POSTAL VOTE.

A topic which is increasing in importance with each successive election, is called to general attention by Secretary Bryan, in his expression of the hope that voting by postoffice will yet be put in practice...

Secretary Bryan's idea, it is put in operation, of course, would not alter the general methods of elections. The incidents and scenes of election day, would be about the same as they are now.

But there would be a very important change in the circumstance, that while the citizen of fixed habitation would vote as he always has, the citizen whose occupation necessarily makes him a transient, would be able to vote without the trouble and expense of a literal return to his place of residence...

It is a well recognized fact, especially in presidential elections, that thousands of voters, earnest and patriotic, who are engaged in business requiring continual travel, are put to heavy cost and harsh inconvenience by the rule requiring their physical presence at the polls.

SEWAGE IRRIGATION IN NEW JERSEY.

A profitable means of disposing of sewage from institutions and small communities in districts where no general system of sewage disposal is available is disclosed by a report of experiments carried on by the department of agriculture at the New Jersey Training School located at Vineland.

In the past the sewage from this institution, which has a summer population of 600 individuals, has been a nuisance, ruining the land and creating a breeding place for mosquitoes unless well covered with oil.

The yields of corn were not determined, but the yield on the land on which the sewage water was run was so much larger than that on the land not watered that the directors of the school are putting in the equipment necessary to spread the sewage over still larger areas in 1914.

For Governor.

In the primary in the state it is claimed by the wisacres and by those close to Dr. Smith's candidacy that the gentleman whom moved from Pendleton to "get into the political whirl" will receive the nomination.

Your correspondent has lived in Portland for over 30 years and enjoys a very wide acquaintance. Yet I never heard of "Mr. Cobb, a lawyer with offices in the Yeon building" until the "pressure of a multitude of friends induced him to become a candidate."

However, it will not make any perceptible difference. As far as the democrats are concerned the contest for the gubernatorial nomination lies between John Manning and Dr. C. J. Smith.

For Commissioner.

I wish to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of Polk County, subject to the will of the voters at the primary election on May 15th. George Clanfield. (Paid Advertisement.)

I wish to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Commissioner of Polk county, subject to the will of the voters at the primary election on May 15th. John Simpkins. (Paid Advertisement.)

Your correspondent was present at a meeting of the democratic county committee of Marion county last Saturday just before Chairman Dan J. Fry called it to order. The forenoon was exceedingly stormy and only 16 of the 33 members were present.

In Multnomah county Mr. Manning is certain to receive a majority of the votes cast, unless something very unforeseen occurs during the next five weeks. That is, a majority over the combined vote of Dr. Smith, Judge Bennett and Robert A. Miller.

The republicans have a bigger split, and more enmities have been engendered thus far in the campaign, especially as regards the governorship, than in any previous time in the political history of Oregon.

ROUNDERS.

The Chicago Specialist Returned From Eastern Oregon To The Willamette Valley Will Stay in Dallas During the Spring.

Dr. Toel, who was in Dallas last Spring and Summer to introduce his electrical, bloodless operations for cancers and tumors, and his other electrical, physiological treatments of his other specialties, has returned from Eastern Oregon, where he went for that same purpose before opening offices in Portland. He intends to visit other places in the Willamette Valley this year, but finding on visiting Dallas that many people had yet inquired for him after he had left Dallas last September, he has concluded to stay here during the Spring...

Dr. Toel has since he left here provided himself with three new electric machines, many more electrical instruments, some of them of his own invention, and also many surgical instruments and instruments for examination purposes.

But what is of far more value to his prospective patients to know is his experience of over thirty years in his specialties. These latter are the bloodless removal of Cancers and Tumors by means of electrical operations, no knife and loss of blood, no plasters and pains for hours and days.

Physiological treatments for Diseases of Women, Skin and Nervous Diseases, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Neurasthenia, Diseases of the Liver, Stomach, Kidneys, Bladder, Prostate, Asthma, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Dyspepsia, Constipation.

Dr. Toel can be found in his former office, 619 Washington Street, 1/2 block east from the S. P. Railroad depot, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon, 2 to 5 p. m., 7 to 8 p. m. Sunday from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m.

Since Dr. Toel returned to Dallas a few days ago, he has been informed that after his departure last September a certain party had spread the rumor that he had never practiced in Chicago, had no diploma and had no license to practice medicine, and that the other physicians of Dallas had forced him out of the city.

There is a difference of opinion as to whether or not Judge Bennett could defeat Dr. Smith in a two-man race, but your correspondent believes that he could. The friends of Dr. Smith argue that Manning, with his strong popularity, could not lower Dr. Smith's colors in a two-man contest within the party by more than 4,000 votes.

Therefore, they aver with seeming hope, give Bennett 4,000 or more in the state and Smith will "walk into the honors" as Bennett's votes will all come from the opposition to Smith.

Be that as it may, Manning is steadily gaining ground by reason of his constructive platform and ideas in which he has torn away from the commonplace promises. His past official record is sufficient insurance that he will enforce the laws, if any assurance on that point need be given by any man big enough to be elected governor.

Favors John Manning.

Salem, April 2, 1914. Editor Itemizer:

It will be well for the democratic voters of Oregon before going to the polls upon May 15th, to nominate a man for the high office of governor, to look into the record of Hon. John Manning, who is a candidate for that high and honorable position.

Mr. Manning is engaged now, and has been for a long time, in the successful practice of law in the city of Portland, and it was through the efforts and persuasions of these depositors that he did so much for that he decided to become a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor at the hands of the people of this state on May 15th.

Mr. Manning is 47 years of age and has been a resident of Oregon for the past 24 years. His boyhood days were spent on a farm in Nebraska, which readily accounts for his rugged physique that has stood him in good stead for his strenuous work while serving the people as prosecuting attorney.

He was the first to compel the Sunday closing of saloons in Oregon, and while he was district attorney he cleaned up the north end in Portland, put gambling out of business, and rid the city of a large class of undesirables who then in-st-

Adopts Resolutions.

At the regular meeting of the Jackson Club last Friday night this resolution was adopted:

"Resolved -That the Jackson Democratic Club deprecates the expenditures by the candidate of any party for any office of a sum greater than permitted by the Corrupt Practice Act. We believe that the candidates should obey the spirit as well as the letter of the law. We understand that a candidate can easily escape direct proof of violation by the subterfuge that his friends expended the money. No office is so important that any candidate should morally perjure himself to obtain election."

In the discussion it was openly asserted that no candidate could mail a single multigraphed circular letter to every registered democratic voter, much less three or four letters, without greatly exceeding the amount permitted to be expended by law.

The resolution was directed at a certain candidate whom it is said has sent bushels of circular letters broadcast throughout the state begging support.

TWENTY-SIX YEARS AGO. Taken From the Files of the Itemizer Saturday, April 7, 1888.

E. C. Kirkpatrick was sojourning in California. The council granted a saloon license to C. C. Smith.

Meade Cosner had his new store opened for business. Jeff. Beverley sold his armillar for the Big Luckiamute to John Burns.

G. E. Montgomery and family had just moved here from Pennsylvania. The foundry and planing mill were both running to their full capacity. James Orr, of Peedee, was nominated for constable of Airle precinct. The Willamette Valley Hop Growers' Association was organized at Salem. A committee of Dallas ladies were arranging a program for an "Authors' Carnival". Gust Anderson, a native of Sweden, filed his declaration of intention to become a citizen. A party of 50 was organized in Dallas to search for the two small children of J. D. Cliftwood, who were lost in the woods near Oakdale. The little ones were found by Ed. Siefarth. The democratic state convention at Pendleton nominated John M. Gearin for congress; John Burnett for supreme judge; W. H. Eflinger, W. R. Bileva and E. Skipworth for presidential electors. A locomotive on the narrow gauge, which had been left standing on the track in the Dallas yards while the crew were at lunch, started of its own accord and ran for about two miles before it ran out of steam. No damage was done.

AN INCESSANT COUGH.

A severe cough is always a grave symptom. It may not indicate organic disease of the lungs. Even though the cough is a functional disturbance it is of sufficient gravity to demand prompt attention. The dropping of mucus from the back part of the nose into the throat indicates nasal catarrh. Sometimes this goes on a long time before the patient pays any attention to it. It is stated on good authority that mucus dropping into the throat in this way is apt to excite catarrh of the stomach. At any rate, the condition ought to be corrected as soon as possible.

Mrs. Bourland, of Frankston, Texas, found after using Peruna that not only did the incessant cough disappear, but the dropping of mucus into the throat had also ceased. Read what she says: "For twenty-three years I was a constant sufferer from chronic catarrh. I had a severe misery and burning in the top of my head. There was almost a continual dropping of mucus into my throat, which caused frequent expectoration. My entire system gradually became involved, and my condition grew worse. I had an incessant cough and frequent attacks of bilious colic, from which it seemed I could not recover. My bowels also became affected, causing alarming attacks of hemorrhages."

"I tried many remedies, which gave only temporary relief, or no relief at all. I at last tried Peruna, and in three days I was relieved of the bowel derangement. After using five bottles I was entirely cured."

"I most cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna to any one similarly afflicted."

People who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets. Ask Your Druggist for Free Peruna Lucky Day Almanac for 1914.

I have a remedy for rheumatism, cramps, etc., that has proved efficacious in many cases. It costs but little to try it.—Geo. Medley, Dallas. (f
