A Word to Our Many Customers

Our business for the holiday season just closed—our first year in the book and art business in Dallas—was far ahead of even our fondest expectations. People who bought their gifts at this store—and there were many of them—had the satisfaction of knowing that no larger city in the country could offer them a more up-to-date assortment of books and art goods from which to choose.

Our holiday stock is gone, completely sold out. Of the hundred of dollars' worth of goods displayed on our tables and shelves two weeks ago, less than $20 worth remains unsold. This will mean a complete new stock of gifts for the holiday season of 1912. It means that we are now free to devote as much care and attention during the coming eleven months as will be necessary to the selection of a stock for next Christmas that will bring a busier trade than we enjoyed this year.

And, now, with the remodeling of our store and the rush of the Christmas season behind us, we will be able to devote more time to the completion of our book and stationery stock, and to add the lines of blank books, typewriters card index systems, and office supplies that will make the Dallas book store one of the best in the state.

We are deeply grateful for the generous patronage accorded us by the people of Dallas and Polk county, and more grateful still for the many kind expressions of interest in the success of our new business. In return for these many kind wishes, we but faintly express our gratitude when we wish for all our neighbors and friends the blessings of health, happiness and prosperity during the coming year of 1912.

A surprise party was tendered Miss Leora and Evanda Smith last Monday evening at the Lewis residence of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Leveck. About 20 of their young friends came in and spent a most pleasant evening, playing games, music and discussing a nice lunch. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Leveck, Misses Melba Calkins, Bessie Hoisington, Lois and Mattie Osborne, Jennie Fuqua, Aretha Grant, Gladys and Ruth Lewis, Messrs. Frank and Oscar Calkins, Ed and Frank Osborne, Ernest Hoisington, Kenneth Williams, Laird Lindeman, Melvin Crow, of Hillsboro.

Dr. B. H. McCallon, the eminent practitioner and local solon, and Mr. P. A. Finseth, the genial proprietor of the popular Bee Hive, saw to it Christmas that eye editor would not lack for the sororic influence of My Lady Nictine, by presenting us with a box of cigars each.

Dallas High School Breaks Even.

Last Friday Dallas high school lost a game of basket ball to Independence 23 to 19. It was a hard fought game. Woods threw six baskets from the field for Dallas, while Reeves and Purvine made all points for the locals. Boydston was replaced by Campbell when he slightly sprained his ankle.

Last night Dallas high won from Salem by a score of 32 to 12. Woods and Boydston each threw five baskets from the field. Barham threw three and Boydston six fouls out of nine tries.

FELL FROM A BRIDGE.

Residents of Independence were shocked Tuesday morning to find the body of Michael Cassidy cold in death at the bottom of the slough bridge, from which he had tumbled during the night while returning home in an intoxicated condition. Coroner R. L. Chapman was at once notified of the occurrence, and going to the scene empaneled the following jury: Ross Nelson, J. N. Jones, S. H. McElmurray, J. H. Dixon, James M. Jones and J. L. Coquette. After the examination of the following witnesses: Jas. Hillard, Wm. Presler, Henry Patton, Bert Crowder, Willis Dondard, Wm. Smith, J. H. Faegle, Mrs. Cassidy, Linn Cox, Wm. Block and Wm. Hiatt, they returned a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death at about 11 o'clock at night while crossing the bridge in an intoxicated condition, and falling therefrom.

Dr. Butler examined the body and gave alcoholism and falling from the bridge as the cause of death. There were no marks on the body except a broken nose and crushed face.

Deceased had been drinking during the day and being refused more drink by Sam Cox, the bartender, started for home. The assumption is that on reaching the bridge, he grew sick and was leaning over the railing when his feet slipped from under him and he fell over the railing. He leaves a widow and ten children.

USED RING CEREMONY.

At the court house Tuesday afternoon Judge Coad united in marriage Daniel W. Pickett and Etta Dow, W. J. White and Miss Iva Gwinn acting as best man and best lady. For the first time in history the ring ceremony was wrong in on the judge, but he got away with it. The couple are well known residents of the Ballston vicinity.

JAS. CLOW DEAD.

Long Resident of Polk Succumbs to Pneumonia.

Tuesday afternoon residents of Dallas were shocked to hear of the death of James Clow, at his home on the Fisher place near town. Hardly anyone knew that he was ailing, except from his old disease, rheumatism. Some 16 days ago he took a cold ride, in an enfeebled condition, and the cold taken turned to pneumonia, causing his death. Mr. Clow was a man who has lived with us for about 30 years, and with his brother, Robert Clow, now deceased, were prominent people of the county for many years. He was a man highly respected for his many virtues, and he leaves many friends to mourn his demise.

James Clow was born in 1839 in Perthshire, Scotland, coming to Oregon in 1886, and has since resided in the vicinity of Dallas. Besides his wife he leaves four children, James, John, Christina, Minnie and Donald, deceased. He also leaves a sister in Centralia, David, Archie, Bella and Anne in Ontario, Canada, and Andrew, Manitoba.

The funeral occurred at 1 o'clock today from the family home, Rev. Edgar Miles officiating, and interment will take place in the I. O. O. F. cemetery, Wm. Mackin, J. M. Burford, O. Dehaven, N. P. Rasmussen, Robt. Lowe and H. Sloan acted as pall bearers.

THEARING EXHIBITION.

Guy Bros. Will Give Practical Demonstration of Machine.

A unique feature of the coming goat show will be the practical demonstration by Guy Bros., the well known hardware man, of the utility of a shearing machine for both sheep and goats.

These gentlemen will have a booth at the armory, fully equipped with Stover gasoline engines with which to fully demonstrate the work of their shearing machine and also their fruit sprayer. Sheep and goats have been secured for the purpose, and on at least two afternoons in the week demonstrations of the shearing machine will be made.

This enterprising firm intends to let no chance go by to acquaint the public with the advantages of their improved machinery, and the work, especially of shearing animals by power instead of the old way by hand will be witnessed by all with much interest.

Ferry Cable Breaks With Load.

The cable used in propelling the ferry across the river at Independence broke Tuesday as the boat was crossing with a load and it was several hours before it could be restored. The steamer, Eugene, happened to be coming up the river when the accident occurred and pushed the ferry back to land before it had gone down with the current a great distance. There were two teams and several passengers on the boat when the cable gave way.—Journal.

Power Shearing Machines.

One feature of the goat show will be an exhibition by Mitchell Lewis, of the power, shearing and spraying machines, under the supervision of Guy Bros. It is hoped to be able to arrange a practical demonstration each afternoon.

MONMOUTH NO 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Guthrie, of Corvallis, spent Christmas with the former's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Will McCready, of Corvallis, visited the latter's parents the past week.

To the many Christmas shoppers who bought goods here this year I wish to return my most grateful thanks.

My trade has been the largest that I have ever enjoyed.

It shows that people appreciate the reliable wares, reasonable prices and courteous treatment.—Morris, the jeweler.

Finishes School Census.

Clerk Tracy Staats informs us that he has completed the census for school district 2 and finds there to be 447 boys and 443 girls, a total of 890. The preponderance of boys but falls in line with what is found this year to occur all over the world, and if old adages are of any value presages war. According to the general way of computing this would give the district a population of 4445, most of which lies within the city limits of Dallas.

O. S. N. CONVENTION.

Commercial Club's Effort to Secure this Meet Successful.

The Itemizer is in receipt of definite information to the effect that the next convention of the National Guard Association of Oregon is to be held in this city on February 5th and 6th, 1912. This was decided at a meeting of the general staff of the state of Oregon held in Portland Tuesday of this week. This convention will be a great event for Dallas, and we are fortunate to secure the same. The new armory will be formally dedicated at that time. The successful termination of the campaign on the part of Dallas, in the face of strong opposition and competition from other cities of the state, to land this convention, is largely due to the efforts of the Dallas Commercial club, and is but one more feather in the cap of our strong and well-organized boosting organization. These are the kind of things that make cities.

BIG BASKET BALL GAME.

Dallas to Play Amicus Club, of Portland Next Saturday Night.

Next Saturday night Dallas will play the self-styled champion Amicus Club basket ball team, of the metropolis. This club has defeated Multnomah club by the decisive score of 23 to 13, and are out to win the Northwest championship. A great game is expected. Though they had a pretty rough game Tuesday in Silvertown, the Dallas boys have recovered from the same, and will go into the game Saturday evening with the determination to win that has already made Dallas famous as a basketball town that develops basketball teams.
