Spring Medicine

The best is Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the best because it does the most good.

While it makes the blood pure, fresh and lively, it tones the stomach to better digestion, creates an appetite, stimulates the kidneys and liver, gives new brain, nerve and digestive strength.

An unlimited list of cures—40,366 testimonials in 2 years—proves its merit.

Mrs. W. A. Snowden, 103 Milton St., Dedham, Mass., says: "I want every sick woman to know the curing power of Hood's Sarsaparilla. After a long illness, I had milk leg and a dreadful sore which Hood's Sarsaparilla perfectly cured. This medicine purified my blood and invigorated my whole system."

SPECIAL.—To meet the wishes of those who prefer medicine in tablet form, we are now putting up Hood's Sarsaparilla in chocolate-coated tablets as well as in the usual liquid form. By reducing Hood's Sarsaparilla to a solid extract, we have retained in the tablets the curative properties of every medicinal ingredient.

Sold by druggists or sent by mail. 100 doses one dollar. C. I. Hood Co., Lowell, Mass.

The melting of the Fairbanks boom wont cause any spring floods.

In addition to all those bureaus at present the navy seems to need a bureau in defence of our policies.

A New Jersey youth of twenty one has already married three women. He was evidently elected to gather all the trouble he can before he is too old to enjoy the excitement.

A Western boy died the other day from the effects of a bee sting in the ear. Which, alas, reminds us of all the men who listened to the buzzing of the political bee and went to their graves feeling that they were stung.

Mr. Clark Howell "lows as how" the Atlanta Constitution will observe a strict if not actually armed neutrality between Mr. Smith and Mr. Brown in the coming Ga. gubernatorial contest. The Constitution's experience last time has somewhat cooled its martial ardor.

Fulton was beaten by Cake not because of his political affiliations, not because of Heney's charges, but because the people of Oregon have demonstrated that hereafter we shall have clean politics and as Fulton belonged to the old ring and approved of their methods, his defeat was a natural result. This reform has been working for years, but has just now reached its culmination. We will see more of it later on.

The dividing up of the large tracts of land in Oregon will some day greatly increase our population. It is gratifying to see the tendency of the young men to acquire a few acres on his own and plant it to something that will before many years be bringing him in revenue. Especially is this the tendency of the city bred youth. It denotes frugality and business sense on their part, and speaks well for their ability to look into the future. Some will utilize their land for orchard purposes, but a number are going in for fine stock.

The victory for statement No. 1 and the entire demoralization of the machine shows beyond doubt that the people of Oregon are to hereafter do their own thinking as to the fitness of candidates for office, and that the old system of boss rule, as far as our state is concerned, is a thing of the past, never, we hope to return. The "people's choice" will not hereafter be a misnomer, but a blissful reality. As a consequence the man of convictions, honest, fearless and of untarnished reputation will be elected to office, and the tricky, scheming politician will be compelled to take a back seat. It will take years to entirely exterminate the latter, but if the voters will continue as they have begun and keep the power in their own hands, it can be done. It will then be a pleasure to vote and not a simple force as in many instances heretofore.

"Making good" is the brief, pithy expression of the growing American sentiment as to the square deals in politics, finance, transportation, commerce and the industries. The sentiment contained therein is no less important in the profession of newspaper making, medicine and teaching. It may be slang or a provincialism, but to "make good" is the key note of all success worthy of recognition. It is the one great consideration in printing and jounanalism. Shillyshallying, inaccuracy, incompetence, lack of taste, "just as good," never mind that will answer, are the pitfalls to disaster and failure; they all and each signify inherent indifference to the highest sense of honor that requires full measure; a want of proper regard for the rights of others and a lack of the deep, real interest and pride in one's calling requisite to that high performance that brings honor with satisfaction in worthy accomplishment.

A certain farmer who lives out in the county and who is noted for his closeness in money matters has a twelve-year-old son, who is as industrious as his father is penurious.

Recently the father and son made a compact whereby the latter would receive 10 cents for every cord of wood he sawed and piled in the wood shed. Immediately the boy became very busy at the wood pile, and his earnings have been piling up at a rapid rate, his mother keeping her son's hard earned savings for him.

"What are you going to do with all your money?" the thrifty youth was recently asked.

"Goin' to buy a new saw with it," was the reply.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Benjamin Constant.

Benjamin Constant, having sided with Napoleon during the hundred days, felt the need of justifying himself when Louis XVIII. returned to power. He wrote the king a letter with that end in view and called upon Mme. Lenormier to discuss the subject. She asked him quietly:

"Have you finished your letter?"

"Yes."

"Are you satisfied with it?"

"Entirely satisfied. I have almost persuaded myself."

Marrying.

Everybody is expected to marry once, and there is not much talk when you marry the first time, but people look wise when you marry the second time and roar when you marry the third time.—Atchison Globe.

Very Interesting.

"What do you find so very interesting about society?" asked the ordinary person.

"Watching people trying to get in," answered Miss Cayenne.—Washington Star.

THE THREE "L's" FOR WILLIE'S BOSS

Pa says: "The milk of human kindness as dispensed by some people tastes strongly of the can. "I've noticed that some rich men squeeze a dollar so hard, when they take one out to spend it, they must make the eagle sick. If ever I get a rich father I think I'll establish a school on "How to Live and Let Live." This store is run on the "Live and Let Live" plan all right. Everything is marked in plain figures and sold on a very small margin of profit at the lowest prices possible, quality always considered. My boss believes that quality is of first importance in selecting things to eat and drink. All grocers claim to sell the best, but when you get anything at Loughary's tore you know you've got the best and that's some comfort these grafty times. We don't have to tell you our sugar is pure cane. It meets the requirements of the law, is branded cane sugar.

A SURGICAL OPERATION

If there is any one thing that a woman dreads more than another it is a surgical operation.

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"For eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It.

Prevalency of Kidney Disease.

Most people do not realize the alarming increase and remarkable prevalency of kidney disease. While kidney disorders are the most common diseases that prevail, they are almost the last recognized by patient and physicians, who content themselves with doctoring the effects, while the original disease undermines the system.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention this paper and don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y.

Home of Swamp-Root.

Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Inghampton, N. Y. on every bottle.

AN IRREGULAR VERB.

One That Made a Frenchman Despair of Learning English.

"What does 'Beat it!' mean?" asked the man of an inquiring frame of mind of his well informed friend.

"Why," was the reply, "that means to go, depart, be off, take your leave, and don't be slow about it. I don't know what it came from unless it is a bit of policeman's slang for 'Get off my beat!' or 'Clear out unless you want me to beat you!'

"I am reminded of a line in one of Dr. Oliver Wendell Holmes' amusing poems, scattered through the pages of his delightful 'Autocrat of the Breakfast Table.' It runs:

"Depart! Be off! Exceed!
Evade! Evampe!

But it takes a Latin scholar to discover the derivations of all his verbs of motion.

"There is a story of a Frenchman who on his way to England was made the victim of a practical joke in regard to the verb 'go,' whose 'went,' 'going,' 'gone,' are irregular enough, goodness knows. He was found to be struggling with this variation: 'I go; thou departest; he clears out; we cut stick; you make tracks; they absquatulate,' and as he read it he exclaimed: "Mercy! What irregular verbs you have in your English language!"—New York Tribune.

We lay our eggs before you fresh from the farm. From hen to your table they come as quickly as it is possible to get them. Try some and see how different they are from just ordinary eggs. But good as they are they are not a bit better than all groceries handle here. If you like fresh eggs, as you surely will, you will like our other groceries equally as well. You will like our prices too. They are always the lowest that will pay for fine quality.

THE DRAGON FLY.

Singularly Adapted to Its Life of Aerial Piracy.

No one could fail to be struck with the singularly perfect adaptation of the dragon fly's structure to a life of aerial piracy. The four wings are large and in proportion to their weight enormously strong. Each is supported by a wonderfully arranged network of slender ribs, which give the necessary rigidity to the thin, transparent membrane forming its basis. The muscles by which the wings are moved are massive and powerful and are so arranged among themselves that the animal is capable of steering its course with a unerring accuracy which any bird might envy. In this power it is largely aided by a marvelous keenness of sight, for in addition to the two great, gorgeously colored compound eyes which make up so much of the head the insect possesses three smaller "simple" eyes, making five eyes in all. The prey which is to be seized and devoured by means of powerful, sharp-toothed jaws.

An animal which lives such an active life naturally requires a very perfect breathing apparatus, and this is amply provided by a system of holes in the sides of the body which open into an elaborate network of air tubes, supplying every part of the system. The air in these tubes is constantly renewed by the regular compression and dilatation of the body by special muscles.—Chambers' Journal.

HIBERNATION.

How and Why Some Animals Exist All Winter Without Food.

The philosophy or nature of hibernation and why and how it is that the hibernating creatures can go so long without food are interesting studies.

In the first place, the creature in order to enable it to sustain life throughout the long winter during which it hibernates is endowed with the capacity of accumulating within its body a large quantity of fat. This fat is to the animal what a well stocked coal cellar is to a fire, and until the whole of it has been consumed the tissue of the body proper remains untouched. It has been ascertained that animals can endure the waste of tissue until it amounts to 40 per cent of their normal weight. Should the weight be reduced beyond that point the result is death. But nature comes to the rescue of the hibernating creatures in another way. When the hibernation begins, respiration and digestion almost cease (in some cases they cease absolutely), and the circulation is only just active enough to sustain life. As a consequence of this the wear and tear is reduced to the minimum, and the creature is enabled to pull through.—New York American.

The Moors of Today.

The Moors of today are the descendants of those who conquered Spain, who were practically paramount in the southern portion for two centuries and relics of whose wonderful buildings are to be found at the present day in that country. Indeed, it is strange to consider the position of the Moors of today when we see the work of their hands in past centuries, and the only explanation lies in the fact that they are unable to adapt themselves to modern conditions.—Strand Magazine.
