This they failed to do, in fact the vote cast could not in any way be called a representative vote cast could not in any way be called a representative by us, as it would take np one, as not much to exceed 50 per cent of those who registered showed up at the polls. Another surprise was the foolish practice inaugurated of writing on any person who they happened to think of as candidates for the different to encourage such practice. offices. Besides causing the job of canvassing the election vote to be an unusually lengthly one and mindering the count, it initiated a practice which is not in accord with good citizenship. No voter can rightfully cast a vote for any person unless he is assured that that person is desirous of the office for which he names him. We hope this will be discontinued in the future and that no one will be voted for unless he has expressed a desire to he closted to the office.

Small Pox at Monmouth.

County Health Officer W. I. Cary informs us that there are 18 cases of small pox at Monmouth. It is of a mild type and has not yet proved malignant. All houses containing cases have been rigidly quarantined and further spread of the disease is not expected. The local officer and Dr. Cary are working hand in hand to see that the disease is kept within its present bounds, and no fears tion vote to be an unusually lengthly one and hindering

MR. PRIGMORE'S ASSURANCE.

The ice season was on, and a party of young men and women were taking advantage of it for skimming the icy surface of one of those little bays lyaccount of the multiplicity of people ballotted for this seemed almost an endless job, as by 5 o'clock that evening they had just succeeded in canvassing the democratic vote. Tuesday afternoon they finished up the job and the result is given below. B. F. Jones for represen- attending ice boating Nevertheless b tative and R. L. In time Morro got within a hundred get of them, they being within some 00 feet of the breakers, both boats colng at a terrific speed. The sight before them was awful. The breakers olled in, throwing up the anchor ice. dashing it down, then sucking it under the floe for another break.

The party on the opposite shore stood ooking on in ghastly silence. Nearer and nearer Morro approached the yacht he chased, and at last they could se him, as they supposed, fouled with it, Then the two boats began to spread apart, the sheet of Morro's being eased off and making a sharp turn in which only a considerable weight over the raised skate kept the boat from going Morro had steered his yacht alongside of the other. Prigmore, withou waiting for Marjorie to save herself, made a jump and caught a projection on Mucro's boat, Morro reached for Marjorle and drew for safely over the gip Then, directing her and Prigmore his bast around sharply and put her before the wind. There was something in the narrow escape that deterred the women from venturing on the boats, and the party returned to the city. Morro was too perous to tell of Prigmore's having saved himself in place of Marjorie. Marjorle tried to keep the secret, but failed. Prigmore had come into the party like a rocket and had gone down like its stick. He was not seen again by any of them.

ELECTRICITY FOR LIGHTING IS ONLY EXPENSIVE

TO PEOPLE WHO ARE WASTEFUL AND CARELESS.

It is economical because it can be quickly turned off when not needed. With gas or kerosene there is the temptation to let light burn, when not needed, to save bother of lighting and adjusting. In some homes the electric light bill amounts to only about $2 per month. You can probably get some kind of artificial light for less money than electric light, but does it save you anything when it limits opportunities for work and recreation, ruins your eyesight, smokes your walls, mars decorations and increases household work. You can probably save a dollar tomorrow by going without your meals, but it wouldn't be economy. It is not so much what you save, but how you save, that counts. We are always ready to explain the "ins and outs" of the lighting proposition to you. Call on us or phone to us. We are never too busy to talk business.
