MONTHLY CONCERTS.

Band Will Forego Annual Concert for Monthly Ones This Winter.

At a business meeting of the band last evening it was decided to forego the annual concert this year and substitute therefor a concert each month for the next five months. The concert will begin on Wednesday night, December 17th, and the admission fee will be 25 cents a concert. Tickets in books of five will soon be on sale, purchasable at $1 each, and will be good for the series or individuals, as desired.

It is hardly necessary to touch on the excellence of these concerts, all being perfectly familiar with the high class of entertainment heretofore afforded and you may be assured that the concerts contemplated will not fall short of the mark so highly set. The program will include band and orchestra music, together with various assistance of divers kinds offered by local talent. The program committee consists of Bert Downey, Lyle Rice and J. E. Miller, three gentlemen who know the stunt of pleasing the public to perfection. The advertising committee are Roy Finsett, T. C. Stockwell and Carl Williams, and they will see to it that the concerts are given plenty of publicity.

The change of from only one concert to five should be a pleasing one to our citizenship, as it gives us the pleasure of four additional evenings of entertainment. That the army will be jammed at each concert is a foregone conclusion. Get your book of tickets and be sure you do not lose out.

Little Evelyn McDonald Dead.

The funeral services for MaRea Evelyn McDonald, the 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grover McDonald, who died at the home at 6:15 o'clock Friday morning, November 7th, were held in the Christian church Saturday at 2 p. m. Rev. Chas. C. Curtis, the local minister officiating.

Mrs. McDonald is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Butz, of Dallas, and Mr. McDonald is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald, also of near Dallas. Both these young people have lived for many years in this community and have many warm friends who sympathize deeply with them in their sorrow, as partially evidenced by the many beautiful floral offerings.

No passing cloud. Her loveliness may shroud; The beauty of her youth may never fade;

No stain is there Upon the robes they wear. Within the gates of pearl which she hath passed;

Like woven light. All beautiful and bright. Eternity upon those robes no shades may cast.

No sin-born thought May in that home be wrought. To trouble the clear fountain of her heart.

No tear, no sigh. No pain, no death be nigh Where she hath entered in, no more to "know in part."

In Their New Hall.

The Rebekahs held their first meeting in their new hall Wednesday evening and Thursday evening both the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs joined for the formal opening and a good time in their new home. The room was decorated with wild grape, pumpkins and aspargus. A lunch of pumpkin and cider was served. Dr. McCallon gave a nice talk. W. V. Fuller entertained with several of his comical readings in Swedish dialect. Solos were rendered by Miss Alice Grant, Pearl Owings and Miss Edna Morrison, with Ada Longnecker as accompanist. A quartet composed of Mrs. and Mrs. A. V. Snyder, Mrs. C. G. Cond and Mr. F. H. Morrison delighted those present with several selections.

Dallas Gradually Becoming a City.

The up-to-date, wide-awake business men have taken it upon themselves to close their places of business at 6 o'clock for the winter. This move puts Dallas on the map with other cities and will receive the recognition due it from other towns and from strangers coming here. Of course we have a few old fogies who would rather stay open and chew tobacco and swap yarns around the stove than help to make Dallas up-to-date.

Capital City Nursery Co., Salem.

This is to certify that J. E. Miller is duly authorized to act as agent for the sale of our Superior Fruit and Ornamental Nursery Stock. To all purchasing through him we guarantee to furnish genuine, reliable, high grade stock. J. E. MILLER. Phone 1633. Box 63. Dallas, Ore.

The Dallas Hotel dining room is now in the east end of the building, making it more convenient for all.
