FRONTIER DAYS

Walla Walla, Wash., U. S. A.
SEPTEMBER 25, 26, 27, '13

Frontier Days at Walla Walla will, undoubtedly, be the biggest and best attraction of the kind ever promoted by any city of the United States. Every feature of western life will be re-enacted in a truly amazing manner by the most skillful and daring performers living.

Champion riders of world fame will, each day, compete with each other in wonderful and thrilling feats of horsemanship; racing wild horses by dare devil riders will hold the crowds spell-bound; the "drunken-ride" is a top-notch feature; Indian races and feasts will truly depict the character and cunning of the Red man, while the 150-mile pony express relay race will require a wonderful endurance test of man and beast. Champion lady riders will perform in wondrous manner and remarkable is their skill as horsewomen. The square dance, Indian dances, Indian village and a Kat. Jonas Winson will portray in vivid manner Indian life. Bulldozing, roping and branding, throwing by the hors and a general stampede are but a few of the features of life among the horse and pack trains and early settlers will participate. The world famous 72d Seaforth Highland band of 70 pieces will be one of the musical treats.

The question now coming up for discussion, Mr. Clark, of Clark-Henry company, stated that he had interviewed several prominent lawyers in different parts of the state, and they all concurred in the statement that the arduous indebtedness, as it was voted by the people, could not in any way be held against the debt which the city is limited. This was then discussed, and a vote taken, resulting as follows: Barber No, Sibley No, Hayter No, Fenton yes.

An ordinance was read second time providing safe guards for the storing of gasoline and distillate, and the storing in excess of five gallons entirely prohibited unless so safe guarded. The ordinance was referred to the ordinance committee for certain changes suggested.

An ordinance was read second time regulating auctioneers, and referred to the ordinance committee to make certain suggested changes.

An ordinance prohibiting the dropping on hard surface pavement of any drippings was read second time and passed.

On motion of Fenton the property of P. O. Martin was ordered proceeded against for the collection of street assessment.

Adjournment was taken until next Monday evening.

TWENTY-SEVEN YEARS AGO.

Taken from the Itinerary Files August 6, 1913.

Considerable agitation was developed in Canada by the discovering of an enormous trade in white slaves, many young girls having been lured from their homes and subjected to the greatest indignities.

In a few short hours over 20,000 people viewed the remains of President Taylor at the Mormon tabernacle in Salt Lake city, but it was asserted to not compare with the crowd that paid a last homage to Brigham Young.

Settlers in the Klamath country were much disturbed on account of the Indians, and were fearing an uprising.

The freight rate to eastern points were raised from $1.25 to $1.50 a hundred.

Superintendent Robert Clow, of Polk county, was out with a denial that W. W. Sanders, the famous murderer, was in any way insane.

Timothy hay was bringing $18 and $20 a ton in Portland.

A 17-year-old lad fell from the Brooklyn bridge.

A considerable mining excitement was on at Jacksonville, rock having been opened that, worth $22,000 to the ton.

Portland was trying to interest capital in the Villard ruins, and give that town a first class hotel.

The news came from the narrow gauge officials that the warehouse at Dallas was to be closed for the season.

Guita's lawyer, who tried to commit suicide, was adjudged insane.

Chet Cook was clerking in the Kratz, Washburne mill at Dixie.

John Hughes was made operator at Ray's landing.

John Brown's horses ran away and smashed his binder to smithereens, against eight stumps.

W. E. Prudhomme accepted a position as foreman of the Ashland, Wisconsin, Press.

The advice was given to muzzle your k's, as dog days were here.

It was said that chinch bugs had not injured the cord wood crop, and those owing wood on subscription were requested to bring it along.

Jef. Harris, of Oakdale, came back from Nescutec, bringing the skull of a whale.

P. W. Ellis was running the station, while I. N. Woods went to Kings Valley to recuperate.

A Nescutec bathing suit was said to consist of a little cotton placed in each ear.

J. K. Sears, of McCoy, was quite badly hurt by a fall from a dog cart.

Gawge Fortescue Fitznoodle, one of Dallas' society leaders, was chased a couple of blocks, while going up Main street late one night, by a cat, and nearly scared to death.

Sheriff Graves attached the stock of Pat Fitzgerald at Perrydale and brought it to Dallas, for a Portland firm.

Mrs. Lizzie Moore passed away at her Red Prairie home.

DANGER

Of Delay in Treating CANCER

As Shown by the Experience of

the Chicago Specialist now in DALLAS

To introduce his Electric METHODS.

During the last week two patients applied for help from Dr. Toel. One came all the way from Toel. One came all the way from Eastern Oregon on account of a cancer which had originated in his upper jaw bone, and operations performed with the knife by other surgeons had proved useless. The cancer affected the eye and the glands on the neck and had eaten through the bone into the mouth. Dr. Toel informed the patient that the only hope was in the use of X rays and High Voltage currents, but that the chances for a cure were very small. The patient said he would stay in Dallas for five days until he had heard from relatives, before he could decide what to do. Dr. Toel being an electrical engineer in addition to being a surgeon, set to work designing a new form of X ray tube which would allow him to thrust the active part through the opening in the palate right into the mass of the cancer. When Dr. Toel went to inform his patient that his new invention would better his chances to some extent, he found that he had gone home the same day he was examined. If Toel three months ago, his chances would have been far better. But unfortunately he had applied only to surgeons who use the knife and who had not, not even mentioned to him that many cancers are incurable with the knife, can be cured with electricity. As he lived in Eastern Oregon his chances of hearing of Dr. Toel of course were small.

In the other case that came to Dr. Toel last week it was different. The patient lives six miles from Dallas and it is inconceivable to Dr. Toel how his many articles in the Dallas papers about the electrical cure of cancer could be overlooked. The patient suffered from an intra-abdominal cancer, and while such cases always give a poor prognosis many have been cured by the X ray. In this case however, the disease had so undermined the patient's general health, there being scarcely any blood in circulation, that Dr. Toel could only say there was very little hope. The patient was discouraged and left for home. Had this patient applied for help when Dr. Toel first came to Dallas nearly four months ago, the prospect for a cure would have been a far better one.

That electrical treatment of cancer often brings unexpected results is best shown by a case Dr. Toel accepted for treatment some weeks ago. The cancer could not be removed by an operation. Dr. Toel plainly informed the patient that the only hope was in High Voltage and X rays, but that the hope for a cure was small. The patient decided to take the only chance left and the treatment was begun. As a result the cancer in all its different locations shrank down far quicker than Dr. Toel expected so that the chances for a cure are far better now than when the treatment was commenced, provided the patient attends to the treatments properly.

What does all this show? Simply that cases of cancer should be brought to the specialist as soon as they are discovered. The advice that some physicians give; to leave a cancer alone as it is incurable, is the worst advice that can be given the patient.

Cancer is always local in the beginning. As long as it is local it is curable. If the patient waits until the lymphatic glands become affected, then his chances for a cure are a great deal less, but the present advance in electrical treatment will cure even many of these cases.

When metastases from a cancer on the outside of the body appear in internal organs the prognosis of course becomes very bad, though even such cases have been cured by X rays. When however the patients waits until his entire vitality is gone, he can not expect anything even from electricity.

Do not neglect a lump in your breast but go to a specialist. Do not neglect an unnatural flow of blood from your womb but go to a specialist.

Do not neglect a sore place on your lip, but go to a specialist. Do not neglect any growing lump or eating sore anywhere on your body, but go to a specialist.

With "Specialist" is meant not the so called "Cancer Doctor", who in many cases is not even a licensed physician, but knows nothing but to put an eating plaster on a cancer, causing unbearable pain and driving the cancer germs and cells into the lymphatic glands, but the educated surgeon who has made a life study of the application of Dr. and Mrs. Bolman and Miss Catherine Reese have returned from a trip in Southern Oregon.

The Storm on Galilee's Sea Furnishes Text For a Discourse—Acts as Well as Words of Jesus Paraphrased—The Storm as a Type—The Master and His Disciples as Types—Quelling the Storm a Type—Also the Great Calm.

Abraham, the Emperor of Ireland, on the Atlantic, July 27— "There arose a great tempest in the sea, * * * but He was asleep, and His disciples awoke Him, saying: Lord, have mercy on us, for we perish. * * * Then He arose and rebuked the winds and the sea; and there was a great calm."—Matthew 8:24-25.

The Bible informs us that Jesus' teachings were parabolic. The Master explained some of His actions and words to His disciples, and told them that they alone were permitted to know the mysteries of the Kingdom of Heaven. He did not explain all of His parables even to His Apostles. On the contrary, He said, "When the Spirit of Truth is come (at Pentecost and after), He shall guide you into all Truth, and bring all things to your remembrance, whatsoever I have spoken."

The secret of the demonstration between the Church and the world is that the former has the Holy Spirit begetting to a new nature, with privileges of knowledge of God and His plans not granted to others. Only the outlines of the Divine Character and Plan can be clearly discerned and appreciated by those not spirit-begotten.

Our lesson typically considered, the boat would represent the Gospel Dispensation; the Master asleep, the Lord's apparent indifference to the storms of persecution assailing His Church; and the disciples' imploring cry, the prayers of the Church throughout the Ages.

After our Lord's ascension, storms of persecution followed one another until the history of the true Church has been marked by severe trials of patience and faith. Often the Lord's people have wondered at the afflictions permitted to come upon them. It seemed as though the Lord did not care.

We might reason that if God had raised the storm which frightened experienced fishermen, surely Jesus would not have worked contrary to the Divine arrangement. We might also reason that Satan, "the Prince of the Power of the Air," might have thought to thwart the Divine arrangement respecting Jesus' crucifixion.

Storm of Trouble is Near.
Bible students are convinced that the great storm of trouble upon the Church is very near. We need not prophesy concerning its character. We are to remember, however, that the majority of the storms upon the Church have come from professed people of God, rather than from the world. The Scribes, Pharisees and Doctors of the Law really crucified Jesus, as St. Peter declared—Acts 3:13-15.

Our expectation is that the Church will have its most trying experiences from professed brethren. Church Federation has a sincere and innocent look; but is not its purpose and object to fortify sectarianism? Should we not expect that, when it shall gain the measure of political influence and power indicated in the symbolic book of Revelation, those holding a simple faith in God and His Word, and striving to walk the narrow way, will be misrepresented, slandered and eventually hindered from the Lord's service?

The Lord seems to indicate that His Church will be perfected on the Heavenly plane before the world's tribulation shall break in fury. True, the Church may escape in the sense of being enabled to live above the trouble—unaffected by it; but we think not. We believe that the Church will be peace-fully destroyed before the culmination of the world's Day of Wrath.

What is said here in regard to cancers refers also to a great extent to other forms of tumor. Do not wait until they become incurable, but go to a specialist as soon as you discover a tumor on or in your body.

Dr. Toel can be found at 619 Washington street, Dallas, Ore., at the hours given in his card elsewhere in this paper.
