According to Senator Fullon the republican party can do no wrong—not even if they elect him senator instead of Chamberlain. The party must be right, the people wrong.

Candidate Taft has yet to be elected by the people to an office. He has served them in many different capacities, but each time was appointed. Quite a record. Roosevelt is now trying to appoint him president.

The republicans have now become so scared of Bryan's probable election that in addition to Roosevelt they are sending out the entire cabinet to make speeches. And the people pay to thus neglect the duties of their offices.

It is now conceded by all that the scheme of republican politicians has worked, and that Gov. Chamberlain will not be elected senator from Oregon by the next legislature. This is the way in which the ringleaders of that party prove faithful to their promises and obey the wishes of the people.

Republican papers are running a cartoon entitled No Retreat, picturing Taft defending the White House, and on his gun a label, Speech of Acceptance. A prominent republican of our town heard that speech and it determined him to vote for Bryan. He says it was the laziest thing he ever listened to—Taft seem to be afraid to touch on vital issues.

Don't allow the political campaign now on to make you overlook the colonist rates in effect during September and October, and remember that your friends and acquaintances through out the older states can come to any part of the Pacific Northwest on one-way tickets at less cost now than at any time during the coming winter.

THE OREGONIAN'S CONSISTENCY.

For some time the Portland Oregonian, organ of the defunct republican party, has devoted considerable space in an attempt to show that Mr. Bryan is a man of changeable policies. That it has or has not succeeded in so showing we leave its readers to judge. The purport of this small squib is simply to make the remark that people who live in glass houses should not throw stones. The Oregonian is noted for changing its opinions, and sometimes quite suddenly. Its policy now is to deride the bank guarantee plan advocated by Mr. Bryan, but no longer ago than May 21st of this year, it was unqualifiedly in favor of such a proposition, and in an editorial of that date, rather cleverly showed why it would be a good thing for the people, and instanced the difference between the failure of a bank in Oklahoma, where the people were protected by law, and in Portland, Oregon, where they are at the mercy of every rascal that chose to put on a big front and run a bank. It does not require an extraordinarily sensible man to readily see the reason for this change of policy on the Oregonian's part. Such a measure for the relief of the people was not made a plank of the republican platform but it was of the democratic. Why then, especially when the Oregonian constantly claims that there is no more a republican party in Oregon, should it change its manifest belief, forewear all-aliance to a reform that it knows to be for the protection of the people, and put it off on record as having no certain opinion in the matter. Now it opines that good banks under such a law would have to make up the delinquencies of the bad ones. All banks are good to the unprotected depositor until they fail to pay their deposits and then they are bad ones, and then they suffer as the people State and other funds are allowed protection against failures, but the private individual must take the chance as to whether the bank is good or bad. The American people like fair play. They like to see the poor protected as well as the rich. To long has the republican party fooled them with promises of needed reforms to this end. The people have arrived at the limit of their patience. The 3rd of November will show this to be a fact, and that they have decided to put a man at the head of national affairs who will not pursue the changeable policies of such papers as the Oregonian, but who will work for the good of the common people, first, last and all the time. That is his uncontroverted record, and the people know that they can rely on him to bring these reforms about.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)
Washington, D. C., Oct. 2, 1908.
The New York Herald which possesses a skill and accuracy seldom equaled in feeling the political pulse, is satisfied at the result of its recent investigation. About the first of September they estimated that Mr. Taft had 200,000 electoral votes and that Mr. Bryan only had 161,000 of the 242 necessary to elect. In a recent issue of that paper they declared that Ohio, North Dakota, Kansas and Oregon which they had placed in the republican column could be taken out and put in the doubtful column with strong democratic leanings. The New York Herald during the last 28 years has been an unerring political prophet and while it is an independent paper, the forecast that they make, shows that Bryan's election is now almost certain. This discovery was a great puzzle to the Herald at the outset, but they have now discovered the secret. In Roosevelt's despoiled dictation to the republican leaders that has resulted in a feeling of disgust and apathy not equalled in Harrison's overwhelming defeat in 1902. All the leading republican papers and the prominent for Mr. Taft was not made by the republican party but by the direct appointment of Mr. Roosevelt himself. This is a kind of political game not really being indulged in. It has remained for Mr. Roosevelt, the president of the United States, to lower himself to the level of a ward politician and to revive the old disgusting methods of mud-slinging campaigns. Every man in the country that knows the record of Mr. Roosevelt, knows that he is as incorruptible as Lincoln or Washington ever were, and superior to Roosevelt or Taft. Ever since the policy that Mr. Roosevelt claims as his own was taken bodily from the teachings of Mr. Bryan and democratic platforms and it is a fact that Mr. Roosevelt never originated a single one of them. This is what makes Roosevelt so mad.

DALLAS TO NUMBER.

Another Step in the Onward March of Progress.
As stated elsewhere our city council was last Monday night presented with a proposition for the numbering of her

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the skin or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free. Also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

Do not make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

Ever since I was sixteen years of age I had suffered from an organic degeneration and female weakness; in consequence I had dreadful headaches and was extremely nervous. My physician said I must go through an operation to get well. A friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I took it and wrote you for advice, following your directions carefully, and thanks to you I am today a well woman, and I am telling all my friends of my experience."

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has positively cured thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, flatulency, indigestion, dizziness, or nervous prostration.

OREGON AGRICULTURE

Makes Mention of Polk County Fair Exhibits.
Hayley & Son, of McCoy, were large exhibitors at the Oregon State Fair. They have for many years been breeding the Lowest Lawn Lincolns, and take great pride in them. They had three yearling ewes, unshorn, with the fleece weighing 22 inches in length; these were left in this long fleece that the public might know of the possibilities of the Lincoln sheep as a long-wool mutton producing sheep.

HELPFUL ADVICE

You won't tell your family doctor the whole story about your private illness—you are too modest. You need not be afraid to tell Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., the things you could not explain to the doctor. Your letter will be held in the strictest confidence. From her vast correspondence with sick women during the past thirty years she may have gained the very knowledge that will help you, free. Such letters, as the following, from grateful women, establish beyond a doubt the power of

to conquer all female diseases. Mrs. Norman R. Barndt, of Allentown, Pa., writes:

COUNCIL MEETS.

Proposition Presented for Numbering Streets and Residences.
The city council met in regular session last Monday evening with all present except Councilman Ellis and Shaw. Council reported the walks on Washington street properly laid and recommended that a warrant be drawn in favor of Contractor Roy Wasen for the amount of 21 1/2 cents a foot.
On motion of Coad the city agreed to pay $30 toward the laying of a cement crosswalk on Main street between the corners of D. C. Ord and Boyd & Son. This was in acceptance of a proposition which was the property owners of that vicinity, who as the walk had to be re-laid wanted to have a good one put down and were willing to stand the balance of the cost.
On motion of Coad an ordinance was ordered drawn prohibiting the hitching of horses to the poles on macadam streets. This practice has already led to holes in the streets, and if continued would entirely nullify the council's work for better highways.
The committee on fire and water were authorized to purchase an expander for the proper fixing of leaky fire hose.
Casper reported that the street fund was in a bad way as to finances, owing to the property owners not having all paid up, and that some $6,000 was set in arrears. The auditor was instructed to at once collect the same.

A petition from R. L. Jacobs was read making a proposition to number the business houses and residences on Dallas and to put up street signs, and on motion of Coad an ordinance was ordered drafted preparing for such an ordinance. The ordinance committee to agree on a system of numbering and report the details to the city attorney for drafting. Quite an amount of discussion was had in this matter, and the council seemed unanimous in wishing to adopt some such improvement. The offer of Mr. Jacobs was to number the residences without any cost to the city, he getting his pay out of the property owners. He proposes to put in a nice ornamental letter, 2 1/2 inches in length, and to cost from 25 cents to 50 cents each, according to style. He favors the 100 to 200 block system, which is universally conceded to be the best, and to commence and run in all directions from the court house, which is the geographic center of the town, and would admit of no confusion as the town grows. As Dallas city boundaries now extend one-half mile each way from the court house such a system would be practicable and no confusion could ever arise if we enlarged our limits. The street signs the city would have to pay for at an approximate cost of some 20 cents each, totaling probably some $75 for the entire town.
The hearing was closed in the Court street improvement matter, the resolution passed, and an ordinance providing for the same read first time.
An order was provided for a conduit for the race and a cement sidewalk along the Main street front of the D. C. Ord property was passed.
The marshal was instructed to lay the McDevitt sidewalk.
