If we would begin right now to "count our marbles," says Anne Story Allen in the November Designer, there would be very little time left for dwelling on disagreeable things. In fact, while we were busy counting up those "marbles" we would more than likely find some of them among the incidents, afflictions, trials that we have always put under the head of "disagreeable" or "cruel" or "terrible."

The Christian Endeavor association most pleasantly entertained the students of Dallas colleges Friday night. About 150 were present and after listening to a nice program, took part in a grand march, followed by refreshments and social intercourse. No better way could be planned for quickly acquainting our new students with the young people of the town are making their bed at home.

Assessor Graves expects to finish up the summary of the tax roll by Saturday. There will not be much change in the total result from last year, probably the property valuation showing a little decrease, owing to the lowering of the assessment on timber lands. The equalization board will set next Monday to hear complaints, but Mr. Graves does not expect there will be many kicks coming. Complaints must be filed next week with the board or they will not count.

The Heniker would suggest that if there be any rock in the quarry to be placed on the alley back of our main block. This driveway was nearly impassable last winter, and should be fixed in some way.

Only 18 days more will be over for another year period. Then we can draw a breath of relief. We are patiently the counting of the votes, and find out how much we or the other fellow really know how the hole was secured for him.

Mr. W. W. Dawson is circulating a petition today for presentation to the city council for the position of night watchman. The merchants are so far contributing liberally, and after Mr. Dawson has secured all the money he can toward his salary in that way, the matter will be put up to the city fathers. It is hoped that we can secure such an official for our town. This thing of leaving it entirely unprotected for many long hours each night is a thing of greater chance than we can well afford to stand. By each business man throwing in his monthly mite and the city putting up the balance of a fair salary, no one will be seriously crippled financially, and lots of anxiety will be saved all of us.

C. L. Ballard, who has but recently returned from a prospecting trip throughout the mining district of the Santian country, showed us some samples of ore, which he secured from the mines of the Gold Creek Mining and Milling Co. in the Gold Creek. These specimens were taken directly from within the tunnels, where active drilling and blasting is going on and show high percent of gold, silver and copper. Mr. Ballard is quite heavily interested in the Santian property, and owns a nice residence on Market street which they inhabit, it having been lately renovated throughout. Polk directory loses much in the change of residence. Mr. Riggs has served the taxpayers well and faithfully for two terms as commissioner, and it is probable now are long again have been called on for service in some office of political trust. Moss Riggs is well known for her philanthropic and church work, and has held many offices of honor along such lines.

TEACHER'S INSTITUTE.

It Convened Yesterday With a Large Attendance.

The annual institute for the pedagogues of Polk county convened at the public school house in Dallas yesterday with an attendance of about 100 teachers. Others have appeared today, and an extraordinary interest is being taken in the work outlined by all present. Some noted instructors are here for the purpose of instructing the teachers of the county the full benefit of their years of experience and acquainting them with all the latest methods of instruction in vogue elsewhere. Among these instructors we noticed: State Superintendent Ackerman, W. J. Kerr, of O. A. C.; E. D. Ressler, of Monmouth; H. D. Sheldon, of the state university; R. F. Robinson, of Multnomah; L. R. Traver, of the normal; J. M. Powers, city superintendent of Salem, and Miss Cornelia Marvin, who is the secretary of the Oregon Literary Commission.

On Wednesday morning the teachers were instructed in history and diseases of memory by H. D. Sheldon and in Geography by Cornelia Marvin.

In the afternoon addresses were made by Cornelia Marvin, E. D. Ressler and H. D. Sheldon.

On Wednesday morning the teachers were instructed in arithmetic by J. M. Powers, language and H. C. Sheldon made an address. R. F. Robinson taught Reading and J. H. Ackerman spoke. This afternoon J. M. Powers is telling all about language and Sheldon and Ackerman give talks.

The teachers are divided into three departments, primary, intermediate and advanced, and work is going on in all of them at the same time, so that every minute of every teacher's stay at the institute is utilized and to advantage.

Each teacher is compelled to attend for at least 16 hours of the three day session in order that her district may receive its apportionment for this purpose and all schools are compulsorily closed during the session.

Last evening the teachers were given a reception by our citizens, which was enjoyed by our citizens, which was enjoyed by our citizens.

Tonight W. J. Kerr will deliver a lecture on Modern Demands in Education, which is expected to draw a large attendance and which the public generally is cordially invited.

Rushing Business.

Saw, can you tell me who wrote that fool song they are singing now-a-days? No? Well, if I catch him I will soak him one. Father worked over time on me this morning. I told you he warned me about falling in love and it was affected in my limit now, and you would hear of any more love business from Willie—the only thing that I will love in the future will be my work. I am going to bury my thoughts of Julia in the advance ages to be act forth as to why you should trade with my loss. In the first place, everybody in this country knows him and has a right to call him by his given name. I can't call him that 'cause it's too familiar, but most everyone does. And I want to tell you that every one works around this provision shop, the old man included. Why we've got to work to get out our orders. This business is growing so fast that we ain't got time to get acquainted with our families' 'cept on Sundays.

EDISON AMBEROL RECORDS

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT: We take great pleasure in announcing to the thousands of delighted owners of Edison Phonographs a number of changes and improvements in both Phonographs and Records, which will add much to their pleasure in the future.

Despite the great popularity of the Edison Phonograph in its present form, and the Edison Records, the result of a series of experiments made by Mr. Edison and his associates in his laboratory at Orange, adds to what we now have to offer music lovers the following very interesting improvements:

1—A new Record made of a new composition, by a new process and playing an average of more than four minutes.

This will be known as the Edison Amberol Record. Its most important feature is a recording thread of 200 lines to the inch, or twice as fine as the present Record of 100 threads. By this means more than twice the playing length is secured without increasing the length or diameter of the Record itself. Since the finer thread required a smaller reproducing point it became necessary to find a new composition that would successfully resist the wear of the smaller reproducer. The successful and accurate moulding of a 200-thread Record, formed of a much tougher composition, also necessitated changes and refinements in our moulding process.

More than two years have been spent in experimenting to secure these results, the work of several experts being constantly directed and supervised by Mr. Edison.

The Edison Amberol Record is the most wonderful production of its kind that the world has seen. The engraved sound waves are so minute that the eye cannot follow them, and yet the sounds are reproduced even more clearly, more naturally and more sweetly than the present Record. At the same time, they are more durable and will wear longer. The present two-minute records will be continued without change.

The Edison Amberol Record will be sold at 50 cents each, making it the lowest priced Record now sold, considering also that it will play longer than any other talking machine record now before the public.

2—A series of attachments by which, at slight cost, all present Phonographs, except the Gem, may be equipped to play the longer Record in addition to the present one.

With a Record of a finer thread it becomes necessary to offer an attachment whereby the new Record can be played upon the old Phonograph, so that users will not find it necessary to buy a new Phonograph in order to play the new Records.

Two attachments are required to transform an old Edison Phonograph so that it will play the Amberol Records.

The first is a differential gear which is comparatively easy to attach to any Edison Phonograph except the Gem, and which, by changing the speed of the arm which carries the reproducer, makes it possible to carry either the two-minute or four-minute Records.

The second is a new reproducer with a fine engraved reproducing point so that it can be used in the finer engraving of the new Records.

Attachments will be sold at the following prices: For Standard Phonographs, $5 each; for Home and Triumph Phonographs, $7.50 each.

These attachments are now on sale at L. D. Daniel's who will explain also the method of attaching.

3—Several new types of Edison Phonographs by which both the present and the new Record may be played at the pleasure of the operator.

Three new types of Phonographs which are now for sale for playing both the two-minute Records and the Amberol Records will be called the Edison Standard Phonograph Combination Type, Edison Home Phonograph Combination Type and the Edison Triumph Phonograph Combination Type.

The new types of Edison Phonographs will be sold at: Edison Standard Combination Type, $30; Edison Home Combination Type, $40; Edison Triumph Combination Type, $60.

We also have the Idella, Balmoral, Conqueror and Alva Phonographs equipped to play both Records, and finally, we will continue to sell the Gem, Standard, Home and Triumph Phonographs at the same prices as before.

The importance of these improvements cannot be over estimated. Everyone who has had any interest in the Edison Phonograph will find that interest greatly increased and his amusement greatly enhanced by hearing the Amberol Records, which are longer, sweeter and better.

All great improvements in the way of reproducing sound have been made by the National Phonograph Company, and this latest improvement—that is, the long Record—makes the Edison Phonograph unquestionably the best Phonograph for pleasure or instruction.

Let us add a new attachment to your Phonograph.

L. D. DANIEL, DALLAS.
