A Remedy No Family Should Do Without

No matter how healthy a human being may be it is safe to say that not many months are passed without some obstruction of the bowels, in other words, constipation, even if only temporary. The bloating, the dull feeling may start after the evening meal. If a laxative is not taken that night it is certain that sleep will not be sound, and you will awaken unrefreshed.

Hence, it is important for you and for all the members of your family that a good, reliable laxative be always kept in the house for just such emergency. It is sure to be needed, and when needed you want it at hand. No family that is careful of its health can do without such a remedy. But the question of which remedy to have on hand is also of vast importance.

The laxative most highly recommended by the majority of intelligent Americans as being best for babies and grownups is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a liquid laxative-tonic, is mild, and never gripes, is effective on robust people and can be given with safety to an infant. Children like it because of these gentle qualities and because it is pleasant to the taste.

It is the best all-around remedy you can have in the house for any disorder of the stomach, liver and bowels, and many people like Mr. W. J. Wigner, Alma, Colo., and Mrs. Albert E. Guest, Massex, Colo., say they would as soon be without the necessities as without Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

GRANT-GRINDHEIM.

One of Dallas' Fairest Daughters Taken by Expert Machinist.

Another pretty June wedding took place yesterday at the home of Sheriff and Mrs. J. M. Grant when they gave in marriage their youngest daughter, Miss Freida, to Mr. Simon Grindheim, in the presence of forty invited guests, Rev. Leon Myers being the officiating minister. Miss Alice Grant, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mr. Will Caldwell was best man. Miss Opal McDevitt played the wedding march, and little Mildred Grant, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer. The bride, a petite brunette, was most charming in her wedding gown of crepe metoer, made entrain and trimmed with rich lace, the mob-cap veil of soft tulle was held in place by lilies-of-the-valley and she carried a shower boquet of lillies-of the-valley and bride's roses. The groom was in black full dress suit. The maid of honor wore a soft blue gown and carried pink carnations. During the hour Miss Opal McDevitt very sweetly sang "Because" The house was a bower of beauty, the parlors in white, the living room in pink and the dinning room in red roses with beautiful ferns inter mingling in each room. Refreshments were elaborate and very daintily served. Misses Nola Coad and Roberta McCallon presided at the punch bowl. Many beautiful presents of cut glass silver, linen and Haviland china were received. Mr. and Mrs. Grindheim left by auto for Salem, to Portland in the evening Thegroom holds a responsible position at the Gerlinger mills and the bride is a native daughter and very popular in church and social circles. The following guests were invited: Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lane, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Doughty, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Doughty, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Grant, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. June White Sale

OUR JUNE WHITE SALE IS AN ENTHUSIASTIC SUCCESS

We predict that this Mid-Summer White Wear Event will prove one of the most important we've ever held. The interest expressed by our patrons during the past few days was so enthusiastic, and the volume of purchases so large, that we do not hesitate to make this prophecy.

But—there may be some basis for this prophecy aside from the fact that purchases were large and numerous. We base this prophecy entirely on the knowledge of the superior quality merchandise that is involved in the sale and the exceptionally attractive prices with which these goods are marked.

In this June White Sale all kinds of white wear are included—both ready-to-wear apparel and yard goods. And stocks of every line are noteworthy, because they are the broadest we have shown this season—and because thoroughly good qurlities are the only kind represented. Prices, too, are of especial note. Read:
