DEMOCRATIC DAY.

George E. Chamberlain Principal Speaker This Evening.

Today is Democratic day at the county fair, and the untold throngs are out in force to make the occasion one of hilarity and enthusiasm over the expected victory at the polls in November. They have every reason to believe that they will be successful in putting in the head of the ticket, and expect that this will result in minor elections all down the ticket.

The county candidates of the party are here in force and are presenting their claims for election in their best possible manner. From all appearances the majority of the county ticket is pretty certain of election, for, as is usual with democracy, they aim to get the best man for the positions in the field.

The main feature of the day is a talk by U. S. Senator George Chamberlain, who is just out from Washington looking pretty thin after his strenuous work in the long session, but still the same old George, glad to meet with his many friends in this county.

FOX-MILLER.

Pretty Wedding Ceremony at Home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ellis.

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ellis, when their niece, Georgia B. Miller, became the bride of Verne A. Fox, Rickreall.

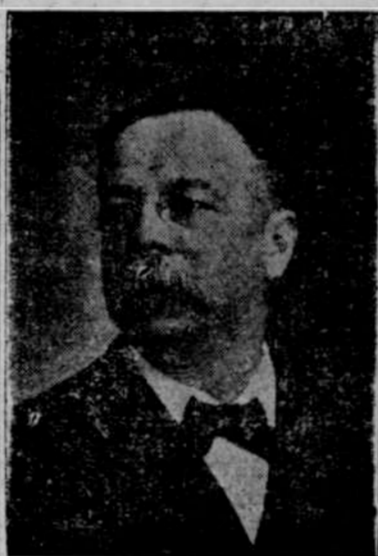

The bride was attired in a blue traveling suit, and instead of the usual bridal bouquet she carried her bible which added solemnity to the ceremony. Rev. Edgar Miles officiated. Only relatives were present for the occasion. After hearty congratulations the happy couple left the Ellis home under showers of rice and took the train for Portland where they will spend their honeymoon.

They will be at home to their friends after October 15th at Rickreall. Mrs. Fox is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Miller, of Salem, and one of Polk county's popular and attractive school teachers. Mr. Fox is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Fox, of Rickreall, and one of the most prominent families in the county.

At the Normal School.

Interest in class and student body affairs at the Oregon State Normal school has been growing and tennis, German baseball and other games will be continued by the students. The enrollment of the school is expected to reach the 180 mark this week. The several classes have completed their organizations by the election of the following officers: February senior class—president, Sadie Bell; vice president, Mary Whitman; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Eva Scott. Junior class—president, S. Hanns; vice president, Veva Dunlap; secretary, Genevieve Thompson; treasurer, Will H. Burton. June senior class—president, Charlotte Crowley; vice president, Gertrude Rohr; secretary, Florence Haan; treasurer, Mildred Frances. Sophomore class—president, Tom Ostein; vice president, Joseph Bell; secretary, Lydia Bell; treasurer, Osaie Grice. Freshmen and sub-freshmen—president, Ada Clinkenbeard; secretary and treasurer, Catherine Gentle.

KILLED IN POLK.

Well Known Hop Man's Auto Crushes Him to Death.

Jesse McCorkle, a well known Salem man, was killed at the water trough a short distance east of Eola, about 11:30 o'clock Tuesday night, when his automobile went over a bank and crushed the driver beneath it in the mud and water by the side of the road. McCorkle was driving from Salem to the Carmichael hop ranch near Independence, and had left Salem a few minutes after 11 o'clock. He was alone.

The overturned automobile with the body of the man beneath it was first seen by Roy Hickson and Roy King, who were returning from Dallas by auto with two girl companions. One young lady fainted at the sight, and for her relief the party hastened to Salem without stopping to investigate the overturned machine. As soon as the party reached Salem the police were notified by the young men and one of them took Officers Gaines and Whitlatch to the scene of the accident immediately. The officers arrived at the scene about 12:30 o'clock and recognized McCorkle at once.

Officer Whitlatch went to Eola and telephoned to the coroner at Dallas, obtaining permission to turn the body over to Coroner Clough, of Salem, who was notified immediately and at once went to investigate the case and take charge of the body. The bank over which the car plunged was about 5 feet high. McCorkle was associated with his father-in-law, Jack Carmichael, on the hop ranch near Independence. He had recently moved with his family into Salem, but having work that needed his attention at the ranch, left Salem late that night, intending to pass the night there. He was about 30 years old and is survived by a wife and one child.—Statesman.

Shower for Miss Miller

Miss Blanche McKinney gave a delightful China shower at her home 715 Jefferson St., last Friday in honor of Miss Georgia Miller, who became the bride of Verne Fox, of Rickreall, Tuesday. The decorations consisted of banks of sweet brier and the walls were beautifully decorated in hearts and cupid. The guests were entertained by popular musicians of Dallas, Miss Longnecker and Miss Claudia Plank giving several piano selections. Misses Pearl Owings, Alice Grant, Kathryn White and Anne Longnecker, who are gifted with pretty voices sang solos and little Rea and Vera Smith gave several vocal duets which were very much enjoyed. Miss Ruth Campbell then responded with one of her excellent humorous readings. Elaborate refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. E. M. Smith and Mrs. M. D. Ellis. While lunch was being served, Miss Pearl Smith favored the guests with several of her favorite piano selections. The guests were asked to give advice to the bride to be. Those responding were Mrs. E. M. Smith, Mrs. Hugh Black, Mrs. C. O. Tannis, Mrs. S. S. Grindheim, Mrs. M. D. Ellis and Miss Pearl Owings.

The guests were Misses Georgia Miller, Bessie Gooch, Pearl Owings, Alice Grant, Ada Longnecker, Anne Longnecker, Una Campbell, Ruth Campbell, Julia Nunn, Ruth Nunn, Pearl Smith, Claudia Plank, Rea Smith, Vera Smith, Kathryn Fox and Jean Young; Mesdames I. L. Smith, E. M. Smith, Edith Plank, Hugh Black, S. S. Grindheim, C. O. Tannis, Kathryn White, S. McKinney, James Feuster and M. D. Ellis.

To Be Wed.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Longnecker announce the marriage of their daughter, Ada, to Mr. John M. Simmons at the brides home at 8 p. m. on Wednesday, October 17th.

Miss Veva Burns visited friends in Salem Saturday.

Woman's Club Meets.

An interesting meeting of the Dallas Woman's Club was held Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church. Mrs. C. G. Coak sang "Marguerite." Miss Edith Starbuck presented the usual paper on Current Events, and two able addresses on the recent Biennial of Woman's Clubs were given by Mrs. George Frankel of Portland, and Mrs. W. E. Kirk, of Salem.

The regular monthly meetings of the club will be held in the Presbyterian church until their new quarters in the public library building are ready. At the Presbyterian church on Wednesday afternoon the first meeting of the season for the Literary section of the Woman's Club was held. Mrs. Oscar Hayter is the leader this year and the subject studied is Mythology. First will be studied the ancient classic Mythology, then that of the Norse peoples, and on down to that of our own land and our possessions over the sea.
