Patronize One Another for the Upbuilding of Town and County.

Dallas is still laying herself liable to all sorts of disasters by the non-employment of a regular night watchman.

It is rumored that one of the large land holdings in this vicinity is soon to pass into other hands and be cut up into small tracts and put on the market. This is what Polk county needs more than any one thing to increase her population and resources. The holding of large tracts of land is retarding this county's growth to a very material extent.

If there is any one thing that will tend to put Oregon in the Bryan column this fall, it is the present attempt of republican party managers to try to defeat the expressed will of the people and make the Statement No. 1 legislators false to the pledge on which they were elected. The desire of the people was fully expressed at the June election. They voted to have George Chamberlain United States senator. Any attempt to thwart this will prove disastrous to those inaugurating such a move.

Is a revival of industrial prosperity at hand in the United States? That is the question which is probably really uppermost in the minds of a majority of Americans—certainly a majority of American business men. Even the political issues of a presidential campaign do not really matter so much to the country as this question of industrial revival; because, after all, politics only concern the average American as he thinks the success of one set of principles or another will effect the country's welfare. The country has been looking for a business revival ever since it caught its breath after the temporary collapse of last fall, but there was not much hope of its real appearance until after the election of next November. Lately, however, the signs of recovery have been multiplying so rapidly as to lead to a feeling that, perhaps, we may not have to wait until our quadrennial political stock-taking is over for a return of good times. The national campaign does not seem to be having its expected depression this year—a fact which may be due to the general discounting of the outcome, in conjunction with a combination of unusually favorable conditions outside of politics. This year's crops promise to be the greatest, in the aggregate, the country has ever known, and money is low and plentiful. Such a combination always spells prosperity. Its present effects are visible in the reports of increasing trade and of general resumption of activity in mills and factories, which come from every section of the country and from every line of production. Apparently the conclusion has been generally arrived at that the result of this presidential election is not going to interfere with the process of return to normal conditions. Consequently business everywhere feels free to take advantage of the otherwise exceptionally favoring situation.—American Industries for August

Postmaster C. G. Coad returned Sunday from Portland, where he attended a meeting of the fourth class postmasters for several days. Mr. Coad took an important part in the session, being named on several of the committees. He reports the gathering of great interest to all and a source of information to many.

Bryan's speech of acceptance was a most eloquent and masterly one. He thoroughly depicts the dangers confrontin the American people today, and offers remedies for such that shows sound judgment of the needs of the country. No one can read it without being impressed with the idea that the man who advocates such reforms is a fit person to grace the presidential chair.

We heard a prominent Salem republican make the statement the other day that many of his political opinion in Marion county would vote for and support Bryan. And it will be the same way in other counties. The intelligent voter is beginning to realize that by so voting he can best subserve his own interests and that of every other man not allied with the large corporations. The time has arrived for the worm to turn, and it is surely going to do so. Bryan's election is becoming more of a sure thing every day that passes.

There may be some who will delude themselves with the idea that the Dallas Merchant's Protective Association is only a local affair and that by moving elsewhere they can escape its provisions. That is where they will find themselves mistaken. These associations are found in every town of any distinction all over Oregon and the other states of the union. By going elsewhere you cannot escape the payment of the debts left behind, that is if you may ever desire credit. If you want credit in any other town, you will have to settle up in Dallas first, just the same as if you were still a resident here. The Dallas black list is known to the secretary of every other association in Oregon and vice versa. It would be impossible for a man blacklisted elsewhere to get credit here. The association here has already had practical exemplification of this.

New comers to this county are continually asking what they should best engage in to get good returns. While we do not consider the planting of orchards a bad investment, yet we must remember that a quick and plentiful market for such products is yet many years in the future, especially for small fruits. We are not so nearly situated to the large markets as to be able to lay down such goods at the large consumers doors in short order, and for this class of income will have to wait to a great exten on the settling up of the country in order to have an assured and steady and profitable market. We are firm believers that this is more of a stock country than any other one thing—that Western Oregon is peculiarly adapted to the propogation of the choicest breeds. We believe that no where else in the United States is everything so advantageous for fine stock raising than right here. The climate for such industry is unexcelled, being temperate at all times, and insuring their raising without the incurring of diseases peculiar to where they are brought up in more rigorous climes. This insures better grades, finer coats, and healthier stock. It is naturally the home of the high bred sheep or hog—no paice more so. And the prices to be received for well bred stock make it a paying and lucrative investment nearly from the start. It is a wonder to us that seeing these advantages more do not go exclusively into this business.

There is a city ordinance against the throwing of any kind of debris in the streets, but it does not seem to be enforced to any noticeable extent. As soon as our nice macadam streets are finished every citizen should take pride in keeping them as neat looking as possible and avoid throwing dirt of any kind on them. It might be well to provide receptacles for paper, etc., at convenient corners.

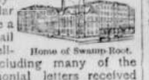
Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.



Home of Swamp-Root.

Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address inghampton, N. Y. on every bottle.

No Irrigation Water.

Monday the users of irrigation water were informed that they would have to cease its use that evening and the next morning. Manager Soehren informs us that the cause of the trouble and consequent lack of water was at the intake, where he had sometime ago installed a masonery business. He took this out Monday and fixed it up in better shape, so that there will probably be no more trouble. Tuesday morning the reservoir was running full up, and the people could again use water. Mr. Soehren does not wish to deprive any one of water, and will use his best endeavor to see that this trouble does not occur again.

Melons and Coffee

Well, Sir, school has been out two weeks and I haven't had any melons yet. I suppose its my own fault for they are certainly getting plenty enough. I tell you what it is, next to the strawberry, a melon is the best thing a man can eat in the morning, and coffee is the best thing he can drink. A lot of folks have a kind of grouch against coffee drinking, but maybe they never get the right kind. Really good coffee hasn't a grouch in a gallon of it. Poor coffee contains to much of the bitter principle ("tannin," I think they call it,) and that makes a fellow peevish, especially too much of it. Lots of good coffee in ruined in the making; boiled too long; made too weak, and dosed with poor milk. To be a good and wholesome drink, coffee should be roasted fresh, made strong, and brought just to the boiling point (or made in a coffee percolator by pouring boiling water over the powdered coffee) and served with rich cream such as the St. Charles or Pioneer brands. Ma says this is so and that good coffee, properly made, never hurts anyone. Have you tried our M. J. B. coffee?

We can state without fear of a contradiction that there are hundreds, yes, thousands, of operations performed upon women in our hospitals which are entirely unnecessary and many have been avoided by

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

For proof of this statement read the following letters.

Mrs. Barbara Base, of Kingman, Kansas, writes to Mrs. Pinkham:

"I or eight years I suffered from the most severe form of female troubles and was told that an operation was my only hope of recovery. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham for advice, and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it has saved my life and made me a well woman."

Mrs. Arthur R. House, of Church Road, Moorestown, N. J., writes:

"I feel it is my duty to let people know what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I suffered from female troubles, and last March my physician decided that an operation was necessary. My husband objected, and urged me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and to-day I am well and strong."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, and backache.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Williams' New Brick.

A force of men are now engaged excavating for Banker R. E. Williams' new brick on Court street, all the wooden buildings heretofore occupying that location having been removed. A basement will not be put in, but it is necessary to make a certain amount of excavation to bring it down to the proper level. Mr. Williams has let the contract for the furnishing the brick and its laying to Messers Perine & Seiters, the proprietors of the brick yard at McMinnville. They will begin work at once, and expect to have it completed by October 1st. The new building will have a concrete front, neatly embellished, and while only one story in height, will be a great credit to the town and its owner. It will have a frontage on Court street of 100 feet, and be divided into four store rooms of 25 feet each, all of which are already rented. This will make of Court street quite a business center on both sides, and the nice macadam roadway now about completed will enhance the size and looks of our town very materially.

WILL PUT UP FIGHT.

Republicans to Elect U. S. Senator if Possible.

From last night's Oregon Journal we make a few exerpts of the senatorial matter as that paper sees it now framed up:

Senator Charles W. Fulton, in his race for election to the United States senate and his desire to defeat the will of the people of Oregon and the ratification of the election of Governor Chamberlain, expects seven Statement No. 1 members of the legislature to prostitute their pledges and go into a joint caucus on the United States senatorship. That is the ultimate aim of all his plotting.

Senator Fulton wants a joint caucus of the members of the legislature, every one of whom will pledge himself before going in to abide by the will of the caucus as regards the election of a United States senator.

Incidententally he expects to be that nominee, but he is not saying that to those whom he wishes to go into the conclave. All effort to control the organization of the legislature, and all effort to gain control of the party machinery of the state by the deposition of William M. Cake from the chairmanship of the Republican state central committee, is subordinate to the effort to secure the 46 members of the legislature for the senatorial caucus.

It is the theory advanced that there is no particular candidate for the senate. Senator Fulton has not said that he will or will not be a candidate. Yet at the same time he and his friends believe that he would be the choice of the joint caucus. This, of course, would bind the caucus to him on the floor of the joint assembly and secure his election.

In carrying out this plan it is said tha Senator Fulton is refusing to yield his support to any candidate for the president or speaker who does not subscribe to the caucus idea. It is said that Bowerman has entered into the scheme and has agreed to try to secure one or more Statement No. 1 members of the legislature for the joint caucus in return for the support of the Fulton faction in this contest for the presidency of the senate.

There are at the teachers' examination this week, 45 for state papers, 40 for county papers, and there will be about 10 papers coming from other counties for teachers who will teach in this county. Out of the bunch now at work in the circuit court room, there are 11 men, the rest being of the feminine persuasion. The examining board is composed of Miss Loretta Smith, Mrs. H. C. Seymour and Superintendent Seymour. County applicants finish up Friday night and state applicants Saturday.

SHOWS GROWTH IN POLK.

Eight New School Houses in Course of Construction in County.

More new schoolhouses have been built in Polk county, especially in the rural districts, this summer, than at any previous time. County School Superintendent H. C. Seymour says that in eight districts arrangements have already been completed for building and many of the houses are in process of construction. The total cost of these eight new houses will be $14,800. In other districts additions and improvements will be made quite extensively, and in Dallas and Independence the school boards are contemplating either the erection of extra buildings or of extensive additions to the buildings now in use.

Miss Hallie Reynolds is up from Portland.

Judge and Mrs. E. R. Bryson, of Corvallis, are visiting at the Lyle place,

Mrs. Bertha Toner is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. L. Fenton at Nye creek.
