under his observation to prove his assertion. Chairman Campbell made a report for the cannery committee, and read a letter from Mr. J. C. Bruehler, of Portland, regarding the installing of a cannery. Mr. J. G. Van Orsdel made a few remarks and urged the need of canning vegetables as well as fruit. He also wanted installed a prune processing and packing plant. As it now is, it is necessary for all our prune crop to be shipped away for the final process and the packing. Mr. Van Orsdel said this might just as well be done here and the grower receive from 2 to 3 cents more a pound for his crop, instead of this money going to outside parties. The small item of 2 cents on every pound of prunes grown in this vicinity would make an immense sum in the whole crop that would be saved for home distribution.

AN OLD RESIDENT

Writes Uncle Bill Brown of 20 Years Ago.

Florida, Arizona, Jan. 11, 1908. Mr. W. C. Brown, My dear old friend: I was just reading last evening in the Itemizer of your Christmas kindness to the poor and especially to the kids, which warmed me toward you. Although only a laborer myself, my means being limited, I have established a reputation here for kindness to the children. I see you gave a good lot of the money to spend a few dollars each month with them. I have a whole bunch of little girls, ranging in age from 5 to 12 years, who receive my bounty. Having no children of my own, I am thus enabled to love and cherish the children of my fellow man. Uncle Bill, there is nothing on earth that pays a man better income on an investment, than kindness and brotherly love—disinterested kindness which asks for nothing in return. I expect, really, I owe much in the forming of character to the most moral philosophy I used to hear you expound around the stove in the old Red Brick at Dallas in '82 and '83. One thing sure I formed a high opinion of you then which has always been with me. You took my father's name into old Friendship No. 6, L. O. O. F., when I was a mere boy, and he had the same thing for me when I was 21. My father, Wash Riggs, has been dead ever since. My mother, Mrs. Jan. W. Haas, is living here, hale and hearty at the age of 73 years. She saddles her own horse and mounts him unassisted and rides over a rough mountain trail to town four miles and back, going very frequently. She does all her house work and gets around out of doors more than lots of young women.

This is probably the greatest old people's country in the world. There are more old men and women strong and vigorous than anywhere I ever saw. Men are earning a living by labor here at 70 years of age, and old folks here have been working for wages here for over three months at $3.50 a day. He had over $30 saved up, and now he is off on a spree blowing it in for booze at the age of 78 years. There is more drunkenness in a mining country than anywhere else. The temperance lesson I learned in Dallas has always clung to me. Although not a total abstainer my record and reputation is that of sobriety, morality and decency. I am now in a country where as boy and man I have been known for 33 years, and can point to my reputation with satisfaction.

I am engaged at present in turquoise mining. Am in charge of the Los Angeles City's mine here. I had previously been in charge of the South Western's mine. My married life was unfortunate. We separated over three years ago. I quietly stepped out and gave up all I had and took down the O. & C. R. R. track on foot, a horse with only a few dollars between me and fate. I lived at the time in Josephine county. I walked one stretch over 100 miles, rode a blind and a freight train or two, reached Chico, went to work, and earned enough to buy me a ticket here, an extra change of clothes and $5 in cash. I use by the reality transfers in the country that my wife has sold the ranch we had.

That is twice I have given away my interest in a ranch. The last interest in the place I had on Ford Creek with Weaver, I gave to my brother. I am contented and happy, have a little cash in Chicago, and when not away at work I keep "bach," living the life of a recluse and celibate, have some ponies and a little wagon, saddle and pack saddles, tent, camp kit and several guns and revolvers, and I camp about the land by times. Am getting a few dollars laid by each month, and I have no expensive habits. My health is good and, nothing interfering, I have separated forever. It is good to see I have no selfish aims, no ambition to gratify, just to live and let live, and if able, help others to do the same. I was delighted to know you were still in the land of the living and the same kind-hearted, jolly soul you used to be. I see you gave a good lot of the money to spend a few dollars each month with them. I have a whole bunch of little girls, ranging in age from 5 to 12 years, who receive my bounty. Having no children of my own, I am thus enabled to love and cherish the children of my fellow man.
