Martin had been identified by Pinkerton detectives as a man, who, under the name of Cox, and several other aliases, operated extensively in the Mississippi valley. FIRES GREENWOOD. Council Dispenses with Services of Venerable City Marshal.

The city council was in a criticizing and economical mood at its regular meeting Monday evening. Westover wanted B. A. S. Greenwood as city marshal and acting the duties of that office to those already performed by O. P. Chase, the day officer and street cleaner. An ordinance was passed approving the official plat of the city park, and another to compel connection of property in the sewer district with the city sewer. The saloon license of J. V. HISTORY OF THE LODGE

On the 20th day of January, 1854, M. W. Grand Master John Elliott granted a dispensation to Jesse Walling and others to hold a Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, to be known as Jennings Lodge, No. 9, in Dallas, Polk County, Oregon. The Master Masons to whom this authority was granted were Jesse Walling, Frederick Waymire, Isaac Zumwalt, Robert Gilliam, John H. Lewis, John M. Zumwalt, W. S. Gilliam and Elisha McDaniel.

The first communication of the Lodge under dispensation was held March 17, 1854, with the following officers: Worshipful Master, Isaac Zumwalt; Senior Warden, Robert Gilliam; Junior Warden, John H. Lewis. The M. W. Grand Master having died in the meantime, and the granting of this dispensation having been his last official act, the first act of Jennings Lodge was the introduction and passage of resolutions of respect for the memory of the departed Grand Officer.

Jennings Lodge worked under dispensation until June 15, 1854, when a Charter was granted by the Grand Lodge of Oregon. This Charter is signed by John C. Alsworth, M. W. Grand Master, and Benjamin Stark, Rt. W. Grand Secretary.

The first election of officers, held July 7, 1854, resulted as follows: Isaac Zumwalt, W. M.; Robert Gilliam, S. W.; John Angel, J. W.; Frederick Waymire, Secretary; John H. Lewis, Treasurer. The Worshipful Master appointed Elisha McDaniel, Senior Deacon, and John H. Lewis, Tyler. The Senior Warden appointed W. S. Gilliam Junior Deacon.

The first candidate made a Master Mason by Jennings Lodge was William W. Boren, who was raised November 3, 1854. The longest continuous membership in the Lodge to date was that of William C. Brown, who was raised August 11, 1855, and who died May 10, 1909.

While Jennings Lodge is numbered 9, it is now the seventh oldest Lodge in Oregon, two of the earlier Lodges having united with other Lodges in the newly-created Territory of Washington for the Grand Jurisdiction of Washington. Since its first communication, 295 members have been admitted or raised. The present membership of the Lodge is 111 Master Masons.

One member of Jennings Lodge, the late Brother Robert Clow, attained to the office of M. W. Grand Master of the Jurisdiction of Oregon, and other members have been honored by office in the Grand Lodge.

One cannot read the early history of this Lodge without a feeling of respect almost akin to reverence for the good and true men whose faithful labors, often under the most adverse conditions, contributed so materially to the advancement of Masonry in a frontier country. It is gratifying to reflect that the newer generation has shown its appreciation of this good work by sparing no effort to advance the interest of the fraternity and to place Jennings Lodge, No. 9, in the prosperous condition it enjoys today.

Chautauqua Notes. IT IS WHISPERED

Thomas Lewis, the baritone with the Elwyn Trio, on the second day of our Chautauqua, is an example of what grit and work can accomplish. Many a lad in this country could read this with profit. The big question is, "Will they?" Lewis is a Welshman, born in Swansea, South Wales, and was one of a family of twelve children. Of course, this means that he was not petted to any wonderful extent. Twelve kids under one roof are rather a crowd. So when he was twelve he was put to work in the mines of south Wales. He remained at that work for twelve years, but he was ambitious and devoted his spare time to study and improving his voice. "Eisteddfods"—or singing competitions—were held in different parts of the country, and Lewis often walked eight or nine miles to try for a prize of about fifty cents, or two shillings as it would be called in English money. Lewis came to America in 1905 and went to work in the steel mills in Pittsburgh. The panic of 1907 was responsible for his becoming a professional singer. He was thrown out of work, and then, when he entered upon professional work as a singer he discovered what a really remarkable voice he possessed. Since then constant study and cultivation has made him one of the concert stage's favorites. He sings all of the operatic songs and also has a great repertoire of lighter music, including a number of Scotch dialect songs.

That many republican papers paid no attention whatever to the publication of political matter on election day, some of them going so far as to actually solicit votes.

That it begins to look as if this might be a dirty campaign in Polk county, and it will be if certain quarters do not cease the lies that are already being put out, like that of the desecration of McKinley's picture.

That the county fair association seems to have purchased envelopes to send out circulars for a fly-swarming campaign.

That the election returns as flashed on the Finseth building by the Itemizer were greatly appreciated.

That the action of the commercial club coterie in sending their $50-a-month henchman to demand of our city recorder that he refrain from giving certain printing is but on a par with their other dirty work against this paper. What that clique is after is to make Dallas a one-paper town and be free to run it just as they please.

That many think the reason the city council did not order Mill street—one of the most travelled in this city—oiled was because of spite work.

That it is seriously doubted if the city council can directly oppose the expressed vote of the people.

That one more Sunday will knock out the Easter rain hoodoo.

The Fact Remains

No amount of misrepresentation by the peddlers of alum baking powders, no juggling with chemicals, or pretended analysis, or cooked-up certificates, or falsehoods of any kind, can change the fact that

Royal Baking Powder has been found by the official examinations to be of the highest leavening efficiency, free from alum, and of absolute purity and wholesomeness.

Royal Baking Powder is indispensable for making finest and most economical food.

HOBSON-HOWE.

Popular Dallas Girl Weds Portland Man.

A pretty May wedding was solemnized Wednesday at 4 o'clock, when Mr. Frank Hobson and Miss Olive Howe, both of Portland, were married at the old Howe home here on Mill street. Rev. James Moore, of Salem, officiating. Roses and ferns, combined with an abundance of locust blossoms made the rooms effective in the color scheme of white and green.

The bride was charming in a gown of white crepe de chene, with veil caught up with orange blossoms, and carried white roses. The bridal party, to the strains of the wedding march played by Prof. William Caldwell on the old melodion, which was one of the first musical instruments brought to Dallas, entered the room preceded by the three little flower girls, Cleo Guy, Virginia Ellis and Helen Soehren, who looked cunning in white dresses with blue sashes. The bridesmaid, Miss Effie Brown, wore a gown of pink crepe de chene and carried pink roses. Charles Kennedy, of Portland, was best man. Previous to the ceremony Mrs. C. L. Starr sweetly sang "To Have, to Hold, to Love."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Robert Howe and was formerly a Dallas girl, until just lately when she and her mother took up their residence in Portland. The groom is a resident of Portland and a few years ago was mail agent on the run from Portland to Dallas. Mr. and Mrs. Hobson will live in Portland. Following the ceremony a wedding lunch was served. The guests were: Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Guy, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Manston, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Ford, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Metzger, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. His first visit to Spokane being in 1872 when that prosperous city contained but two shacks two families, and a bachelor as residents. He was a former resident of Stevens county and has been visiting sons in that section recently.—Davenport, Wash., Tribune.

Wayne Barham, who went east early in the spring to pitch for the Cincinnati team, is now with the San Francisco club of the coast league.

I wish to thank the republican party for the nomination it has so generously given me. I do not believe in idle promises, but if elected I will adhere to my oath of office so far as it is in me and stand upon it as my platform. I respectfully solicit the support of the voters of Polk county.

Sincerely yours,
JOHN W. ORR.
