Oregon Agricultural College
FARMERS' WEEK
December 8 to 13, 1913
This will be a notable event in the educational history of Oregon. Farmers' Cooperation will be the leading topic of a stimulating series of lectures. The week will be crowded with discussion, and demonstrations in everything that makes for the welfare of the farmer and home-maker.

WINTER SHORT COURSE
January 5 to 30, 1914
The College has spared no effort to make this the most complete short course in its history. A very wide range of courses will be offered in General Agriculture, Horticulture, Animal Husbandry, Dairying, Poultry Raising, Mechanic Arts, Domestic Science and Art, Commerce, Forestry and Music. Numerous lectures and discussions in FARMERS' CO-OPERATION, at home and abroad, will be a leading feature. Make this a pleasant and profitable winter outing. No tuition. Accommodations reasonable. Reduced rates on all railroads. For further information address

NEW YEAR'S To Us Means Renewed Efforts to Please

We wish to extend New Year's greetings to our customers and our prospective customers.

In particular we desire to say a word of thanks to the many citizens who realize that our task is no small one, and that under the best of conditions our difficulties are numerous.

Their encouragement has helped us to do our work better. The spirit of our organization is that of service.

We have said before that our company wants no revenue it does not earn.

The money invested in the property which we operate works steadily 24 hours a day toward the upbuilding of this city and the material welfare of every resident.

There is a sharp distinction between capital that works for the common good and capital so invested that no one but the owner derives benefit.

People, work and active capital make cities and values; jobs and payrolls.

Our company tries to be a beneficial force in a progressive and favored community.

We look upon every customer as a valued patron.

We endeavor to earn a moderate return upon a necessarily large investment by giving a full measure of honest service to the greatest possible number of people at rates far lower than the average prevailing throughout the United States.

Like all other persons, the members of our organization make mistakes; it is often physically and financially impossible to do the things we would like to do, but--

Every individual with this company will start the year 1914 inspired by renewed determination to render satisfactory service in the most pleasant and most efficient way...
