Latest Physiologic Treatment of Polypus and Goitre by means of Electricity as used by

DR. TOEL

The Chicago Specialist now in Dallas to introduce his Methods.

Polypus is a growth having a stem. It may grow in the nose, in the throat, from the womb or inside of it, or in the rectum. In fact it may grow in any cavity of the body having an external outlet. When growing in the nose it interferes with breathing, often closing up one or both nostrils entirely. Dr. Toel has removed as many as 14 polypi from a single nostril. In many cases these polypi grow from a cleft in a diseased, carious, tuberculous bone in the nasal cavity.

The usual process is to cut them out with scissors, or catch them in a wire and tear out polypus and bone at the same time, or to snare them off with a steel wire. The cutting and tearing operations are extremely bloody and have all the dangers of such operations, as possible blood poisoning, pain and a return of the growth. The steel wire snare operation is bloodless if very slowly performed, often taking from 1 to 2 hours, but the parts are crushed and the danger of blood poisoning is there.

Aside of this, the operation causes much pain in its long duration.

Polypi of the throat, womb and rectum are removed by the same means having the same dangers and drawbacks as those for polypus of the nose.

The electrical operation as used by Dr. Toel is free of any loss of blood, there is none or very little pain as all the blood vessels and lymphatic vessels are sealed up during the operation. There is no danger of blood poisoning and as the root from which the polypus grows is destroyed there is little danger of a return, and finally the operation can be performed in a few minutes while chloroform or ether are only necessary in the most severe cases.

Goitre is an enlargement of the thyroid gland laying in front of the wind pipe. This growth is far more frequent in women than in men. It also is far more frequent in certain regions of the country than in others. It is very frequent in Western Oregon.

Its size often becomes very large causing great trouble to the bearer. But its danger lies in its pressure on the windpipe which softens the cartilage rings and finally compresses them so that the patient dies from suffocation. Especially dangerous is that form which extends below the breast bone when a slight congestion will often enlarge the goitre to such an extent that the patient dies before a surgeon can be called to open the windpipe and insert a silver tube to breathe through.

Treatment of goitre by medicines taken into the stomach as well as by salves applied locally has very little effect.

Removing the goitre with the knife is one of the bloodiest operations known to surgery, and if the entire goitre is removed causes a peculiar form of disease which in a few years often kills the patient.

The electrical treatment of goitre as used by Dr. Toel is free from these dangers. There is no loss of blood, no danger from surgical shock or blood poisoning no pain to amount to anything, and then only in very severe cases, and above all the patient is not exposed to the danger of the peculiar disease depending upon knife removal of the entire goitre.

The electrical operations and treatments shrink and absorb the goitre so that the pressure symptoms disappear and the neck returns to near or entirely its former size.

Dr. Toel has for 30 years made a specialty of electrical operations and treatments.

Dr. Toel can be found at 619 Washington street, Dallas, one-half block from S. P. railway depot from 9 to 12 to 5, and 7 to 8 week days and from 9 to 1 on Sundays. Telephone 1303.

Change of Plans.

Since arriving in Dallas J. W. Crider has found himself unable to secure the additional frontage on Main street that he anticipated, and has consequently had to change his plans regarding the addition to the New Scott hotel. He has now purchased the residence property of Mrs. J. E. Smith, adjoining on Jefferson street, and will build a 40x150 two story addition on that street. This will give him 22 more rooms instead of the 11 that would have been provided by the other plans, and give better service in many ways. The old dining room will be added to the lobby, the old kitchen will be a private dining room, and the furniture room will be the new dining room. This will give the Sterling Furniture company a room on Jefferson, and provide ample sample rooms, with a larger culinary quarters. The Smith residence will remain intact, and J. M. Campbell's shop, all the improvements on this side of the race. Barham Bros. are now at work on the addition which will be of concrete.

Claud Ellison, a prominent young electrician of Dallas, spent Sunday in Albany visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ellison. He returned home this morning.—Albany Herald.

Watch Your Baby These Summer Days

Little Stomachs Get Out of Order Easily During Hot Weather

During the hot months mothers should look very carefully to the condition of the babies and young children, and, for that matter, it is very important in the lives of people at all ages. Care should be taken that the water is pure, the milk wholesome and the fruit ripe (though not over-ripe), and that not too much of anything is eaten.

When trouble results it is usually in the form of constipation or of diarrhoea. If the child loses appetite, is fretful or languid, and complains of headache, they may look for constipation. Give it a small dose of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at night on retiring, and by morning this pleasant laxative will have acted and the child will be its normal self again.

At the first sign of a summer cold also give Syrup Pepsin, as the cleaning out of the bowels will usually be sufficient to break the cold. Summer diarrhoea can be stopped in the same way by riding the bowels of poisons and germs that cause the trouble. This opinion of the value of Syrup Pepsin is shared by thousands of people like Mrs. Ella Derzel, 124 N. 10th av., Stratford Conn., who uses it successfully herself and gives it to her two little boys; and Families wishing to try a free sample bottle can obtain it, postpaid, by addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 418 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.
