Portland Business College

"THE SCHOOL OF QUALITY"

Tenth and Morrison, Portland, Oregon   A. P. Armstrong, LL.B., Principal

We occupy two floors 65 by 100 feet, have a $20,000 equipment, employ a large faculty, give individual instruction, receive more calls for office help than we can meet. Our school admittedly leads all others in quality of instruction. It pays to attend such an institution.

Said a Business Man: "Keep hammering away everlastingly on thorough work. It will win out in the end." Said an Educator: "The quality of instruction given in your school makes it the standard of its kind in the Northwest."

Open all the year. Students admitted at any time. Catalogue free.

Correspondent's Contest.

A number of correspondents have asked us if subscriptions will count in the contest now on. We had not intended that anything but regularity in sending in items would be a factor, but as so many seem to desire this change, we will add a special prize and let subscriptions count. We have purchased of Adams, Brobst Company a nice Morris chair covered with leatherette, automatic in action, and with fine finish, Mission style. This we will give to the correspondent sending in the most subscriptions during that time. Each $1 sent in will count 100 votes for the Morris chair, and it may be for new or old subscriptions, job work or advertising.

Still Thinks Them Good.

John Schuette, president of the Manitowoc (Wisconsin) Savings bank, the father of the bank guarantee plan, is a republican, though he believes in the democratic remedy for the banking evils and panics of of the country. He is in Portland now with his daughter on a tour of the country, and he is enthusiastic in his advocacy of the guarantee of bank deposits by the general government. "Fifty years ago I conceived the idea of guaranteeing bank deposits," said Mr. Schuette this morning, "and I have studied it constantly since that time. It is not a visionary scheme, it is the solution of the banking and panic questions and it is bound to come, if not in one way, then in another.—Oregonian.

Have Crowded House.

The Alcazar Stock Company played to a crowded house last Monday evening at Woodman hall. Dallas is to be congratulated that she is able to support the visits of a company of this calibre. The players are all ladies and gentlemen, and extremely proficient in their several roles. The two nights entertainment already given here has firmly established their worth in the minds of our people, and they can always rest assured of crowded houses at their visits hereafter. From now on they will come to Dallas once every two weeks on Monday night, and the next play will probably be Our Minister, for which a Wife's Hobby was substituted last Monday after the papers came out

POLK PIONEER DEAD.

Another highly respected pioneer passed to his reward when Andrew J. Purvine died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. A. Remington, Friday afternoon, of pneumonia.

Mr. Purvine was born in Morgan county, Illinois, in 1833, therefore being 75 years old. He came to Oregon in 1844 direct from Illinois, and has lived in this state continually since that date. He was twice married in this state, his second wife, who survives him, being a sister of Wm. Staiger and Mrs. A. J. Monroe.

When deceased first came to Oregon he located near Hubbard, where he remained until 1852, when he moved to Spring Valley, Polk county, where he remained throughout the intervening years.

These following survive him: George and C. M., of Portland, Cyrus, of Independence; Mrs. Percy Willis, Fort Columbia, Wash., Albert at home on the farm; Mrs. E. T. Prescott, Mrs. J. A. Remington, Salem; Monroe and Fred.

Deceased has been almost a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church.—Statesman.

Carter-Trent.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Trent, on the Dolph place, Judge Hardy Holman spoke the happy and impressive words that made one flesh of Mr. Clarence C Carter and Miss Mary Trent. The marriage occurred at high noon and a number of relatives of both contracting parties were present to witness the ceremony and afterward to discuss such a bountiful and well cooked dinner as is but seldom within our call. The happy couple at once went to housekeeping on one of J. W. Myer's farms and have now settled down as staid old married folks. The Itemizer and their many friends in Polk county unite in wishing them a life of bliss from now on.

The only satisfactory answer to the momentous question, Are the dead alive? must be founded upon facts, says Alfred Russel Wallace, in the November Delineator. During the last sixty years evidence has been accumulating in every part of the world which affords demonstration that the so-called dead have never really died at at all, but have passed into a new and higher stage of existence.

Lots of Hops Sold.

The Oregonian is authority for the statement that hops in this section were pretty well sold up last Saturday. It says: "The feature of the day was the sweeping operations of Klaber, Wolf & Netter in the Dallas section, absolutely, buying everything that was for sale there. Twenty-three lots of Dallas hops, totaling 2050 bales, passed under their control during the day. the prices ranging from 7 to 7¾. The same firm also bought 675 bales in other sections during the day. This is the biggest single day's business ever accomplished by one hop firm in Oregon.

Thoroughly Reliable.

If ever there was a reliable and safe remedy it is that old and famous porous plaster, Allcock's. It has been in use for sixty years, and is as popular today as ever, and we doubt if there is a civilized community on the face of the globe where this wonderful pain reliever cannot be found. In the selection of the ingredients and in their manufacture the greatest care is taken to keep each plaster up to the highest standard of excellence, and so pure and simple are the ingredients that even a child can use them. Allcock's are the original and genuine porous plasters and are sold by druggists in every part of the civilized world.

A birthday party was given little Helen Casey Sunday.

Mr. Will Tylersmith, who is employed on the Oregonian, and his friend, Mr. E. Allen, were over Sunday visitors at the home of the former's sister, Mrs. F. J. Craven.

PULLED AT DALLAS.

Sheriff Grant Nabs Man and Woman for Theft.

Some time last July an Indian woman residing across the river from Oregon City was robbed of some valuables. The authorities there were pretty well satisfied as to who was guilty of the theft, but the parties succeeded in getting away before they could be apprehended. Sheriff Grant was furnished with a description of the fugitives from justice, and has since that time been keeping his eye peeled for them. They were known as Albert Ferris and wife, he being of half blood, and Monday night they drove into Dallas, having come by team and wagon from California. They were promptly nabbed by the sheriff, and permitted to occupy apartments in the quarters provided by our county court for those who are accustomed to violating the law. Tuesday evening Mr. Miles, constable of Oregon City, arrived up, and yesterday morning took the man and woman back to stand trial for the offense.

An Oregon City correspondent has this to say of the affair: Albert Ferris and his wife Louisa are in the Polk county jail, charged with stealing $210 and a gold ring from Johanna, an ancient Indian woman of this city. Farris, accompanied by his wife and daughter, came here from the Grand Ronde reservation several months ago and camped in West Oregon City. They formed the acquaintance of Johanna, and worked their way into her confidence. One dark night Johanna awoke to see Ferris climbing out of her bedroom window and was too frightened to give the alarm. When the case was given to the police next day Farris and his dusky family had fled. The daughter returned to the reservation while Farris and his squaw went to California, and evidently lived high [illegible] days ago they returned to Polk county, where the authorities were on the lookout for them.

Right Kind of Response.

Here is the right kind of response made to the leather belt house trying to get all manufacturers to unite against the laborer and Bryan, and promise work if Taft is elected: "Your cry of disaster every four years if a certain ticket be not elected is doing a great injury to the country. Can't we ever have a change of administration without the "interests" cry disaster? If not, you had better have Van Cleve and the National Association of Manufacturers appoint our presidents and failing in this let us have a "monarchy." It is the only you can be consistent. Yours very truly, American Electric Tel. Co. P. C. Burns, president.

Mrs. J. F. Powell Dead.

Mrs. Augusta M. Powell, of Monmouth, died of cerebral tumor at 9:30 Monday evening at the Salem hospital. Deceased was 27 years old, and leaves a husband, J. F. Powell, and two children. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Mulkey, well known pioneers. The deceased had been ill some weeks and was brought to the hospital last Thursday in an unconscious condition. The funeral was held at Monmouth Tuesday afternoon.—Statesman.

City May Lose Land.

That the city of Independence, Eleanor Black and William Black are not entitled to a certain piece of property in that vicinity is alleged in a complaint filed in the circuit court Saturday by executors of the Tilman Ford estate. The plaintiffs are Wm. Kaiser and Angie L. Warren. It is alleged that C. H. Idleman first owned the land and gave a mortgage to Tilmon Ford for the consideration of $4000. It is now claimed the note for the mortgage has never been paid as well as a large sum of interest, but nevertheless Idleman disposed of the property to Eleanor Black, who in turn sold to Wm. Black, and that later a quit claim deed was given to the city of Independence for a portion of the land to be used as a pipe line for a watering trough. Now the executors of the Ford estate desire to have all three titles to the property declared invalid in favor of the estate as holder of the mortgage.—Salem Statesman.

John Dwyer broke his wrist at a Black Rock logging camp Saturday.

Miss Mina Hughes has returned from a visit of several months in California.

J. C. Rose wants his Itemizer changed from Monmouth to Khalotus, Wash.

H. D. Whitman, the former Monmouth laundryman, has changed his address to St. Johns.

Eugene Byerley expects to open his bowling alley this week. Everything is now up to date, and he will no doubt, have a large patronage.

A hayrack party of some 30 young people from Monmouth enlivened our streets Saturday night. They spent the evening at the rink.

George Brown had a skating match on with a party at McMinnville Friday night, but his oponent flew the track and left before he got there.

Dallasites going to the metropolis since our last issue are: Miss May Shelton, John Olin, N. L. Guy, J. B. Thompson, R. E. Williams, Mrs. Chas. Bilyeu, A. S. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vaughn, Miss Jennie Muscott.

Rev. M. F. Dixon was a McMinnville visitor Monday.

W. C. Bullis went to Dallas this week to work on the Falls City railroad.—Jefferson Review.

There will be baptismal service at the Methodist church next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

The Dallas primary grade opened work Monday with Miss Evangeline Hart and Miss Georgia Martin in charge

Supposing all the rock put on our streets this summer could be piled in a heap, where would the court house be in comparison?

The railroad boys mentioned in last week's paper concluded to enter a plea of guilty and were fined $10 apiece for disturbing the peace.

Johnson Bros. have just put in a fine line of candies of the Russell and Gilbert make, the finest on the Pacific coast. They have all kinds and they are fresh.

City Engineer Morrison took advantage of the rainy weather shutting off work on the streets and went to Portland yesterday to visit with his son, Ralph, for a few days.

N. J. Grooms, of near Boise, Idaho, has purchased the W. G. Vassall farm of 155 acres near Bridgeport for $4000, and taken posession. He is accompanied by Mrs. Groom and one daughter.

Mrs. Ella J. Emmons, a cousin of Mr. Willis Simonton, died at Palo Alto, of cancer of the stomach, aged 46 years. She leaves a husband and son, and was well know in Dallas as a most estimable lady.

Yesterday Grandma Emmons arrived at the grand old age of 91 years. Many of her friends took advantage of the occasion to call on her and assure her of their regard and to fecilitate her on her continued good health.

Quite a number of the militia boys are practicing strenuously for the company shoot on October 20th. A number of extra good shots have developed among them, and it is certain that Dallas marksman will not find themselves entirely outclassed when it comes to the Oregon companies.

R. R. Butler, a republican candidate for elector, is scheduled to speak here Saturday week, and Judge Lowell, of Pendleton, will probably also be here. Both are known as fluent and entertaining talkers, and will no doubt be greeted with a full house. In fact our republican friends are aiming to make of the occasion an old time rally and love feast.

SWELL SHOES

Queen Quality SHOE

$4.00 $3.50 $3.00

The reputation of a shoe is the concensus of opinion of all who have actually tried it. Sometimes shoe reputation is valuable. The reputation of the "Queen Quality" Shoe for example is one of the most valuable assets in the entire shoe trade of this country to-day. Hundreds of thousands of women buy "Queen Quality" Shoes every year simply because they know they can rely on their reputation. The only ordinary thing about them is the price. $3.00, $3.50, $4.00

We have the Sole Agency for these famous shoes. We want to show you the new fashions which are now ready.
