Patronize One Another for the Upbuilding of Town and County.

Nice day.

It is a long lane that has no turn.

Truth crushed to earth will rise again.

Ralph Williams surely made good as national republican committeeman for Oregon.

Thanksgiving is the next thing to embrace the opportunity and thrust itself into the public gaze.

Once more can the residents of Polk county turn their mind entirely to business and agricultural pursuits without this great disturber of the public mind to again bother for at least four years. We can again bend our energies to other things and let the hard feelings of the election, if any were created, pass into a sweet oblivion.

Eugene surprised the people of this entire country last year by raising a great advertising fund and paying a salary of $5,000 annually for an expert. Up to last Saturday night there has been subscribed for the coming year $13,661, to which will be added $1,400, the total being more than a dollar and a half for every man, woman and child in the city, and this will be used in advertising the resources and advantages of Eugene and Lane county. Eugene is determined to go ahead and doesn't mind a little thing like a national election.

Several times lately we have been asked if the Itemizer is to have a bargain day this fall, as last year. We have not decided. The fact is that the continual rise in the cost of everything pertaining to the printing business nearly precludes such a step. At a subscription price of $1.50 a year the Itemizer is not making any too much profit. For our bare paper, before any local news is printed thereon, the weekly expense is $15. A large portion of this goes to the colored supplement. By the by, the Itemizer is the only paper in Oregon, outside of the Portland dailies, that furnishes such a supplement. That it is justifiable is evidenced by our large subscription list. This we do not have to brag about, as every postmaster in the county can tell you how that matter stands. We may and we may not give a bargain day.

The working men of the nation on last Tuesday had the chance once more to start the proper machinery in motion, controll their own affairs and enact their own laws for the betterment of their own condition and that of the nation. As has been done before, their chance they deliberately threw away, and will for another four years continue to be ruled by capital as they have in the past. Capital takes no such chances, but by coalition of their forces, continue always to have things coming their way, mainly by deluding the immpressionable voter into the belief that their interests are identical. To some extent they are, but not to the extent that one must become entirely subservient to the other. To have it thus and the relief not in the ballot box, might eventually cause too drastic measures for relief to be taken, as is the history of the world where one power is continuously in control. We sincerely hope no such time may ever come for these United States. The ballot box is the only right place for the rectification of evils.

A LARGE PAYROLL.

Dallas Steam Laundry not Small Institution by any Means.

Although we have always known that our steam laundry employed a number of hands and was doing a crackerjack business, yet we hardly ever grasped the full significance of the benefit such an institution is to the town until in conversation with Mr. Thompson, its genial and enterprising proprietor, we the other day gleaned a few items. First, let us say that Mr. Thompson is a man after our own heart, one who thoroughly believes that the way to build up Dallas is to patronize Dallas people. That has been our motto since living here, and with Mr. Thompson we firmly believe that is the best way to build up our town successfully. Never go outside for anything you can get at home. Patronize your home people if you expect them to patronize you. In the end you will find that the cheapest, most provocative of a friendly feeling, and but simple justice between man and man.

The Dallas Steam Laundry has a continual monthly payroll of $400, every Saturday night $100 in cash being distributed among its 8 to 10 employees, each of whom at once comes up town and before long sets it going in other channels. The money then paid out regularly maintains six families with all the luxuries and necessities of life. It goes to the butcher, the baker, the candlestick maker, etc. And this has nothing to do with the other expenses of the concern, such as wood, lights, etc. Last month Mr. Thompson's bill for express alone was $80, for the sending out and return of laundered goods. Besides the Dallas trade, Mr. Thompson does work for all the neighboring towns of Falls City, Independence, Monmouth, Perrydale, Ballston, McCoy, Rickreall, etc. The outside trade far exceeds that of the town, and is a pleasing attestant of the superior work of our laundry, and that we can get the work in competition with other places where launderies are always reaching out for the trade of the town mentioned. Considerable money is necessarily invested in a plant of this kind the size of ours, and it would be a revelation to many to go through the works and see the amount of high priced and up to date machinery contained therein, and the facilities they have for turning out the very best kind of work. We hope the business will even double what it is now, meaning added prosperity to the proprietor, the employment of more hands and a larger Dallas, as every little helps in that grand work.

The postoffice will not be moved to its new quarters for some ten days until all the cabinets are erected and paint dry.

Humor

A GENTLE COLT.

And What Happened to the Man Who Bought It.

"Whoa!" was the simultaneous exclamation of the two old Brownstown farmers as they met on the road and pulled up for a little chat.

"Goin' on past Sim Jones' place?" asked one of them after they had disposed of the weather and their families

"Yep; I'm goin' a couple o' miles beyont him. Why?"

"Say," after a prolonged chuckle, "when you git front o' his place walk the hosses. If Sim don't show up, jest let on suthin has gone wrong with the wagon and go in and borry a wrench or a hammer. It's worth walkin' half a day to see Sim. Jemimy, but he's a sight!"

"Bee stings or what?"

"I hain't sayin' a word, only see him. That's all. Mornin'. Git ep!"

As good luck would have it, Sim was limping up and down in front of his place, and no strategy had to be used in getting sight of him. There was a towel about his head, he had but one eye in commission, and it was two-thirds closed, his hair was cut out in blotches to accommodate an adhesive plaster, and he could just manage to locomote with a crutch and a cane.

"Hello, Sim!" shouted the man from the wagon. "Keers run over you?"

"No; the keers didn't run over me. Durned cur'us how much people wanter find out when they come 'long here. But I hain't makin' no grumble 'bout you, Abe, 'cause you and me allus been friends. I know I look jest 's though I'd been sawed and split and piled up. Did you see that feller round here las' week peddlin' a pop eyed black colt 'ithout a white hair on 'im?"

"Yaas; stopped at my place and stumped me fur a dicker."

"Well, you'll never see him ag'in, Abe, ef I see him first. He tole me positive that colt was gentle as a kitten, and I bought him. That night I rode him inter the woods to look fur the cows, and when they found me 'bout midnight I was a blamed sight worse'n I am now. Ef you ever see that cuss, Abe, git me word ef it costs a dollar."—Detroit Free Press.

Just Like a Girl.

The Friend—Do you think she will keep her engagement a secret?

The Envious One—Well I should say not!

The Friend—Well, she received the gold band last night

The Envious One—Indeed! Well, it is a wonder she don't hire a brass band to announce it today.—Denver News-Times.

Dusty's Kick.

"Dese automobiles are a nuisance," growled Dusty Dennis as he frowned at a passing touring car.

"What's de matter, pard?" asked Gritty George. "One of dem run you down?"

"No, but last night dey put me in a cell wid a chauffeur, and I couldn't sleep for de smell of gasoline."—Chicago News.

Self Accusing.

"I don't believe you know much about farming," said the patronizing man who had just settled in the neighborhood.

"No," answered Mr. Corntossel; "I kind o' think I don't myself. A man that knew much about farming would not have bought a farm anywhere around here in the first place."—Washington Star.

What Was Lacking.

Tom—When are you going to wed your pretty fiancee?

Dick (gloomily)—Indeed I do not know.

Tom—But the report is gaining currency.

Dick—Yes, but I am not gaining currency. That is just the trouble.—Chicago News.

FACTS FOR SICK WOMEN

LYDIA E. PINKHAM

No other medicine has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women or received so many genuine testimonials as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

In every community you will find women who have been restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Almost every one you meet has either been benefited by it, or has friends who have.

In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., any woman any day may see the files containing over one million one hundred thousand letters from women seeking health, and here are the letters in which they openly state over their own signatures that they were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has saved many women from surgical operations.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is made from roots and herbs, without drugs, and is wholesome and harmless.

The reason why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is so successful is because it contains ingredients which act directly upon the feminine organism, restoring it to a healthy normal condition.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of these facts or doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

Eels.

The driest of all fishes is perhaps the river eel, yet, according to an analysis by a German chemist, 60 per cent of its substance is water. Salmon comes next, with 61.4 per cent. Lobsters and oysters are four-fifths water.

Walled Cities of China.

The walled cities of China are well named, for the majority are surrounded by walls thirty to forty feet in height and from sixteen to thirty feet in breadth. The city of Hsianfu is surrounded by a wall sixteen miles in circumference.

New York's Chamber of Commerce.

The oldest commercial corporation in the United States is in New York city. It is the chamber of commerce, organized May 5, 1768, in the historic Fraunces' tavern.

Russian Extravagance.

The wealthy Russians are said to be extremely profitable to hotel and shop keepers in the lands in which they are traveling. A Swiss authority insists that 200 Russians will spend more in a month than 1,000 English men and women for the same period of time.

Wood Engraving.

The first English engravers on wood worthy of notice were Edward Kirkall, born in 1695, and John Jackson, who died in 1754. But the art had no real vitality in England till the brothers Bewick, about the close of the eighteenth century, founded the English school, which has since attained a position second to no other.

Smoking Competitions.

Smoking competitions are extremely popular in Germany, and not long ago a prize winner smoked a cigar for seventy-four and a half minutes without letting it go out. None of the other competitors' records was over an hour.

India.

You may wander for days through India without seeing a European. There are white colonies in each of the capitals, but outside of these only a few planters, traders and missionaries are scattered over the land. In a city like Benares, the Venice of India, a man might live a year without seeing a white face.

Butter And.

The French chef insists that the very foundation of all good cooking is butter and onion married in the pot. The Italian cuciniere prefers butter and garlic. The Spanish cocinero seasons his dishes with butter and leeks.

The Zulu.

If he is properly led the Zulu does not understand the meaning of the word "surrender."

Old Iron Work.

In a dark corner near the west entrance of Winchester cathedral is a door composed of four pieces of iron grill work, which have the distinction of being the oldest specimens of their kind in England.

Amber.

Amber is found all along the Prussian shores of the Baltic, but principally in the peninsula of Samland. All amber found everywhere is state property, but the state cannot mine amber without the permission of the owner of the ground.

Those Imported Goods.

"Is Bliggins credulous?"

"Extremely. He believes every word he reads on a wine bottle or a sardine can."—Washington Star.

An Important Question.

I have two feet. My cat, with four,
Runs twice as fast as I.
Yet twice as slow I find I go
On all fours. Tell me why.
—Woman's Home Companion.

Noncommittal.

"Does this automobile racing business pay?"

"Well, it raises the dust."—Baltimore American.

Be Careful.

When you've a crow to pick with one
Who's angered you, don't treat it
Too hastily, or ere you've done
Perhaps you'll have to eat it.
—Catholic Standard and Times.

Ananias Outdone.

Knicker—Did that farmer lie?

Bocker—Yes. He said the fish would bite and the dog wouldn't.—Leslie's Weekly.

Warning.

The newest, nattiest straw hat
No more can grace impart
If snatched by wind from where it sat
To chase a sprinkling cart.

Force of Habit.

There is a certain western congressman whose boundless affability and habitual absentmindedness have occasionally led him into absurd mistakes. One day during his last campaign as he stepped from the train at the station of his home town after an arduous two weeks of stumping and "glad handing" his little daughter rushed up to him and kissed him. The congressman beamed upon her with a proud and tender parental eye.

"Well, well," he exclaimed, "if it isn't my little Alberta!" Then he added mechanically, "And how is your dear old father?"—Success Magazine.

Marrying.

Marry not for riches;
They vanish in an hour.
Marry not for beauty;
'Tis but a fading flower.
Marry not if very old,
Likewise if too young.
Marry not a coquette, or
You're apt to be stung.
Marry not one too short,
Neither one too tall—
And if you're happy single
Marry not at all.
—Chicago News.

A Matter of Time.

It was the day of the ball game, and Willie, the office boy, approached the head of the firm and stammered, "If y-you p-p-pl-please, sir"—

"Come, hurry up!" said his employer. "If you have anything to say, say it. Don't take half a day."

"But that's just what I was going to ask you if I could take," said Willie.—Harper's Weekly.

A Greek Song.

It was not I that dared betray
What none should know save you and me.
The moon beheld from heaven's way
And told the tale to all the sea.

The ripples laughed in elfish joy
And told the oar blade, water pearled.
The oar blade told the sailor boy,
Who sang our love to all the world.
—Woman's Home Companion.

A Dreadful Man Indeed.

Miss Mincer—Oh, I suppose Mr. Gruntle is not so bad a man; but, then, he's not the man a woman would care to marry.

Miss Candor (of Boston)—Good gracious! Is it possible that there is such a man as that in the world?—Boston Transcript.

Now is the time to visit California

When summer has passed in these northern states, the sun is only mild under the bright blue skies of Southern California. This is one of nature's happy provisions—eternal summer for those who cannot endure a more severe climate.

California has been called the "Mecca of the winter tourist." Its hotels and stopping places are as varied as those of all well regulated cities. Visitors can always find suitable accommodations congenial companions, and varied, pleasing recreations.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.

Will be glad to supply some very attractive literature describing in detail the many delights of winter in California. Very low round trip excursion tickets are on sale to California. The rate from DALLAS to Los Angeles and return is $58.00

Limit six months, allowing stop-overs in either direction. Similar excursions rates are in effect to all California points.

70 YEARS

There are two kinds of whiskey.
One is——the other isn't.

The kind that IS contains all the constituents that come from proper distillation and ageing—That's what makes it REAL whiskey.

The kind that ISN'T is made of alcohol, prune juice and bead oil or is simply alcohol put in charred barrels, and branded whiskey.

The Pure Food Law aims at having the consumer get exactly what he calls for.

When you call for whiskey ask your dealer if it will respond to a government laboratory test.

Ask him if he guarantees it.

Then you will know what you are paying your money for.

Buy the brand you know, the standard for 70 years.
