

NEWS FROM EUROPE.

Removal of the Pope's Secretary Desired.

POLICE SPY SYSTEM DOOMED.

Russia Still Persecuting the Jews—Many Flocking to Palestine—A Royal Amateur Actor.

LONDON, March 7.—A dispatch from Rome says the German representative at the Vatican is bringing to bear all the influence he can in favor of the removal of the Cardinal Rampolla from the office of pontifical secretary of state.

Rampolla is strongly opposed to the triple alliance chiefly because Italy belongs to it, and he sees no occasion to make the papacy felt in European politics.

Advices have been received that consuls in foreign countries are forbidden to affix in future their names to passports of Jewish travelers of any country.

The movement for colonizing Jews in Palestine is meeting with considerable approval in London.

There is a fair prospect that a large portion of Palestine will be occupied by Jewish immigrants in the next few years.

The French chambers instead of the proposed poll tax on resident foreigners, will probably pass a bill requiring such foreigners to take out a license every year.

The Grand Duchess Alexandrine, of Mecklenburg, who was recently reported dead, is very much improved in health.

Prince Henry, brother of the kaiser, is proving himself an expert in amateur theatricals and would probably be glad to make his living in this way in the event of his being thrown on the world.

The strikers at Aberdeen have published a statement saying they do not object to working with non-union men, but they object to being obliged to sign the ticket or pledge required by the shipping federation.

There are signs of disturbance at Liverpool and the police are kept in readiness for any outbreak or disorder.

A MINISTER IN DISGRACE. Resigned His Charge and Fled to Australia—An Angry Exile.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., March 7.—The Rev. A. C. Galbraith, the M. E. minister here for the past two years, is responsible for the delicate condition of the only daughter of Frederick M. Brown, a wealthy farmer, and has aroused intense feeling and indignation in the community.

Gordon Is an Alliance Man. ATLANTA, Ga., March 7.—The announcement just made that General Gordon has become a full-fledged alliance man by initiation in the Edgewood sub-alliance yesterday has created no little talk.

Sweeds' Danger. STOCKHOLM, Feb. 12.—It is a matter of fact that the political air of Scandinavia has been very clear during the last two decades, or since the last German-Danish war, when Sweden, ruled by Charles XV., was not very far from becoming an ally of her attacked sister kingdom.

remote, she may need all the strength which she has been able to gather since her last war in 1815.

There is only one cause for anxiety, and that comes from the appearance of a cloud in the eastern political firmament.

The tyrannical acts of the Russian despot in his endeavor to Russinize poor Finland are something that may set every true Swede thinking.

The peace of Fredrikstaun in 1809 gave to Russia Finland, which had been connected with Sweden for 600 years.

But what does the present czar care for the most loyal of his subjects? To Russinize them, and to make Finland a part of his great empire is his aim.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

ment. With motives of good for all concerned he therefore went to the residence of Mrs. McMillan and stated the change of ownership.

Nothing could be done for her then, as no warrant had issued, so she then laid her case before the court as stated and a warrant charging McMillan with insanity was issued.

The last arrangement in the big flour-mill deal was consummated yesterday.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

Mr. Brown contracts to erect the mill with his own money. It will cost $200,000, and instead of having $50,000 subscribed by local parties, he assumes the entire amount.

THREE DAYS A BRIDE.

An Elopement Ends in Suicide.

AN UNFORGIVING FATHER

And a Mercenary Husband Cuts the Hon. Symoon Short—Damage Suit for Financial Ruin.

FINDLAY, Ohio, March 7.—When Charles McClinton eloped with Miss M'nie Monette, the only daughter of a wealthy Crawford county farmer, and took her to Kentucky, where they were married, the public was quick to say that McClinton only sought the girl because of the wealth of her father.

The apparent indifference of the young husband to his wife's death caused much comment. This was intensified yesterday when young McClinton sued the father of his bride to recover damages in the sum of $50,000, alleging as the cause for action that the father exercised undue influence over his daughter, resulting in her suicide, and that by her death McClinton's affections had been damaged and his financial prospects ruined.

TACOMA LEFT OUT. The President G. V. of the State of Washington the G. V. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—President Harrison intends to start about the 15th of the present month to make a swing round the circle, which will go as far south as New Orleans, as far west as San Francisco, and as far north as Salt Lake, Portland and Chicago.

George D. Snow, superintendent of the Erie R. R., recently successfully resisted the attempt of four highwaymen to hold him up last evening, but had the aim of one of the four murderous robbers been good his wife would probably have been the price paid for his freedom.

He desires to pay a special compliment, and he hopes after this excursion the force bill will be forgotten and forgiven. President Harrison wants it distinctly understood that on this trip he is not to be the guest of Senator Stanford or any one else. It is his own affair, the expenses of which he is going to pay out of his own pocket.

RIOT IN NEW YORK. Conflict Between Seab Workmen and Union Clock Makers. NEW YORK, March 5.—A riot occurred this morning on Broadway near Grand street between seab workmen of Black and Blue, and members of the Clock Makers' Union.

HEARST'S FUNERAL TRAIN. It Will Leave Washington This Evening for San Francisco. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 7.—All the details of the transfer of the remains of the late Senator Hearst from this city to California have been completed by Sergeant-at-Arms Valentine of the United States Senate, who was delegated to direct the arrangements.

IT IS A PAYING ROAD. And the President of the Big Four Wants to Buy It. SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, March 5.—President Ingalls, of the Big Four, is in the Ohio Southern, a coal road running from here to Willetton, Jackson county. The road is a gold mine and is increasing its business, as Jackson coal is gaining steadily in favor.

LOWER FREIGHT RATES Will Enable Several Steel Works to Resume Operations. PITTSBURGH, Pa., March 5.—It is stated that the reduction in freight rates on iron and steel decided upon yesterday by the Central Traffic association, will save the Pittsburgh manufacturers $500,000 in the item of freights.

Depositors Tired of Waiting. NEW YORK, March 5.—Some of the depositors of the American Loan and Deposit Company are becoming nervous over the long delay of the new organization and they are beginning to ask questions about their money.

Electron Day in Canada. OTTAWA, Ont., March 5.—The electoral day is at hand, and from one end of Canada to the other an actual battle is in progress.

Damaged by Floods. SAN DIEGO, March 5.—The steamer Maudel Dublan has arrived from Ensenada, Lower California, and passengers report that a great deal of damage was done there by the late storms.

Freeport, Pa., March 5.—Expert burglars robbed the Freeport Bank last night and got over $15,000. They drilled and forced the combination lock off the middle door, getting into the large steel safe.

Arguments Against Shorter Hours. LOSANOS, March 5.—English textile manufacturers attribute the extraordinary depression of the cotton trade in England largely to the rivalry of the mills in British India.

Pattern House-keeper—"I tell you, the best home-keeper I ever knew was my mother-in-law." "Is she not living?" "Alas, no. She was eaten by cannibals in Africa." "Impossible!" "Just as I said. The cannibals had put her in the kitchen and she was just beginning to boil when she called out with a weak voice, 'Be sure and I don't forget the salt, pepper and onions.'"—Fliegende Blätter.

been opened today. Banker Ludwick thinks that the safe's contents are all right. If this be true $100,000 or $150,000 of the bank's money is safe.

Banker Ludwick had over $40,000 in negotiable bonds taken; his son Charles lost $10,000.

There was over $150,000 in money, bonds and other articles stolen. The burglars gained entrance from a back window.

The President and Members of Congress Attend at His Residence. WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The funeral services over the remains of Ex-Senator Hearst were held at his residence in this city at 12 o'clock today.

Among other Congressmen and prominent officials present were Vice-President Morton, Senators Gorman, Payne, Morrill, Frye, Stewart, Jones, of Nevada, Bate, McPherson, Regan, Cockrell, Culbertson, Evans, of California, Representatives Springer, McKenna, Morrow, Vandever, Major General Schofield and General Beale.

The remains will be taken to California Saturday night at 8 o'clock by a special train accompanied by Mr. Hearst and his son. The Senate and House committees, Dr. Charles Ward and Private Secretary Wedderburn.

THE TOBACCO TRUST. Said to Have Absorbed the Gigantic Works at Louisville. LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 5.—There are rumors that the gigantic tobacco works here have sold out to the American Tobacco Company.

They think they see another sign of sudden departure for New York of President McKinley's cabinet.

In fact the knowings ones openly proclaim their belief that a great deal is on foot which the tobacco manufacturers will form a gigantic trust or combine.

MRS. THOMPSON'S WILL. Her Husband Was Once Secretary of the Treasury. MEMPHIS, Tenn., March 5.—The will of Mrs. Catherine A. Thompson, relict of the late Jacob Thompson, secretary of the United States treasury under President Buchanan, was admitted to probate today.

Under the terms of the will the bulk of the estate goes to Mrs. Van Kirkman absolutely. To Mrs. ...

WINKLES FROM THE WITS. "Who is this Indian Pow-wow they Jimpon. 'Was he hold to hold?'—Texas have been holding out West?" said Old Siftings.

An agricultural editor says that the best article he ever saw on the subject of Texas is a very widely copied—Lowell Courier.

Railroad Rumble—"Ma," said Tommy, "do the Injuns own the railroads?" "No, my son." "Well, they got 'em from the Injuns, didn't they?" "No, they bought 'em from the Injuns."—Texas Siftings.

A New Play—Modern Dramatist—"I've got another order for a new play." "What?" "Did the manager furnish you with a plot?" "Yes—er—that is he showed me a plot and the scenery he had."—New York Weekly.

The New Orleans Picayune says of Mr. Cleveland: "We admire him for his courage and honesty in these matters, but we cannot agree with his views." That is, because they are not platy views, but they are the views of a man.

Pattern House-keeper—"I tell you, the best home-keeper I ever knew was my mother-in-law." "Is she not living?" "Alas, no. She was eaten by cannibals in Africa." "Impossible!" "Just as I said. The cannibals had put her in the kitchen and she was just beginning to boil when she called out with a weak voice, 'Be sure and I don't forget the salt, pepper and onions.'"—Fliegende Blätter.