Patronize One Another for the Upbuilding of Town and County

The action of a number of militant suffragettes in England lately has caused us to wonder why the courts of that country do not consider such actions as the destruction of valuable property as but the work of insane people and put the violators of the law in some safe retreat where they could by proper treatment recover their mental equalibrium.

There is only one way to successfully build up a town, and that is to have its newspapers and civic bodies work in perfect harmony. When unjust discriminations are made and the papers conspired against, there can only be one ending, working continually to the disadvantage of the city and its progress.

In securing the next meeting of the editorial association of the Willamette vaney at Danas, Easter Volk of the Observer, should receive the thanks or our entire citizenship. No one thing could do us so much good as to have those brainy writers with us for a day, and go home and tell the country at large of their impressions. That their impression will be of the right color is undeniable, and Danas must see to it that nothing is lacking in their reception and welcome.

Dallas has lately been getting some considerable undeserved and undesirable advertising in numerous country papers on account of an item recently printed in a Portland paper to the effect that our city council was considering the draiting of an ordinance prohibiting the driving of autos for pleasure on our business streets. From what we can find out such an ordinance was never even contemplated by our lawmakers. Correspondents cannot be too careful in what they send . to the city papers, as it is just as easy to give our town a black eye by injudicious paragraphs as it is to benefit them by saying the right things.

According to C. C. Colt, president of the Union Meat Company, of Portland, Oregon is becoming noted as a hog and sheep raising state. Since 1912 no hogs have been shipped to the Portland stockyards from other states, the entire supply being drawn from Oregon. The absence of corn, which has always been considered indispensable to the finishing of good pork, has not troubled the Oregon farmer, as combination of alfalfa. barley and other grains has been found an excellent substitute. Farmer Smith, of the O. W. R. & N. Ry., insists that within ten years Oregon will be one of the greatest corn producing states in the Uunion and that

Sam Ray thinks he has found a perfect solution of the good roads problem, one that will work no hardship on any one as to momentary cost, and yet achieve the results quickly and for all time to come. His idea is to make the abutting property owners pay the cost, he uguring the same at $1 an acre as summent in every case to build a lasting macadam road and to do it quickly and effectively. Mr. Kay takes the Cooper Hollow road as an example, one or the principal roads leading into Dalias, and from which we would receive a continual and goodly trade were the road in passable condition during all times of the year. If every farmer along that the road would put into the pot one dollar for every acre they own he says that the road would be completed nearly on the first assessment, making but 50 cents an acre do for the second year, and probably 25 cents for the third years time, which would make the cost some $3 an acre to each land holder. This method of making new roads would be duck soup to the average small landholder, but would certainly come high on those who have large holdings. We have not taken the time to do any liguring on the plan, but present Mr. Ray's suggestion to the people of Polk. and they can get their heads together and see what merit there can be in the suggestion.

The jury system of this country is all wrong, as is continually shown by the action of petty jury trials when a case comes on for trial in court after indictment has been brought by a grand jury What is the use of having a grand jury go to the expense of subpoening witnesses, procuring evidence through what sources they may against one who has been charged with a crime, and then have the petty jury disagree or return a verdict exonerating the criminal, having been moved by sentimental considerations, the pleas of the attorney for the defense, or claiming not sufficient evidence after the grand jury was satisfied in their minds that there was. This was brought home to us most particularly recently by the discharge of a negro white-slaver in Portland by the jury who tried him. The evidence against him was conclusive, or he would never have been indicted. It was proven that his whole life-record was but one of living off the earnings of some one of his many victims, and that he never performed any labor, except just enough to keep him free of the civic statutes regarding vagrants, and that what he earned in that manner was not sufficient to even pay his board. Yet this petty jury saw fit to give him the benefit of a possible doubt in the minds of fair men, and let him go. Such work tends to make all dissatisfied with the work of juries as a whole, and to make the average minded citizen desire that either one or both of them be abolished. If the work of a grand fury is to be continually reversed, the body should be done away with, and the whole matter put up to the trial jury on the start, saving an almost incalcuable expense to the government and much expense and trouble to the witnesses who may be needed

Johns Has Strong Endorsement That He Can and Will Carry Out His Platform.

To Whom it May Concern:

Charles A. Johns was a continuous resident of Baker City for twenty-four years, during which time he served four terms as Mayor and eighteen consecutive years as School

As Mayor he gave the city an honest, efficient administraion, and its financial affairs were conducted on a close, sare, enconomical basis and at the very lowest expense to

As School Director he always worked for the best of results and for economy in administration, without impairing the high standard of the Baker City schools.

In our judgment, as Governor, he could and would do the same thing for the state.

Those of Middle Age Especially.

When you have found no remedy for the horrors that oppress you during change of life, when through the long hours of the day it seems as though your back would break, when your head aches constantly, you are nervous, de-pressed and suffer from those dreadful bearing down pains, don't forget that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the safest and surest remedy, and has carried hundreds of women safely through this critical period.

Read what these three women say:

From Mrs. Hornung, Buffalo, N. Y. BUFFALO, N. Y.—"I am writing to let you know how much your medicine has done for me. I failed terribly during the last winter and summer and every one remarked about my appearance. I suffered from a female trouble and always had pains in my back, no appetite and at times was very weak.

"I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed "I was visiting at a friend's house one day and she thought I needed Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it and have gained eight pounds, have a good appetite and am feeling better every day. Everybody is asking me what I am doing and I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. You may publish this letter if you wish and I hope others who have the same complaint will see it and get health from your medicine as I did."—Mrs. A. Hornung, 91 Stanton St., Buffalo, N. Y.

Was A Blessing To This Woman.

So. RICHMOND, VA.—"I was troubled with a bearing down pain and a female weakness and could not stand long on my feet. Of all the medicines I took nothing helped me like Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am now regular and am getting along fine. I cannot praise the Compound too much. It has been a blessing to me and I hope it will be to other women."—Mrs. D. TYLER, 23 West Clopton St., South Richmond, Va.

Pains in Side, Could Hardly Stand.

Lod, Wis.—"I was in a bad condition, suffering from a female trouble, and I had such pains in my sides I could hardly move. Before I had taken the whole of one bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegtable Compound I felt better, and now I am well and can do a good day's work. I tell everybody what your medicine has done for me."

—Mrs. John Thompson, Lodi, Wisconsin.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No one sick with woman's allments does justice to herself if she does not try this famous medicine made from roots and herbs, it has restored so many suffering women to health. Write to LYDIA E.PINKHAM MEDICINE CO. (CONFIDENTIAL) LYNN, MASS., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.
