FRED. J. WAGNER
has just put in one of the "Barcus"
HORSE-SHOEING
devises. It is the latest thing out for shoeing horses and he has the best equipment and can do the best horse-shoeing there is done in the country. He has the best of help and therefore can back up what he says. Just give him a trial and be convinced. There is no better work put out than is put out at this shop.

DALLAS OIL COMPANY.
Some Facts Regarding Their Boring For Oil.

We are in receipt of a prospectus from the Portland gentlemen who have leased the Whitaker land near town, and are now boring for whatever may be able to find. We make a few excerpts:
It will also be noticed that the Southern Pacific railroad runs right to our oil fields, which at once, in a most favorable and economic manner, settles the factor of transportation for our product. Some time ago in order to ascertain whether or not petroleum oil could be discovered on the lands in question, considerable drilling was done. Oil, also gas, was found, and reasonable indications that coal might also be found on these lands. At certain depths, kaolin is found, and from tests made, the finest kind of pottery ware can be manufactured from it. Also a high grade of pressed brick. Therefore we now know that the only prospective feature is as to the quantities of oil and gas we shall find.
In all reasonable probability this company may soon be enabled to materially solve the fuel question for this section of Oregon, and if so, the city of Dallas will become a manufacturing center of considerable proportions. In this connection lime shale alone, which is found in most inexhaustible quantities in and adjacent to Dallas, could be economically manufactured into building brick. So, too, with many other industries not necessary at present to specify.

Engineers and workmen are now busily engaged drilling, and the work will be prosecuted as speedily as practical method permit, and until the results we confidently anticipate are realized.

SNOW WHITE MARE.
Walter Sears Wants Her to Lead Rose Parade.

Walter Sears, of Dallas, thinks he has just the horse which the Rose Festival association wants for Rex Oregonian to ride upon and it is possible that his animal may be selected. In a letter to the Journal Mr. Sears writes: "I have in my horse barn in the city a horse that I think will fill the bill to perfection. It is a snow white mare, weight about 925 pounds, standing 15 hands and one inch, long flowing mane and tail; in fact I think is especially fitted for the leadership of the parade. I would be pleased to hear from the proper committee regarding the matter."
The festival association wished to secure a horse to lead the triumphal entry of the king of the festival into the city and if Mr. Sears' animal fills requirements it will probably be used.—Portland Journal.

CITY COUNCIL MEETS.
Bids Opened for Macadamizing Our Streets.

The city council met in regular session last Monday evening with all the officers present except Councilman Van Orsdel.
The city engineer was ordered to set the stakes for the opening of Plum street, and of two alleyways in the adjacent blocks on each side. Then the marshal was ordered to see that ways mentioned are open to travel at the expense of the property owners.
The street commissioner was ordered to relay the Beverly and McAllister sidewalks in accordance with specifications governing such work, and put the Shultz walk on the proper line.
A couple of circles were ordered made for the laying of cement walks, in order to have all the corners of uniform design.

MR. SWEENEY'S BID.
How it Shows up the Cost Between Macadam and Paving.

In the account of the doings of the city council as published elsewhere, it will be seen that the contractor desires to lay our macadam streets at a cost to the property owners of $2.25 cents a cubic yard, which has nothing to do nor does not include the taking off of the present covering of gravel, the laying of the curbs or crosswalks. The bid was not put in according to the way specified by the council for a number of reasons. One was that the contractor, if running the crusher, could work more advantageously to himself and the city by being able to utilize his force where needed, at the quarry or on the streets. This would certainly tend to expedite the work, and we believe would work to the advantage of the city. It is a question whether the city could furnish the rock at the price of 65 cents a yard, as the opening of a new quarry is an entirely different proposition from the working of one already opened up, and we are informed, generally costs nearer $1 a yard than 65 cents. Probably another fact not taken into consideration is the shrinkage between a yard of rock at the crusher and after it is laid and rolled on the streets, which is the time to pay for it. The smaller sizes only go to fill up the holes left in the courses below and loss out in the measurement like sixty.
As to what is to be done in the matter of this bid will be determined at the meeting of the council next Monday evening. There are many features to be thoroughly looked into regarding it, and as to what the council will decide is problematical at this time. We all know they will work for the best interests of the city as they see the proposition.

Hagerty-Waugaman.
At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Waugaman, a mile southwest of this city, Saturday evening, Miss Lila Waugaman was united in marriage with W. C. Hagerty, of this city. Miss Lila Waugaman, daughter of the late Charles Waugaman, is a native of Indiana, and is secretary of the Fire Relief association.—McMinnville Telephone Register.
The family of the bride resided for a number of years in Dallas, Mr. Waugaman having a confectionery and postoffice on the present site of the Uglow brick.

Cured of Rheumatism.
Mr. Wm. Henry, of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain Balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by Staffin Drug Co.

EIGHTEENTH BIRTHDAY.
Celebrated by Three Dallas Native Residents.
Last Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Fenton was celebrated the 18th birthday of Miss Frankie Hayter, Miss Claudia Coad and Mr. Carl Fenton. These three well known young people made their debut into the mysteries of life about the same time of the day in this city 18 years ago, and since then they have annually celebrated the event in some pleasing manner, such as the occasion last Monday night. The Fenton residence was beautifully and artistically decorated and everything done to give the friends of the young people a most pleasing remembrance. A photograph given a prize for the most expeditious way in which he managed to see his back where it belonged, proving beyond a doubt that he is deemed to be a happy life, as otherwise he surely could not be so adept with the needle. The lunch was unexcelled in quality and of quantity sufficient to satisfy even the most ravenous appetites of our young athletes. A late hour found them all homeward bound wishing the young birthdays many more years of youth and happiness in which to celebrate the return of their Temperance Forty-Eight Years Ago.

About 48 years ago, and after the Maine liquor law had been in force for some years in that state, this writer spent about five weeks there, about one week of which time was spent in the city of Augusta, the capital of the state, at a state fair, where there were supposed to be from 40,000 to 50,000 people present daily. From there I went to Bangor, a great ship building and manufacturing city, and spent some time there. From that place I went down the Atlantic coast to the great seaport city of Portland, where I spent one month, during which time there was a U. S. election, which resulted in the election of that great American statesman Mr. Lincoln, and notwithstanding all my travels through those exciting times, I saw but one man whom I thought was under the influence of liquor, and yet in the face of all these facts we have a few men in our state who are trying to make it appear that we cannot stop this, the greatest curse our fair land has got to contend with; shamefully claiming as they do, that our towns and cities could not produce enough revenue to exist were it not for the license system. Now, knowing that the great temperance state of Maine does and has existed for more than a century under its great temperance laws, and today has more money per capita in its banks than any other state in the union. This, I say, should be a most convincing argument if our revenue in this land of plenty will surely come. So I say, if this, our sister state, can and does make just such a showing, what can we not now do after having all these years of experience of making and amending our temperance laws till today there is not the remotest fear or dread of any kind but that our local option laws to prevent the drink habit just as sure as the United States laws prevent murder. Then I ask you fellow citizens are we to sit idle and allow these saloons to exist in our midst while they, the very hot beds of nearly all the crime that is causing our land so much misery and loss just for the sake of a few dollars? We are getting therefrom. My dear fellow citizens it is a very important thing to be a voter. Just think of a parent who is a voter voting for a saloon, a place for nothing else but to fit his sons and daughters for a place ten thousand times worse than the grave. Voter, did it ever occur to you that in one, two or twenty years at most you may have to give an account of the way you are training these sons and daughters of yours. If Providence should spare us to election day, June 1st, for the sake of our children, our neighbors' children and of this great country and government let us by all means vote for local option.

BLOCKADED.
Every Household in Dallas Should Know How to Resist it.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked. Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more. Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.
James O. Rogers, living on Grant St., McMinnville, Ore., says: "I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they proved of much benefit to me. I was subject to headaches and backaches, the trouble coming on in attacks and leaving me very miserable. I did not know that my trouble arose from my kidneys until I noticed that these organs were irregular in action. Deciding to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial, I procured a box. They not only corrected the action of my kidneys but also relieved the weakness in my back and banished the headaches. I am now in a healthy condition and attribute it to the use of Doan's Kidney Pills."
