SILENCE GOLDEN-POLITICLLY ESPECIALLY.

That the man who ever expects to aspire to political honors cannot keep to close tab on his speaking apparatus has been sufficiently demonstated during the last week in the case of one of the democratic aspirants for the presidency, and republican papers all over the land are endeavoring to make great capital over the lapse of the learned gentleman. Our country would be full of statesman today, or so they might be termed, had they but the capacity of withholding their comments upon events at inoportune times—to themselves—or remarks about those whom they may be working with or against. This fault of running off at the mouth has lost many a man an honor that he coveted, and some of them the presidential chair. Probably, also, an honor for which they had all the ability and every requisite, except the one failing of not knowing when to keep silent, thus making remarks that set the masses against them sufficient to lose them the votes they wanted and lost them the coveted job. The astute politician invariably lets the other fellows do the talking, and keeps his tongue behind his teeth and makes the proper deductions to lead him to success. But seldom is he found occupying the offices, however, as he finds it more remunerative to be the power behind the throne, knowing full well that should he put himself too much in the limelight, he too, might be guilty of the same indiscretion of babbling that oftimes loses him his game in putting some one in

The Itemizer espoused the cause of Woodrow Wilson as the right can lidate for the democratic nomination for several reasons, chief of which was that we thought him entirely untainted with politics-a pure, clean, man of good common sense, tempered with enough business ability to be able to engineer our government through all its devious meanderings of a four years' term with credit to himself and for the good of the whole country. As yet we have had no occasion to alter that belief. Take a man of scholastic temperament, entirely unused to the many disquieting things that may come up in a campaign of this nature, he is certain to say and do things that may be a cause for regret, both to himself and to his friends, in fact anything else could hardly be expected. Further experience along such lines will give him riper wisdom, and we hardly think that he will care to repeat the indiscretions attributed to him by the late dispatches. All men are prone to error, even the noblest that we have yet had in the government of this great country of ours, and as a seeker after the best man for the place that we think can be found, we deprecate the notoriety that has been given to a few chance words, although such was only to be expected when politics enters the field. We believe Governor Wilson to be clean cut in every particular, a man of good ideas for the betterment of the country, and fearless enough to do what he can to see them carried out, no matter what the opposition. If we did not, we would not pose as champion of his candidacy, our great desire · being to see the best man get the seat at the next election, no matter what may be his politics, provided that

Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitts mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean

he is not tainted with political or interest subserviency.

and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and clean, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs.

Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as eandy.

QUEEN ESTHER.

Rendered Friday and Saturday Nights by Local Talent.

Under the direction of Mr. M. E. Robinson, the well known cantata, Queen Esther, was put on the boards at Woodman hall last Friday and Saturday nights, both times to large and appropriation Friday and Saturday nights, both times to large and appreciative audiences. The affair was under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, and, judging from the well filled houses, must have proved a financial as well as a dramatic success. The Itemizer would like to have the space to individually compliment each performer, for the reason that all were star performers, and much heretofore unknown talent in that line was developed. The in that line was developed. The queen was an imported one, Mrs. W. H. Dale, from Harrisburg, and there could not have have been a better selection, she being "the beautuous queen" in every particular. Her services were doubly appreciated by our people owing to her kindness in giving her services free of cost and at considerable loss of time and expense to herself. She has the thenks of every one taking part thanks of every one taking part, and our citizens all never saw a better sustained character. As the handsome king, John E. The four little pages for the king and queen, Lucile Loughary. Rachel Forest, Hazel Loy and Frankie Grider, could not have been better, and the dance the introduced brought forth much praise. Ruth Shaw and her six companions also gave and her six companions also gave a series of evolutions that were much admired.
