The suit for which Jerry O'Brien has brought against Polk county for $6000 as alleged damages received by him while in the employ of the county, came up for hearing Friday, and was taken under advisement by the court until the November term.

By mistake the 13 prizes won by Cephas Nelson at the late fair were not given him credit in the publishers list, neither the fact that he won the special blue ribbon for the best all round exhibit. As an exhibitor from Sunny Crest fruit farm he won more prizes than any other exhibitor in the county. The itemizer is sorry that he was not given due credit at the proper time, but as the list was purchased by us from another paper, we did not attempt to verify any of the awards.

Miss Lucy Cooper, who has been visiting for several weeks with her cousin, Fred Cooper, and family west of town, left today for her home in Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Sargeant arrived here Wednesday from Perrydale, and having sold their farm at that place, will make their home in Newberg. Mr. Sargeant bought the Arney place on Hancock street last spring, but since his arrival has traded the property for the James place, on Sherman street.—Newberg Graphic.

Mr. and Mrs. W. V. Bird had on exhibition at the county fair some samples of flax which they have raised on their place near town. The same is now on exhibition in our window, also some of the seed after threshing. They got 100 pounds of the seed off of a tract 33x150, and owing to the wet season had to bring the flax in the house to dry it out and then thresh it by hand. More flax should be raised in this county, and it is claimed there is a good market for it. Seed for experimental purposes can be secured free of charge.

Will Miller brought us in a sample of the celery he is raising the other day. We noticed the bunches were much larger than those generally found in the stores, and they tell us that the edible is much more toothsome than the imported stuff. On 1-8 of an acre he raised this year enough celery to net him $150, which would make the income from celery growing per acre one of the best paying investments that we know of. Mr. Miller has been experimenting with its culture for several years, and now says that he knows just how to do it.

Last Sunday Judge and Mrs. Ed. F. Coad, Alderman and Mrs. F. J. Coad spent the day as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stump at their well known farm near Monmouth. Judge Coad brought us back some samples of the English walnuts the party picked up while there, they getting about three bushels from the ground as they walked around through the 100 acres that Mr. Stump has planted to that fruit. He has some 25 acres just coming into bearing this year, but the other 75 has only been planted a few years. He is raising four different kinds of English walnuts, and they all looked mighty good to us. He also has in bearing filbert and chestnut trees.

Married in the Capital City.

On last Thursday afternoon in Salem at the office of the justice of the peace, the justice, Daniel Webster, united in marriage, Mr. J. Fay Morrison and Miss Ivy M. Peables, Roseo and H. M. Peables acting as witnesses. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Morrison, of Perrydale, and has resided there until lately, when he went to work for the Belmont grocery people in Portland. He is a young man of good habits, and will make his mark in his chosen line of work. The bride is well known in Dallas, being a sister of Mrs. Horatio Morrison, and is greatly esteemed for her accomplishments. Their many friends wish them a long and happy married life.

IT IS WHISPERED

That the W. C. T. U. women have the right ideas on the abolition of the liquor traffic, they bending all their energies to national legislation prohibiting the manufacture and sale.

That Walter Tooze says that people do not seem to want to hear a good political speaker.

That nearly 400 more voters registered in Polk than there did in Benton, and yet that county's papers are bragging about the wonderful growth their county has made since last election.

That Rev. Miles has come out as a full-fledged and exceedingly competent dramatic critic. We are afraid the society reporter has lost her job, in the present instance at least.

That Ed. Jacobson has the right system for betting on the presidential election. He wants to place bets against all the nominees, and is pretty certain to win two of them.

Mrs. Grant Gets Land.

Tuesday the following decision was handed down from the supreme court in favor of Mrs. U. Grant, of this city, regarding a land controversy:—

"Thomas Crowley et al vs. Nellie E. Grant et al. appellants; appealed from Polk county. This is a suit over the possession of the north half of the Andrew Monroe Miller claim. The decree of the lower court is reversed and one entered declaring Nellie E. Miller owner in fee simple to the land."

Probate

In re estate of John S. Martin, deceased; motion for reappointment set October 29th, clerk to notify state treasurer and Oscar Hayter.

In re estate of Johanna Quiring, final account filed and set for hearing on November 23rd.

In re estate of Joseph Wankey, deceased; application for assignment of dower set for November 7th.

In re estate of John Albers; final account set for hearing November, 23.

Marriage Licenses.

Start Your Baby With Sound Health

Regular bowel movement from childhood on forestalls future serious diseases.

We cannot all start life with the advantages of money, but every child born is entitled to the heritage of good health. Through unfortunate ignorance or carelessness in the feeding of a baby its tiny stomach may become deranged. The disorder spreads to the bowels and before the mother realizes it the two chief organs on which the infant's comfort and health depend are causing it great suffering. If the condition is allowed to continue grave ailments often result.

There is, however, no occasion for alarm, and the sensible thing to do is to give the baby a small dose of a mild laxative-remedy. In the opinion of a great many people, among them such well-known persons as the mother of Floyd Robertson, 136 S. 11th street, Lincoln, Neb., and Mrs. C. L. Williams, Widdowson, Wm., the proper remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a pleasant tasting laxative, which every person likes. It is a mild, non-gripping, and contains the most excellent of all digestants, pepsin.

Floyd Robertson

This remedy is especially intended for infants, children, women, old people and others to whom harsh cathartics, salt water, pills, etc., are distressing. In fact in the common disorders of life, such as constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, biliousness, headache, and the various other disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels nothing is more suitable than this mild laxative-remedy, Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

Two generations of people are using it today, and thousands of families keep it constantly in the house, for every member of the family can use it. It can be obtained any drugist at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle, the latter being the size bought by families who already know its value.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin, and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it in the regular way of a drugist, send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 415 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded.

"PERKINS, THE PRINTER"

Arrangements Completed for Enticing Drama at Armory Tomorrow Night.

Tomorrow night will witness one of the largest crowds in the armory that it has ever held, the occasion being the staging of the new and popular drama, "Perkins, the Printer," by local talent, under the supervision of Mrs. Caldwell, of Corvallis, who is noted for her exceptional abilities in that line, being possessed of much dramatic talent. The cast that she has gathered here are all stars, and those who attend may hope to expect something better than usual in the histrionic line. The play is one of merit, and will engage the attention of spectators from start to finish, keeping them on the anxious seat as to its final outcome of the hero and the complete discomfiture of the heavy villain. It was selected with great care as to its peculiar fitness for the occasion, and a better evening's entertainment could not be afforded than in listening to it.

By the installation of a first-class stage at the armory the promoters of our free library have rendered a goodly service to the city and made it possible to hereafter accommodate the crowds that general desire to attend local events of like nature, but have hitherto been restricted by the accommodation for seating a large number being lacking. Our local sign painter, Norman Hayes, has donated his services for the painting of a fine drop curtain, embellished with advertisement, and surrounded by advertisements of our progressive business men, and has also donated several side shifts from his stage at the Star theater.

The revenue derived from the play will go to help out the free library in the matter of furnishings, for which they stand much in need, after the various incidents that will crop up in building leave a depleted amount for that purpose. The object is such a worthy one that every citizen of Dallas is desirous of assisting in some way, and we predict that the armory will be crowded for the occasion. Mrs. George Gerlinger, to whom the library owes its being, is much encouraged over the prospects.

Children under high school age will be admitted to the main floor of the armory, if accompanied by their parents, for 35 cents. If they come alone, they will sit in the gallery under proper chaperonage for the same price. This is to do away with the usual confusion attendant upon the little folks who sit alone in the front seats at local entertainments.

The ladies of the Woman's Club will have a booth at the armory for the sale of home-made candies on that night, and it is expected that this will prove a popular and profitable feature of the entertainment.

The seats will be so arranged that all will have a good view of the stage, and the armory is so large that even the late-comers will have no difficulty in hearing and seeing well.

Eakin's orchestra will play before the curtain goes up and between acts. There will also be vocal solos and readings to delight the audience during the change of scene.

NOW A BENEDICT.

Lester VanNortwick Brings Bride to Dallas Last Sunday.

At the home of the brides' sister, Mrs. F. B. Weidner, at Carlton, at 2 o'clock last Sunday afternoon occurred the marriage of Lester R. VanNortwick, and Miss Dorothea DeMoss, Rev. C. V. Stivers, pastor of the Christian church at McMinnville, officiating. Only a few of the relatives of the contracting parties were present. After the ceremony and the discussion of a delicious luncheon, the happy couple left for their home at Dallas, where they will be at home to their many friends here in a cozy new home last week presented to them by his father. The groom is a member of the firm of VanNortwick & Son, the accommodating delivermen of this city, and is a promising young business man in every respect. The bride is from Eugene, where she has been a bible student at the state university, and is well known and respected for her many admirable qualities.

On Monday evening from 8 to 10:30 o'clock a reception was tendered the young couple at the home of the groom's parents, about 65 being present to welcome them to their new home. Music was furnished by Miss Ruth Campbell, Mrs. Katie White and Miss Ethel VanNortwick, and the evening most pleasantly spent in social converse and the discussion of a nice lunch. Many useful and beautiful presents were given the couple, among which was a fine Haviland China set from the Christian Endeavor, a silver butter knife from Craven Bros., and a game dinner set from Black's grocery.
