

SEMIPLE ENOUGH, The Lymph is Nothing But Glycerine.

DOCTOR KOCH SPEAKS.

Here is Something Doctors Will Understand.

It is a delicate and sure reagent for the discovery of latent and diagnosis of doubtful tubercular processes.

BERLIN, Jan. 15—As announced, the composition of Professor Koch's curative lymph was today made public by authority. The lymph consists of glycerine extract, obtained by pure cultivation of tubercular bacilli. Professor Koch, in a communication to a medical journal making known the composition, says: So far as I have been able to review the many statements published and communications received, my expectations have been fully and completely confirmed.

The general consensus of opinions thus expressed is that the remedy has a specific effect upon tubercular tissues and therefore is applicable as a very delicate and sure reagent for the discovery of latent and diagnosis of doubtful tubercular processes. Most of the reports received have agreed that many of the patients have shown more or less pronounced improvement, in a few cases cure has been effected. Continuing, the Professor says that standing quite alone is the assertion that the remedy may be dangerous in cases which have advanced too far before its application. The Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious. Prof. Koch says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

The Professor says that during the past six weeks of that experience, the Professor says, however, that the allegation is also made that it actually promotes tubercle, the processes being therefore injurious.

and the terrible ordeal through which he is passing being taken into consideration, Mrs. Hearst firmly believes that he will recover, and so expressed herself, saying that the stories that have been circulated giving the Senator's case as hopeless were not founded on facts.

PACIFIC RAILROADS.

Senator McConnell Thinks the Government Should Foreclose and Sell the Property.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 15—Senator McConnell has prepared a bill which proposes a radical change in the management of the Pacific roads. It recites that the Western Pacific, the Union Pacific, the Kansas Pacific, the central branch of the Union Pacific, and the Sioux City & Pacific roads are indebted to the government in the sum of $128,000,000, and that this indebtedness is increasing at the rate of $2,000,000 a year. These corporations are indebted in another sum of $65,000,000, secured by a first mortgage lien, while the United States is secured by a second mortgage; that the holders of the first mortgage will possibly foreclose and cause the franchises to be sold.

The bill directs the attorney general of the United States to begin condemnation proceedings within 60 days from the passage of the bill against all the roads mentioned. The president is directed to detail three army officers of the engineer corps to appraise all the property of the roads and the attorney general is directed to begin proceedings to forfeit the franchises, franchises and all rights and privileges.

The secretary of the treasury is to issue legal tender notes to the amount of $250,000,000 to pay the debts of the roads the first mortgage bonds and the assessed valuation of the stations. The first mortgage includes the rolling stock, etc., but these are not to be applied to the capital stock. On the payment of this, the franchises are to be vested in the United States.

Within 30 days from the investment of title in the government of the United States the secretary of the interior is to advertise for proposals for a lease of these roads to some company for a term of not less than 50 years. No bid shall be entertained which is for less than two per cent. of the $250,000,000 and no bid shall be entertained from any corporation whose officers and managers are officers of any competing lines.

An election is made for the maintenance of the road in good shape and the doing of the usual railroad business. Pooling is prohibited, but traffic arrangements may be made with corporations having competing lines of railway or steamships. No discrimination shall be made and no company shall be given the lease which is engaged in mining coal and iron, or manufacturing salt and lumber.

An important provision is toward the end of the bill, namely, that whenever the receipts are greater than the rental, the secretary of the interior is directed to lower the rate to such an extent that the net receipts shall be honored to the sum of at least one per cent. below the amount paid as rental.

The Democrats of Montana Stand Firm.
HELENA, Jan. 15—The Democrats held a caucus last night to consider the compromise proposition submitted by the Republican house. The meeting resulted in the adoption of resolutions which strongly indicate that no compromise can be effected unless the Republicans recognize the five Democrats from Silver Bow, who were illegally elected by virtue of the precinct 34 fraud at the election one year ago. The Democrats of the caucus ignored the proposition to compromise entirely, but say that their house was legally organized by the governor and the senate, and that they are now engaged in enacting needful legislation. In the resolutions adopted, which will be sent to the Republican house in the morning, the Republican representatives, exclusive of the five Silver Bow men, will be invited to come into the house they organized, and the Democrats will be invited to do the same.

Perhaps She Wants Money.
TWELVE YEARS of disappointment worth $100,000.
CHICAGO, Jan. 15—Robert Davis, formerly premier of Manitoba, was sued for $100,000 damages for breach of promise, by Mrs. Matilda Burns, a former domestic in Davis' Winnipeg household, and now the wife of a hotel keeper near St Paul. Davis is now in the real estate business in Chicago. His attorney denies that he is the father of the plaintiff's child, and declares there is no foundation for the suit.

Hungarians Become Too Happy and Are Locked Up.
ROSLYS, Jan. 15—The Hungarian portion of the city was the scene of a wild orgy Monday, the occasion being a double wedding among the denizens. Beer and liquor flowed freely, and a general fight ensued in which knives were used and several of the crowd badly cut. One of the bridegrooms and several of the alleged merry-makers were locked up overnight in the city jail and will be given a hearing in the police court.

They Need More Protection.
LONDON, Jan. 15—The Great Western Railway has put on two cars of American pattern on its line. The cars are divided in the middle, one being third class, and the other first class. The innovation has attracted much attention, but as yet verdict of the traveling public has not been registered.

Vessels Going and Coming.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15—Arrived—Steamer State of California, from Portland. Sailed—Ship Alaska for Tacoma; City of Puebla, for Victoria.

Is It Necessary?
LONDON, Jan. 15—The Duke of Bedford who has just died was an active member of the cremation society, and his body, according to his expressed wish, will be incinerated at Woking.

Chief Thurston of the Order of Railway Telegraphers of the United States, says all the operators employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company will strike Friday morning. General Manager Harding of the St. Paul road, however, says he does not anticipate a strike.

THE LEGISLATURE.

Snow Predicted for King County.

SOME REPUBLICAN BULLETINS

Where Carroll Has His Headquarters. Meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee.

OLYMPIA, Jan. 15—The following bulletins have been issued from the signal service headquarters of both the senatorial aspirants:

WEATHER BULLETIN.—It is a cold day in King county. Thermometer rapidly falling. This district will be the center of a terrific snow storm about Wednesday of next week.

SENATE BULLETIN.—Erección county is in a dense fog, which will give place to sleet and will vacillate in a blizzard. Storm center will be Olympia, but storm will move rapidly towards Pierce county. Overcasts and rather boisterous will be in demand.

It is almost certain now that neither Calkins nor Squire can be elected on the first ballot and that a deadlock will ensue. This throws the fight into the hands of the Democrats, but as it is not their affair they will keep out of the contest as long as possible, until at least they see that the whole State is being very seriously injured by the delay in legislation.

Both sides are therefore extremely anxious to gain Democratic support and each is making claims of Democratic votes.

I can say this to Calkins and Squire, that neither can under any circumstances, would obtain a very large majority of the Democratic votes.

DEMOCRATS EVENLY DIVIDED.
I have made a somewhat thorough canvass of the Democratic members and find that as between Mr. Squire and Mr. Calkins the Democrats are very evenly divided. So evenly divided are they, in fact, that 11 might be for one and 10 for another, were there no option as between voting for any other than one of these question.

Mr. Calkins makes a very great factor in the proposition, for there are some Democratic members who would not vote for either Squire or Calkins if they had no alternative but to vote for each other.

Calkins will never get a majority of the Democratic members, neither will Squire, but some other Republican might; one who is more able than the one and less bitterly partisan than the other. The latter is very anxious to have the receipts be greater than the rental, the secretary of the interior is directed to lower the rate to such an extent that the net receipts shall be honored to the sum of at least one per cent. below the amount paid as rental.

The Democrats of Montana Stand Firm.
HELENA, Jan. 15—The Democrats held a caucus last night to consider the compromise proposition submitted by the Republican house. The meeting resulted in the adoption of resolutions which strongly indicate that no compromise can be effected unless the Republicans recognize the five Democrats from Silver Bow, who were illegally elected by virtue of the precinct 34 fraud at the election one year ago.

Perhaps She Wants Money.
TWELVE YEARS of disappointment worth $100,000.
CHICAGO, Jan. 15—Robert Davis, formerly premier of Manitoba, was sued for $100,000 damages for breach of promise, by Mrs. Matilda Burns, a former domestic in Davis' Winnipeg household, and now the wife of a hotel keeper near St Paul.

Hungarians Become Too Happy and Are Locked Up.
ROSLYS, Jan. 15—The Hungarian portion of the city was the scene of a wild orgy Monday, the occasion being a double wedding among the denizens.

They Need More Protection.
LONDON, Jan. 15—The Great Western Railway has put on two cars of American pattern on its line.

Vessels Going and Coming.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15—Arrived—Steamer State of California, from Portland.

Is It Necessary?
LONDON, Jan. 15—The Duke of Bedford who has just died was an active member of the cremation society.

Chief Thurston of the Order of Railway Telegraphers of the United States, says all the operators employed by the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway company will strike Friday morning.

Where Carroll Has His Headquarters.
Meeting of the Democratic State Central Committee.

OLYMPIA, Jan. 15—The following bulletins have been issued from the signal service headquarters of both the senatorial aspirants:

WEATHER BULLETIN.—It is a cold day in King county. Thermometer rapidly falling.

SENATE BULLETIN.—Erección county is in a dense fog, which will give place to sleet and will vacillate in a blizzard.

It is almost certain now that neither Calkins nor Squire can be elected on the first ballot and that a deadlock will ensue.

Both sides are therefore extremely anxious to gain Democratic support and each is making claims of Democratic votes.

I can say this to Calkins and Squire, that neither can under any circumstances, would obtain a very large majority of the Democratic votes.

DEMOCRATS EVENLY DIVIDED.
I have made a somewhat thorough canvass of the Democratic members and find that as between Mr. Squire and Mr. Calkins the Democrats are very evenly divided.

Mr. Calkins makes a very great factor in the proposition, for there are some Democratic members who would not vote for either Squire or Calkins if they had no alternative but to vote for each other.

Calkins will never get a majority of the Democratic members, neither will Squire, but some other Republican might; one who is more able than the one and less bitterly partisan than the other.

Calkins is very anxious to have the receipts be greater than the rental, the secretary of the interior is directed to lower the rate to such an extent that the net receipts shall be honored to the sum of at least one per cent. below the amount paid as rental.

THE GHOST DANCERS.

A Woman's Account of the Messiah Craze.

SWINDLED BY THE AGENTS

That is What She Says—Sitting Bull's Trusted Adviser Speaks—Says She Has Been Maligned.

Mrs. Caroline Weldon, counselor, interpreter, and secretary to the hostile braves of the Sioux tribe, who was charged in despatches and letters from the authorities at the Grand River posts with having persuaded Sitting Bull to decline the overtures of peace made by Indian Agent McLaughlin and to continue the ghost dances, is a New York woman. Forty years of her life she says the New York Sun has spent in this vicinity. Her friends declare that she is a much maligned woman, that she was not the consort of the crafty and treacherous chief, Sitting Bull. They say that her actions have been willfully misrepresented and her character entirely misunderstood by the Government agents on the frontier.

The woman is the daughter of Dr. Charles Valentine, for many years a prominent Brooklyn physician and now dead, and the divorced wife of Dr. Claudius R. Schlatter, a successful practitioner in South Brooklyn.

Disappointed in her early married life, and subsequently deceived by a worthless adventurer who buried herself and her sorrows in an enthusiasm for Indian history, she went west to study the Indian history and to bring about a better understanding between them and the whites, and to assist the cause against the Indian agency for use by the National Indian Defense Committee at Washington.

She attached herself to Sitting Bull's camp and won great favor from the chief, who at one time named with the Indians for many months, acquired the language, taught them many things, attended their councils and advised them as to the conduct of their affairs and then returned to the East.

In May of this year she arranged her business affairs in this city, paid final visits to her friends, and started west to live and die among the Sioux. With her she had her son, a child of 10 years, and a little money left her by her parents she had sent to Sitting Bull, with the purpose to have built for her a hut where she expected to pass the remainder of her days. Her confidence in the purity and simplicity of the Indian character was great, and no life offered attractions to the tired, disappointed mother equal to those associated with the Indians of Sitting Bull's camp.

By Collier, for a superior judge for Thurston and Mason counties. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Hutchison: For the weekly payment of wages by employers. Referred to the committee on labor.

By Calkins: To cover defective titles to real estate by the payment of unpaid taxes. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Trotter: For a court for Clallam and Caska counties. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Painter: Relating to the giving of bonds required by law. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Walker: Providing that counties of 25,000 inhabitants may have five county commissioners. Referred to the county committee.

By Johnson: For the arrest of drunken and disorderly persons in public places. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Hunsaker: For the protection of brood and mount animals. Referred to the committee on labor.

By Garrettson: Fixing the salary of the clerk of the Superior court at $3000 per annum. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Snively: For the appointment of court commissioners. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Meany: Providing for an appropriation for the world's fair.

THE PERILS OF THE SEA.

The Malaysia and the Glenhart Probably Wrecked.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15—The fear is becoming general that the ship Malaysia has been wrecked. She sailed from this port on August 6th last, bound for the United Kingdom with a cargo of wheat valued at $800,000. The cargo was insured by the local agents of British Companies. The voyage to England under average circumstances should be made in 130 days. The Malaysia is out 161 days and no news has been received of her since she sailed. The Tacoma natives ask for news of her, and her refusal to be posted as missing at Lloyd's shortly.

The long voyage of the ship "Glenhart" is also occasioning some uneasiness. She left Glasgow on August 24 for this port. Her cargo consisted of Scotch splint coal. She was spoken last on September 29th, off the river Platte, a locality noted for furious winds. She could have arrived here in 145 days, and is already 165 days under way. It is believed that she has been burned, as Scotch splint coal is very combustible.

Giving Away Thrombs.
VIENNA, Jan. 15—Waldpfeifer, arrested on a charge of deceiving Count Sickingen with promises of Bulgarian thrones, has acknowledged that he made false representations to the Count, claiming to act in behalf of Russia and the Pro-Russian party in Bulgaria.

A Statue of Wesley.
LONDON, Jan. 15—At the Centenary of Wesley was erected in front of the City Road chapel, made famous by the great preacher.

GENERAL TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.
The death of Aime Milha, the French sculptor, is announced.
At Brockville, Ont., a sharp shock of earthquake was felt yesterday.
Ritchie Bros., Philadelphia brokers, suspended yesterday afternoon.
French Consul M. Delagrave has just returned from Rio Janeiro to San Francisco.

THE GHOST DANCERS.

A Woman's Account of the Messiah Craze.

SWINDLED BY THE AGENTS

That is What She Says—Sitting Bull's Trusted Adviser Speaks—Says She Has Been Maligned.

Mrs. Caroline Weldon, counselor, interpreter, and secretary to the hostile braves of the Sioux tribe, who was charged in despatches and letters from the authorities at the Grand River posts with having persuaded Sitting Bull to decline the overtures of peace made by Indian Agent McLaughlin and to continue the ghost dances, is a New York woman. Forty years of her life she says the New York Sun has spent in this vicinity.

Her friends declare that she is a much maligned woman, that she was not the consort of the crafty and treacherous chief, Sitting Bull. They say that her actions have been willfully misrepresented and her character entirely misunderstood by the Government agents on the frontier.

The woman is the daughter of Dr. Charles Valentine, for many years a prominent Brooklyn physician and now dead, and the divorced wife of Dr. Claudius R. Schlatter, a successful practitioner in South Brooklyn.

Disappointed in her early married life, and subsequently deceived by a worthless adventurer who buried herself and her sorrows in an enthusiasm for Indian history, she went west to study the Indian history and to bring about a better understanding between them and the whites, and to assist the cause against the Indian agency for use by the National Indian Defense Committee at Washington.

She attached herself to Sitting Bull's camp and won great favor from the chief, who at one time named with the Indians for many months, acquired the language, taught them many things, attended their councils and advised them as to the conduct of their affairs and then returned to the East.

In May of this year she arranged her business affairs in this city, paid final visits to her friends, and started west to live and die among the Sioux. With her she had her son, a child of 10 years, and a little money left her by her parents she had sent to Sitting Bull, with the purpose to have built for her a hut where she expected to pass the remainder of her days.

Her confidence in the purity and simplicity of the Indian character was great, and no life offered attractions to the tired, disappointed mother equal to those associated with the Indians of Sitting Bull's camp.

By Collier, for a superior judge for Thurston and Mason counties. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Hutchison: For the weekly payment of wages by employers. Referred to the committee on labor.

By Calkins: To cover defective titles to real estate by the payment of unpaid taxes. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Trotter: For a court for Clallam and Caska counties. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Painter: Relating to the giving of bonds required by law. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Walker: Providing that counties of 25,000 inhabitants may have five county commissioners. Referred to the county committee.

By Johnson: For the arrest of drunken and disorderly persons in public places. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Hunsaker: For the protection of brood and mount animals. Referred to the committee on labor.

By Garrettson: Fixing the salary of the clerk of the Superior court at $3000 per annum. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Snively: For the appointment of court commissioners. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Meany: Providing for an appropriation for the world's fair.

THE PERILS OF THE SEA.

The Malaysia and the Glenhart Probably Wrecked.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15—The fear is becoming general that the ship Malaysia has been wrecked.

The long voyage of the ship "Glenhart" is also occasioning some uneasiness. She left Glasgow on August 24 for this port. Her cargo consisted of Scotch splint coal. She was spoken last on September 29th, off the river Platte, a locality noted for furious winds.

Giving Away Thrombs.
VIENNA, Jan. 15—Waldpfeifer, arrested on a charge of deceiving Count Sickingen with promises of Bulgarian thrones, has acknowledged that he made false representations to the Count, claiming to act in behalf of Russia and the Pro-Russian party in Bulgaria.

THE GHOST DANCERS.

A Woman's Account of the Messiah Craze.

SWINDLED BY THE AGENTS

That is What She Says—Sitting Bull's Trusted Adviser Speaks—Says She Has Been Maligned.

Mrs. Caroline Weldon, counselor, interpreter, and secretary to the hostile braves of the Sioux tribe, who was charged in despatches and letters from the authorities at the Grand River posts with having persuaded Sitting Bull to decline the overtures of peace made by Indian Agent McLaughlin and to continue the ghost dances, is a New York woman. Forty years of her life she says the New York Sun has spent in this vicinity.

Her friends declare that she is a much maligned woman, that she was not the consort of the crafty and treacherous chief, Sitting Bull. They say that her actions have been willfully misrepresented and her character entirely misunderstood by the Government agents on the frontier.

The woman is the daughter of Dr. Charles Valentine, for many years a prominent Brooklyn physician and now dead, and the divorced wife of Dr. Claudius R. Schlatter, a successful practitioner in South Brooklyn.

Disappointed in her early married life, and subsequently deceived by a worthless adventurer who buried herself and her sorrows in an enthusiasm for Indian history, she went west to study the Indian history and to bring about a better understanding between them and the whites, and to assist the cause against the Indian agency for use by the National Indian Defense Committee at Washington.

She attached herself to Sitting Bull's camp and won great favor from the chief, who at one time named with the Indians for many months, acquired the language, taught them many things, attended their councils and advised them as to the conduct of their affairs and then returned to the East.

In May of this year she arranged her business affairs in this city, paid final visits to her friends, and started west to live and die among the Sioux. With her she had her son, a child of 10 years, and a little money left her by her parents she had sent to Sitting Bull, with the purpose to have built for her a hut where she expected to pass the remainder of her days.

Her confidence in the purity and simplicity of the Indian character was great, and no life offered attractions to the tired, disappointed mother equal to those associated with the Indians of Sitting Bull's camp.

By Collier, for a superior judge for Thurston and Mason counties. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Hutchison: For the weekly payment of wages by employers. Referred to the committee on labor.

By Calkins: To cover defective titles to real estate by the payment of unpaid taxes. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Trotter: For a court for Clallam and Caska counties. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Painter: Relating to the giving of bonds required by law. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Walker: Providing that counties of 25,000 inhabitants may have five county commissioners. Referred to the county committee.

By Johnson: For the arrest of drunken and disorderly persons in public places. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Hunsaker: For the protection of brood and mount animals. Referred to the committee on labor.

By Garrettson: Fixing the salary of the clerk of the Superior court at $3000 per annum. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Snively: For the appointment of court commissioners. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Meany: Providing for an appropriation for the world's fair.

THE PERILS OF THE SEA.

The Malaysia and the Glenhart Probably Wrecked.
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15—The fear is becoming general that the ship Malaysia has been wrecked.

The long voyage of the ship "Glenhart" is also occasioning some uneasiness. She left Glasgow on August 24 for this port. Her cargo consisted of Scotch splint coal. She was spoken last on September 29th, off the river Platte, a locality noted for furious winds.

Giving Away Thrombs.
VIENNA, Jan. 15—Waldpfeifer, arrested on a charge of deceiving Count Sickingen with promises of Bulgarian thrones, has acknowledged that he made false representations to the Count, claiming to act in behalf of Russia and the Pro-Russian party in Bulgaria.

THE GHOST DANCERS.

A Woman's Account of the Messiah Craze.

SWINDLED BY THE AGENTS

That is What She Says—Sitting Bull's Trusted Adviser Speaks—Says She Has Been Maligned.

Mrs. Caroline Weldon, counselor, interpreter, and secretary to the hostile braves of the Sioux tribe, who was charged in despatches and letters from the authorities at the Grand River posts with having persuaded Sitting Bull to decline the overtures of peace made by Indian Agent McLaughlin and to continue the ghost dances, is a New York woman. Forty years of her life she says the New York Sun has spent in this vicinity.

Her friends declare that she is a much maligned woman, that she was not the consort of the crafty and treacherous chief, Sitting Bull. They say that her actions have been willfully misrepresented and her character entirely misunderstood by the Government agents on the frontier.

The woman is the daughter of Dr. Charles Valentine, for many years a prominent Brooklyn physician and now dead, and the divorced wife of Dr. Claudius R. Schlatter, a successful practitioner in South Brooklyn.

Disappointed in her early married life, and subsequently deceived by a worthless adventurer who buried herself and her sorrows in an enthusiasm for Indian history, she went west to study the Indian history and to bring about a better understanding between them and the whites, and to assist the cause against the Indian agency for use by the National Indian Defense Committee at Washington.

She attached herself to Sitting Bull's camp and won great favor from the chief, who at one time named with the Indians for many months, acquired the language, taught them many things, attended their councils and advised them as to the conduct of their affairs and then returned to the East.

In May of this year she arranged her business affairs in this city, paid final visits to her friends, and started west to live and die among the Sioux. With her she had her son, a child of 10 years, and a little money left her by her parents she had sent to Sitting Bull, with the purpose to have built for her a hut where she expected to pass the remainder of her days.

Her confidence in the purity and simplicity of the Indian character was great, and no life offered attractions to the tired, disappointed mother equal to those associated with the Indians of Sitting Bull's camp.

By Collier, for a superior judge for Thurston and Mason counties. Referred to the judiciary committee.

By Hutchison: For the weekly payment of wages by employers. Referred to the committee on labor.

By Calkins: To cover defective titles to real estate by the payment of unpaid taxes. Referred to the judiciary committee.