A sleepy Congress hates a Presidential message much as the ordinary man hates an alarm clock in the morning.

Having elected all the Taft delegates, Manager Hitchcock can now begin work on the speeches for the Chicago convention.

A fashion note says women's hats will have tall crowns this summer. Uneasy will rest the man who sits behind a crown in that case.

The principal duty of the republican orators this year will be to convince the voters that much of the recent panic was purely imaginary.

Towns with tail end base ball teams will this year have a chance to appear more interested in the race for Presidency than in that for the pennant.

The charge that the prohibitionists are approaching the patent medicine manufacturers for campaign contributions should be well shaken before taken seriously.

ANOTHER INTELECTUAL FRACTION.

Last week we saw fit to caution the voters of Polk county against a too hasty discussion regarding the proposed single tax amendment. We also asserted that the Oregonian had done considerable in regard to the moulding of public opinion against such a measure. As is usual where a country newspaper has the audacity to differ in opinion with the mountain of wisdom inhabiting the sixth story of the Pittock building, they invariably turn their battery of ridicule clear open upon what they are pleased to term the Rural Solomon. While not desiring to digress from the subject in hand it might be well for us to remind the Oregonian that as a moulder of public opinion the county press of Oregon has of late years, at least, far outreached that of the so long designated great and only paper. This year seems to be no exception to the rule. The Oregonian's stand against Statement No. 1 is convincing proof of our assertion. But enough of the personal point.

Our main object in our editorial of last week was to have each voter thoroughly look into both sides of the tax question for himself, and decide by the argument put forth, not depending on the Oregonian's say so, which is only theoretical at best. We remarked that we did not know whether it was best for the farmer or not. The Oregonian still claims they know and reply:

Those who understand the single tax have no doubts what ever upon this point. It would be a good thing for some land owners and a very bad thing for others, and so it is entitled to be. The prime purpose of the single tax is to make things hot for the man who holds unimproved land out of the market waiting for other people to add to its value. Its secondary purpose is to ease the farmers tax burdens by exempting his stock and improvements.

Were the single tax amendment now before the people constructed so as to accomplish these ends and no others, it would meet with almost universal approval; but it nulifies its possible merits by exempting all manufacturing plants. This is an outrageous privilege granted without right or reason to a set of the most shameless trusts in the country, and because the amendment thus tries to insult the inteligence of the voters, it ought to be defeated.

Now there are a few other bright minds in the world except the big one not yet totally obscured in the big tower, even if we do not include the county press, and we quote from one of these a few lines on the opposite side of the question; supposing that the Oregonian will pay more heed to their argument than that of a "Rural Solomon."

It is worth noting that the opposition to the single tax amendment to the constitution of Oregon is basing its hopes of success on its ability to consolidate the farmers against the proposal to exempt their houses, their barns, their live stock, their drains, their orchards and other improvements from taxation. The big papers of Oregon, representing the Big Interests, the railroads, the real estate speculators and the System in general, are doing their utmost to persuade the agricultural population that the pending amendment is one aimed at the destruction of the farmer by placing all the burden of taxation on his land.

Of course papers like the Portland Oregonian know perfectly well that this representation is false. They know that farmers do not own land values. Farmers own land and sometimes much of it. But as a rule they own but little land value. Land values are not found out ten or fifteen miles in the country. They are not found where hay and grain are grown and where cattle, sheep and hogs are raised. They are found in the centers of population and industry. There are single blocks of land in Portland whose value today exceeds that of a whole county in the remote agricultural sections of the state.

The values which farmers posess are largely and sometimes exclusively improvement values. And these, under the amendment to be voted on in June under the referendum, are made exempt from taxation. If the people of Oregon adopt the amendment, almost every farmer in the state will find his tax bill less when the next time for paying taxes comes around. This fact can be demonstrated to any intelligent man who will take the trouble to go into the question.

THE THREE "L's" FOR WILLIE'S BOSS

Pa says: "The milk of human kindness as dispensed by some people tastes strongly of the can. "I've noticed that some rich men squeeze a dollar so hard, when they take one out to spend it, they must make the eagle sick. If ever I get a rich father I think I'll establish a school on "How to Live and Let Live." This store is run on the "Live and Let Live" plan all right. Everything is marked in plain figures and sold on a very small margin of profit at the lowest prices possible, quality always considered. My boss believes that quality is of first importance in selecting things to eat and drink. All grocers claim to sell the best, but when you get anything at Loughary's store you know you've got the best and that's some comfort these grafty times. We don't have to tell you our sugar is pure cane. It meets the requirements of the law, is branded cane sugar.

WILLIE

TWO POLKITES

In Controversy Over School Land Matters.

A dispatch from Salem yesterday to the Portland Journal says: Complaint has been made against Judge J. L. Collins, of Dallas, by James Sykes, of Polk county, who alleges that Collins, who has for a number of years, loaned state school funds in Polk county, overcharged him for an application for a loan. The charges were heard by Treasurer Steel and Governor Chamberlain of the land board yesterday afternoon. Their decision was reserved.

Sykes charged that Collins had been overcharging those who applied for loans of school money. Collins had been appointed by the board to act for it in Polk county and to receive applications for loans out of the state school fund. Sykes says Collins charged him $15 for filing his application and $10 for a worthless abstract, which if forwarded to the land board, would have defeated his application for a loan. Sykes said he had asked for a $2,000 loan but never had obtained it because of his dispute with Judge Collins.

On the other hand, Collins said he had filed the application for Sykes without cost, but had made an abstract for him for $10 and then charged him $15 for examining it and giving an opinion on the abstract. Collins admitted that the abstract was worthless, but it was because the titles were not clear. He said he could not advise the board to make the loan, and therefore gave the opinion that the titles were not good, which, he said, had offended Sykes.

Summons.

Lucy F. Jellison, plaintiff vs.
Charles J. Jellison, defendant

To Charles J. Jellison, the above named defendant:

IN the name of the state of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit on or before the 28th day of May, 1908. That being the last day for your appearance or answer, fixed by an order of the court for the publication of this summons. And if you fail so to appear and answer the same, for want thereof, plaintiff will apply to the court for a decree against you for the relief prayed for in her complaint, towit: That the bonds of matrimony now existing between plaintiff and yourself be dissolved, and that she have the custody of the minor children, the issue of said marriage towit: Harland C., Espy G. and Maud D. Jellison, and for her costs and disbursements therein.

This summons is published in the Polk County Itemizer by order of the Hon. Ed. F. Coad, judge of the county court of the county of Polk and state of Oregon, which said order was made at chambers in the city of Dallas, in Polk county, Oregon, on the 15th day of April, 1908.

The first publication of this summons was made on the 16th day of April, 1908, and the last publication thereof on the 28th day of May, 1908, and you are required to appear and answer said complaint on or before the said 28th day of May, 1908.

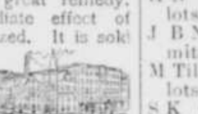
Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghampton, N. Y. on every bottle.

The polls will open at 12 noon and close at 7. All vote at the same place.

Miss Mina Hughes will leave Friday for an extended visit with relatives in California.

The militia meeting at the court house Wednesday evening was well attended and quite enthusiastic. Adj. Gen. W. E. Finzer, O. N. At the close further names were added to the list already in hand. It appears to be an assured fact that Dallas will have an organized company of militia as sood as matters straighten themselves to the point where the state military board can take action.

A Tenor's Rebuke.

Roger, the great French tenor, a sensitive soul, was prone to take offense at any slight, whether intentional or not. On one occasion he was engaged for 1,200 francs to sing at the house of a wealthy financier. Roger sang his first song magnificently, but no one paid him the slightest attention, and the guests continued to talk their loudest. Presently the host thought the time had come for another song and sent for Roger. He could not be found and that evening was seen no more. Next day there came a note from him, accompanied by 1,500 francs. The note ran something like this:

"I have the honor to return the 1,200 francs which I received for singing at your function and I beg leave to add 300 francs thereto for having so greatly disturbed the conversation of your guests."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Democrats will baer in mind that while voting at the primaries tomorrow they should not fail to write in on their ballots the names of George E. Chamberlain for United States senator and J. J. Whitney for congressman, not forgetting to also put a cross before the names. If the latter is not done the ballot will not be counted. See top of editorial column for form. Democrats are also requested to write in the names of R. S. Bean for supreme judge and J. H. McNary for prosecuting attorney.

FOR SALE

120 acres, 16 acres cultivated; four acres of bearing Prunes, Apples, Cherries and Pears. A four room house, and barn 20x40 feet, good well, three springs and running stream the entire year; a lot of timber, and a goat fence around the whole place.

Tell me if this is not a snap.

Two 10-acre homes, in the city, at a bargain. Also have Farms, and City Homes, too numerous to mention, and a few vacant lots.
