CAMPAIGNER'S ROAD ROUGH

Walter L. Tooze Experiences Series of Misadventures.

Campaigning in Oregon is not what it is reputed to be and if you don't believe it ask Walter L. Tooze, Jr., of Dallas. Thursday night Mr. Tooze addressed an enthusiastic Taft audience of 200 people at Clatskanie. Following the meeting Mr. Tooze boarded a launch, intending to cross the Columbia to Kalama and catch an early morning train for Portland.

Encountering a dense fog, the craft first became entangled in a fish net and when in that predicament narrowly escaped being run down by the steamer Hassalo. After disengaging itself from the fish net, the launch landed on a sand bar, where it was marooned for the rest of the night. At daybreak an obliging farmer was hailed and with his assistance the launch was again introduced to the river and the trip to Kalama was completed. None the worse for the experience, Mr. Tooze arrived in Portland about noon and left for Pendleton, where he delivered an address that night.—Oregonian.

Bride of 80 Years Ago.

Mrs. Susan Lachance, 96 years old, died October 10, of old age. The funeral was held Saturday, Rev. Father Raymond from McMinnville officiating. Burial was at Grand Ronde. She was born on the Columbia River near The Dalles, her maiden name being Goodrich. Her father, John Goodrich, a white man, was at the time working for the Hudson Bay Company, trading with the Indians. Her mother was a half Wasco and Warm Spring Indian. She was married when she was 16 years old to Peter Lachance, at St. Paul, Marion county, he dying 24 years ago at Grand Ronde. She leaves four children living, fourteen having died. Those living are Mrs. Clementine Jeffrey, Mrs. Tilma Leno, wife of the well known David Leno, deceased; Pross Lachance and Narciss Lachance. She leaves 85 grandchildren, 53 great grandchildren and four great great grandchildren.—Sheridan Sun.

MRS. HENRIETTA ELLIS DEAD.

Passes Away in Portland at the Home of Her Daughter.

Chet Ellis received a wire Thursday evening announcing the death of his mother in Portland and that afternoon, Aunt Henrietta was well known in Dallas, and leaves many relatives and friends. The following was taken from the Oregonian:

The death of Henrietta Rowell Ellis at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Johns, 632 Terrace Road, on the afternoon of October 17, marks the passing of another pioneer of Oregon.

Mrs. Ellis was born December 14, 1825, in Athens, Ohio. She was the daughter of William and Hester Lentner Rowell, a prominent Virginia family. She was a direct descendant of James Neal, a captain in the Thirtieth Virginia Regiment in the war of the Revolution under Col. William Russell. Other ancestors also gained distinction in the war of 1912.

On October 2, 1844, she was married to Henry Ellis, and in 1865 came to Oregon and Polk county. After the death of her husband in 1861, Mrs. Ellis moved to Salem, where she was an active and devoted worker in the First Methodist church. In 1908 she went to Baker to make her home with her daughter Mrs. C. A. Johns, remaining until last June, moving to Portland at the time Mr. and Mrs. Johns took up their residence in this city.

She is survived by three sons, W. R. of Oregon City, H. J. and J. C. Ellis, of Dallas; and three daughters, Mrs. N. L. Butler, Twenty-fourth and East Hoyt, Portland; Mrs. W. H. Kuykendall, of Clarkston, Wash., and Mrs. Charles A. Johns, 632 Terrace Road.

Funeral services were conducted from the First Methodist church in Salem.

PROHIBITION RALLY.

F. W. Emerson, from San Francisco, California, is coming to Dallas Wednesday, October 30th. Emerson is now pastor of the First Christian church in San Francisco, is the National committeeman of his party in California, and a member of the National Executive committee; he also was the second candidate for the nomination for president on the prohibition ticket. He was the candidate for governor in 1902 in Kansas, where his remarkable campaign and other activities in the interests of good government have won for him the right to be heard upon the platform of progressive politics.

He has been one and one-half years lecturing under the National committee; he is a most eloquent orator and pleasing in his personality. This will be the final Rally of the prohibition forces before the coming election. Mr. Emerson is one of the best speakers in the nation and it is rare that Dallas is privileged to hear so good a speaker.

The meeting will be held in the Circuit court room in the court house Wednesday evening, October 30th, at 8 o'clock; and at this time the candidates will state the principles advocated by them. You cannot afford to miss this great rally. Ladies especially invited. Admission free.

"The Young Mens Store"

In this Opening Week We Wish to Emphasize

THE SERVICE WE GIVE TO YOUNG MEN

No other organization has a keener desire—greater abilities—or as great facilities to serve young men as young men should be served.

This week, throughout our Store for Young Men, we have arranged displays which show the wonderful power behind our service. No possible accessory to the complete and proper appareling of young men is missing from this exposition.

And the strongest point of all is this: because of our unequalled purchasing facilities we are able to give the greatest value that money can procure.

Society Brand Clothes

YOUNG MEN'S FINEST READY-TO-WEAR SUITS AND OVERCOATS

Our showing of these clothes is a triumph of advanced, exclusive styles and fine tailoring.

WILLAMETTE UNIVERSITY.

In 1910 R. A. Booth made an offer of $100,000 to Willamette, and in 1911 James J. Hill made an offer of $50,000. These two offers for the endowment was contingent upon the raising of $500,000. Altogether upon this offer to date there has been raised in subscriptions in the form of notes and cash the sum of $400,000. There are still two months and a half in which to raise the extra $100,000. Since the Oregon Annual conference adjourned the president, Dr. Fletcher Homan and Vice President Dr. C. E. Todd have been busy that there may be no shortage at the time of accounting.

The past two weeks have been put in upon the Salem district. The pastors have been sent to preach in the various charges of the district and then to canvass the charges where they had preached.

On October 13th, D. Lester Fields was at Amity in the morning and in the evening at Yamhill, on October 20th at Dallas in the morning and at Falls City in the evening. This week will completes the canvass of the Salem district.

Willamette was founded by Jason Lee as an Indian Mission school in 1834 at Salem, Oregon, and now has in buildings and property $500,000. When the endowment has reached the amount set out to raise it will then be a $1,000,000 institution.

There are only three colleges in the state which are recognized as standardized, the State University at Eugene, Willamette University and Pacific University at Forest Grove.

Willamette University now has 185 students in the College of Liberal Arts with 80 in the Freshman year. About 500 students are enrolled in all departments.

When the endowment has been cared for R. A. Booth begins a campaign for another $100,000 for a memorial hall for the old pioneers. Toward this sum he himself has pledged $50,000, and two other men have each pledged $10,000. This building fund will be secured from those who are able to give large sums.

If ever you are planning to assist our Willamette now is the time when there is so much hanging in the balance.

Artisans' is sket social.

The United Artisans met in regular session Monday night. The main features of the evening were the initiation of six candidates and the auctioneering of lunch baskets. Those admitted to benefit membership were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Volheim, Mr. J. C. Uglow, Mr. Maurice Dalton, Mr. Roy Allen and Mr. Hainor. Those received as social members were Mr. and Mrs. Ballard. After regular session was adjourned Mr. Lott Brown in his usual genial manner auctioned to the highest bidder about two dozen baskets plentifully filled with "Artisan Secrets" that appeased the appetite of all present. The net proceeds were $16.80. After a social hour all departed for home well pleased with having spent the evening among Artisans. On the 4th of November the men will all bring baskets and the lady Artisans will auction and do the bidding and buying.

Died in Los Angeles Recently

Word comes to the Itemizer of the death at his home in Los Angeles, recently of R. R. Willard, generally known here as "Toby." Mr. Willard was well known around Dallas in his younger days, but had been away for many years, since his marriage to one of the Smith girls, who is now the owner of the corner where the Jap restaurant is. Mr. Willard was 47 years of age and leaves a wife and one son.
