

MAMMA'S GIRL ~ DADDY'S BOY

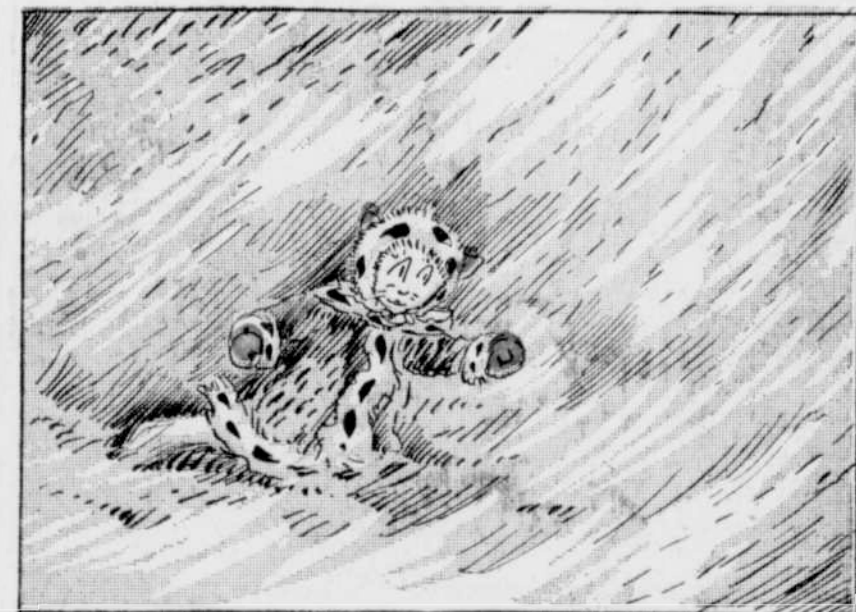

PINKIE PRIM

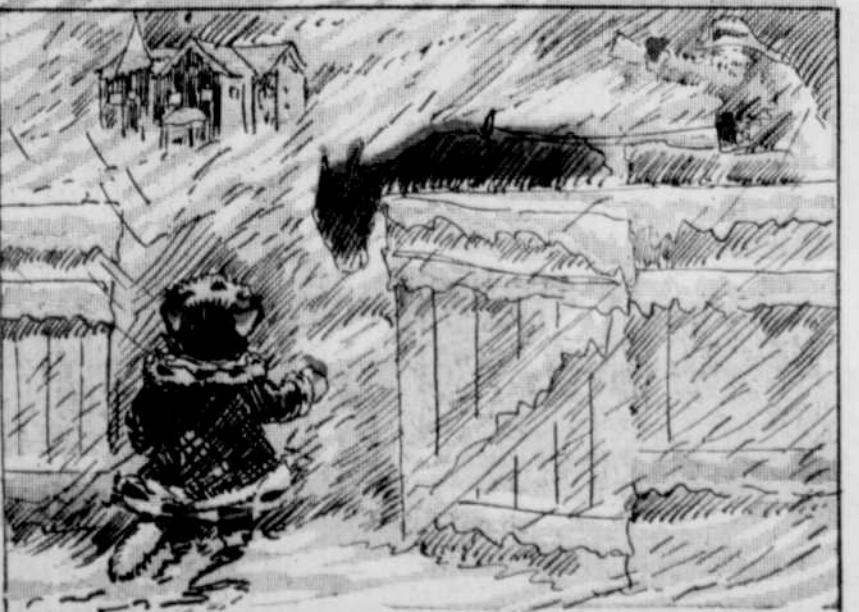

Three-hundred-and-sixty-four days
The paper came all right.
Three-hundred-and-sixty-fifth day
(Twas edging on towards night,)

"I wonder why the paper's late!"
Did Mrs. Prim remark;
"It's going onto five o'clock,
And soon it will be dark!"

Said Pinkie, "To the gate I'll run,
And meet the man, you know;
But, Pinkie simply floundered through
The fastly falling snow."

When at last she reached the gate,
Two shadows did appear.
The poor old "plug" in paper cart
Was tuckered out, quite near.

"The paper I will take," said she.
"You need not bring it in.
I'm sorry for your horse and you!
To work to-day's & sin!"

"So, evrybody's 'kicking', eh?
What cause for their offence?
Once a year is mighty few
For 'Acts of Providence'."
