He was awarded a cell and officers came up for him today.

Mr. H. B. Stout has been made advance agent of the Dallas basket ball team, and will leave next Tuesday, a week prior to their going, to fix up matters ahead, make contracts, fix dates and attend to the minor details that come up in the care of such an aggregation. Surely a better man for the place could not have been found. Senator U. S. Laughary will tomorrow visit those who subscribed and collect half the amount.

Dr. B. H. McCallon returned from Albany Sunday, where Saturday he assisted in an operation on Mr. Frank M. Lewis, of the Luckiamute, for an ulcer on his leg and varicose veins. Mr. Lewis' many friends will be glad to hear that he stood the operation nicely, and in a couple of weeks can be looked for in his old haunts as well as ever. The operation was performed in the Catholic hospital at Albany, and Dr. McCallon has great praise for that institution, saying that while not so large as some, there is none better equipped or with more perfect attendance.

Married, at the residence of the brides parents in Monmouth, Oregon, at 3:30 p. m., November 29, 1908, Edna, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Guthrie became the bride of Mark A. Rickard, of Corvallis. The rooms were tastefully decorated with evergreens and Chrysanthemums and house plants. Mrs. May Bowden Babbitt played the accompaniment while Mrs. Zero A. Clark sang "All the World Loves a Lover," in her usual pleasant manner, after which Mrs. Babbitt played Loengrin's wedding march, while Rev. W. A. Wood led the way down to the parlor, pausing under a canopy of white bobinette and ribbon and white chrysanthemums and evergreens arranged in a dainty, pleasing way, where a very impressive ceremony was rendered that made the happy couple one. The bride was dressed in cream cloth, trimmed in embroidered silk chiffon, and carried a boquet of pale pink and white carnations and springeri fern. The groom wore the customary black. After the ceremony light refreshments were served, consisting of pressed chicken sandwiches, olives, pickles and cake and coffee; then all were invited to the dining room, where the bride cut the first piece of cake, after which it was cut by Miss Vena Rickard, sister of the groom, and served to the guests by Mrs. Veda Mulkey, sister of the bride. The punch bowl was presided over by Miss Leatha Rickard and served to the guests by Miss Leto Wolverton. Mr. and Mrs. Rickard left for Salem enroute by train for Portland and other points north for an indefinite stay, amid showers of rice and old shoes and placards on the carriage and decorations and the hearty good wishes of their many friends. They were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents consisting of silverware, cut glass, china, linen, and a $10 gold nugget from a friend in California; also a bushel box of oranges. They will be at home in Corvallis after January 10th, where they have a new 8-room bungalow being finished. Mr. Rickard comes of a highly honored prominent family of Benton county, while the bride is a young lady of much worth and will be missed in the circles of Monmouth and Polk county society.
