Iowa State College carried off most of the honors, winning three firsts in the shorthorn class. Oregon was not represented in the cattle and hog departments, but one sheep, carried away a ribbon when the judges view the animal, has been brought all the way to Chicago by F. A. Koser, of Rickreall.

M. H. PARKER DEAD.
Formerly School Teacher in Dallas and Ran for Superintendent.

Last Friday's Telegram had an account of the death of a man formerly well known in Dallas and throughout Polk county. It was that of Dr. Marion H. Parker, a physician and merchant of Greenville, Washington county. Mr. Parker was principal of the Dallas public school for some years along around 1884, and lived in the residence now occupied by Dr. Bollman. In 1884 he ran on the democratic ticket for county school superintendent, and Ewing Bros. $217, on the two cases were joined and tried before one jury. The inspection of the premises by the jury, taking of testimony and argument of counsel occupied the time of the Court from Tuesday morning until 4 p. m. Wednesday, at which time the case went to the jury. After deliberating some two hours the jury returned a verdict allowing Mrs. Ballard the sum of $500 damages, and Ewing Bros. $217. This is a material increase over the amount of damages allowed in the county court. The plaintiffs were represented by Attorneys B. A. Kilks of McMinnville and L. D. Brown of Dallas, the county being represented by District Attorney John H. McNary, Deputy District Attorney J. E. Sibley, and Oscar Hayter, special counsel for the county. In addition to the damages above specified, Polk county will be obliged to pay something like $150 as costs.

INTERESTING DAMAGE CASE.

The case of Alma Ballard, vs. Polk County, and that of Ewing Bros. vs. Polk County were on trial Tuesday and Wednesday. The actions were for damages brought by the above parties against the county for taking of certain lands for county road. The farms of the Ewing Bros and Mrs. Ballard are situated about two miles east of Dallas, and adjoin each other. For this reason the two cases were joined and tried before one jury. The inspection of the premises by the jury, taking of testimony and argument of counsel occupied the time of the Court from Tuesday morning until 4 p. m. Wednesday, at which time the case went to the jury. After deliberating some two hours the jury returned a verdict allowing Mrs. Ballard the sum of $500 damages, and Ewing Bros. $217. This is a material increase over the amount of damages allowed in the county court. The plaintiffs were represented by Attorneys B. A. Kilks of McMinnville and L. D. Brown of Dallas, the county being represented by District Attorney John H. McNary, Deputy District Attorney J. E. Sibley, and Oscar Hayter, special counsel for the county. In addition to the damages above specified, Polk county will be obliged to pay something like $150 as costs.

THE NEW HOSPITAL

Endorsed by the Club. Statesman Makes Advertising Proposition.

The commercial club met in regular session last night. A communication was received from Rev. Winter, thanking the club for their assistance in securing the $20,000 fund for the college buildings. He requested 200 booklets for use in advertising Dallas, and on motion of H. G. Campbell the books were ordered forwarded by express.

W. V. Fuller reported that he had a conference with the Portland people interested in an auto road from the metropolis through Dallas to the Siletz, and that he thought eventually something would be done in the matter.

Financial Secretary Staats reported a number of business firms that were not paying toward the upkeep of the club, and suggested that the soliciting committee get after them.

Claims allowed:
Conrad Stafin, supplies, $ 1 05
W. L. Tooze, salary, 33 32

Dr. Starbuck brought up the question of raising funds for another hospital in Dallas. He wished to build an institution costing about $7000, to be sold in shares at $10 a share to those who desire to invest. After the building is erected to rent it to competent nurses at enough to bring 6 per cent on the investment. Such a hospital would be equipped with about 20 beds. Dr. Starbuck desired it up to date and modern in every particular, stating that there were none such between Portland and Eugene. After the stock is subscribed, a board of directors consisting of business men would be elected to supervise its management. All he requested was the endorsement of the club, and on motion of H. G. Campbell the request was unanimously granted.

Mr. Hertz, of the Salem Statesman, appeared before the club and made them a proposition for advertising space in his paper's New Year edition. He suggested several catchy slogans for Dallas, such as Don't Delay Another Day. Destiny Points Out Dallas Way. On motion of U. S. Loughery the proposition was not accepted.

The financial secretary was ordered to take up the c. o. d. bill for the chicken coops soon to arrive.

W. A. Ayres brought up the matter of the Angora goat banquet, saying that the New Scott had closed up, they having guaranteed a rate of 50 cents a plate; that Mr. Thompson, of the Gail, wanted $1 a plate, and that the matter was now up to the club, and to whether the banquet should be held. Mr. Tooze made a brilliant speech, saying the club was now obligated to give the banquet, and it should be done, even at the advanced price. Mr. Loughery and others seconded this view of the question and the committee was authorized to go ahead at the advanced rate, on motion of Tracy Staats.

W. L. Tooze brought up the matter of building a stage on the end of the armory building, and on motion of W. V. Fuller a committee of three was appointed to look into the feasibility of the project. W. V. Fuller, W. L. Tooze and U. S. Loughery were appointed.

Mr. Woods asked as to what had been done in regard to trying to get our trains run into the Union depot at Salem, and the secretary informed him that the request has been sent in, but no reply received.
